TERRY, STATON

TERRY STATON

TERRY, STATON

I DON'T REALLY KNOW HOW I MET, BUT I DO HAVE TO SAY THAT I DID. I MEAN YOU ARE REALLY THE GREATEST, CLUMSIEST, BLACK "FINE ONE" I'VE EVER MET. LET ME JUST "AXED" YOU WHY YOU'RE SO NICE TO EVERYONE. WHO CARES THOUGH, JUST THANKS FOR BEING MORE THAN NICE TO ME. I'M NOT EVER GONNA BE "SCARED-OF-YOU" NO MATTER HOW HARD TO TRY TO HARASS ME INTO IT. I PROMISE THAT AS LONG AS YOU HAVE YOUR JOB AT SWENSON'S I'LL COME SEE YOU. I HONESTLY WISH YOU THE ABSOLUTE BEST OF LUCK IN WHATEVER YOU FINALLY DECIDE TO DO. THANKS FOR SHARING A PART OF YOURSELF WITH ME IN OUR FRIENDSHIP. I'LL NEVER BE ABLE TO FORGET IT. I PROMISE!

ME LOVE ALWAYS,
CAROL

Stay Safe!

Terry,
I won't be seeing you anymore and boy am I glad. But I will miss you and your crazy ass, loud ass, stupid ass and everything else. It's really been a lot of fun sharing this year with someone like you. Like I said before next year will be so much without you. You be cool in the future, and there's one thing I would like to ask of you, Calm Down Some! Okay! If you do that things will be Perfect. Good Luck in everything you do and Please be very chilly. I'll remember you always. Keep in touch over the summer, and you know I'll be jammin'

Love,
Sharon Calvert
Sturdivant

PS Thanks for being so SWEET!

Terry, (I know that's right!)
You and your cracks made me cry in 5th period Don't be so crazy!
Keith

Terry,
I am sorry we didn't have any classes together this semester. Remember the fun times we had in Mrs. Blahove's room? I wish we could have taken her again. Good luck to you in the future. Save some of the ladies for the other guys. See ya around. Keep in touch

"cookie"

I'm glad we became close friends this year, because I think you are a very lovable dude. Even though you were a Woodlawn. Even though you were not the Big "D" next year you will be at the Big "D" next year someday. You will be a big star this summer don't forget me. Oh yeah, don't forget Woodlawn either... Sorry I will always remember the trips we had on Mrs. Blahove's class. I hope you will too. Have a nice summer & stay out-of-trouble.

"Kittan"

Terry,
I'm glad we got to be good friends this year because you are such a sweet guy. You've really been a friend to me this year by helping me with my weird problems. Thanks so much for the Valentine you sent me in home-room. I liked it so much. I never did get to ask you if you had a good time at the prom but I'm sure you did because Barbara is just as sweet as you. Be cool and stay out of trouble this summer. Scarfs 'a you!!

Love ya
Laura

Dear Terry, what a long year but it is almost over. I wish that you would be at Grissom next year. But good luck in college. Have a great summer. You're nice and crazy guy stay that way.

Love always
Joann
(Sam 'Color)

Dear Daddy-
You are the best!
Love ya
Terry

TERRY,
SINCE YOU DID NOT LEAVE ME MUCH ROOM, I'LL JUST SAY YOU'RE A MIGHTY "FINE" FELLOW. BEST OF LUCK ALWAYS!
(YOUR DAUGHTER) Bill Luter

Terry,
What's happ'n? Dude your a trip. Be sure to call me this summer. I'll never forget your 6th period visits! I'll miss ya! Well... I'd better go — and hope to see you this summer.

Love ya!
Linda

Terry,
Hi! (Smile) I loved your last will & testament. I hope you enjoy GTI (ha!)
Hey Dad, I got it soon as I could!
Come back next year and visit we can't do without you.

A Monument To Time

1929 was the year of so many happenings — the beginning of the Great Depression, the St. Valentine's Day massacre, and the birth of Greensboro High School on Westover Terrace. It is in this year, 1979, that we celebrate the Golden Anniversary of Greensboro Grimsley High School, a monument to time that has withstood international disasters, national conflicts, and local disputes.

Half a century has passed. The physical characteristics, rivals, and rules have been a large part of the many changes that have taken place throughout the fifty years of Grimsley's history. With the addition of four structures since the original erection, the building total has reached ten. Pavement of the bus parking lot and added driveways accent the physical changes of the campus as well. The rival feelings of the students do not vary from past years, though the direction of these feelings has changed. High Point Central was as big a rival for the Greensboro High Whirlwinds as Page is for present day Whirlies. The traditional purple and white colors of yesterday's Whirlwinds decorated the stadium and gym, proving that the spirit of the Whirlie has remained constant throughout these fifty years. The regulations that govern our lives at Greensboro Grimsley have changed from "no roller-skating" to "no skateboarding" down the halls and from "no knocking down coke bottles with bowling balls" to "no throwing frisbees on the front lawn."

Through all the changes of time, Greensboro Grimsley has strived to maintain its reputation as a symbol of excellence. Glancing back through years, we remember the way we were, what we stood for, and the happenings that helped make us what we are. And though we think upon past years, our dreams for the future are reflections of our thoughts for today.

Thumbing through — 1978 Whirligig puts smile on Mr. Glenn's face.

School Leaders — A. P. Routh, Phillip Weaver, and Mr. Robert L. Glenn demonstrate authority with smiles.

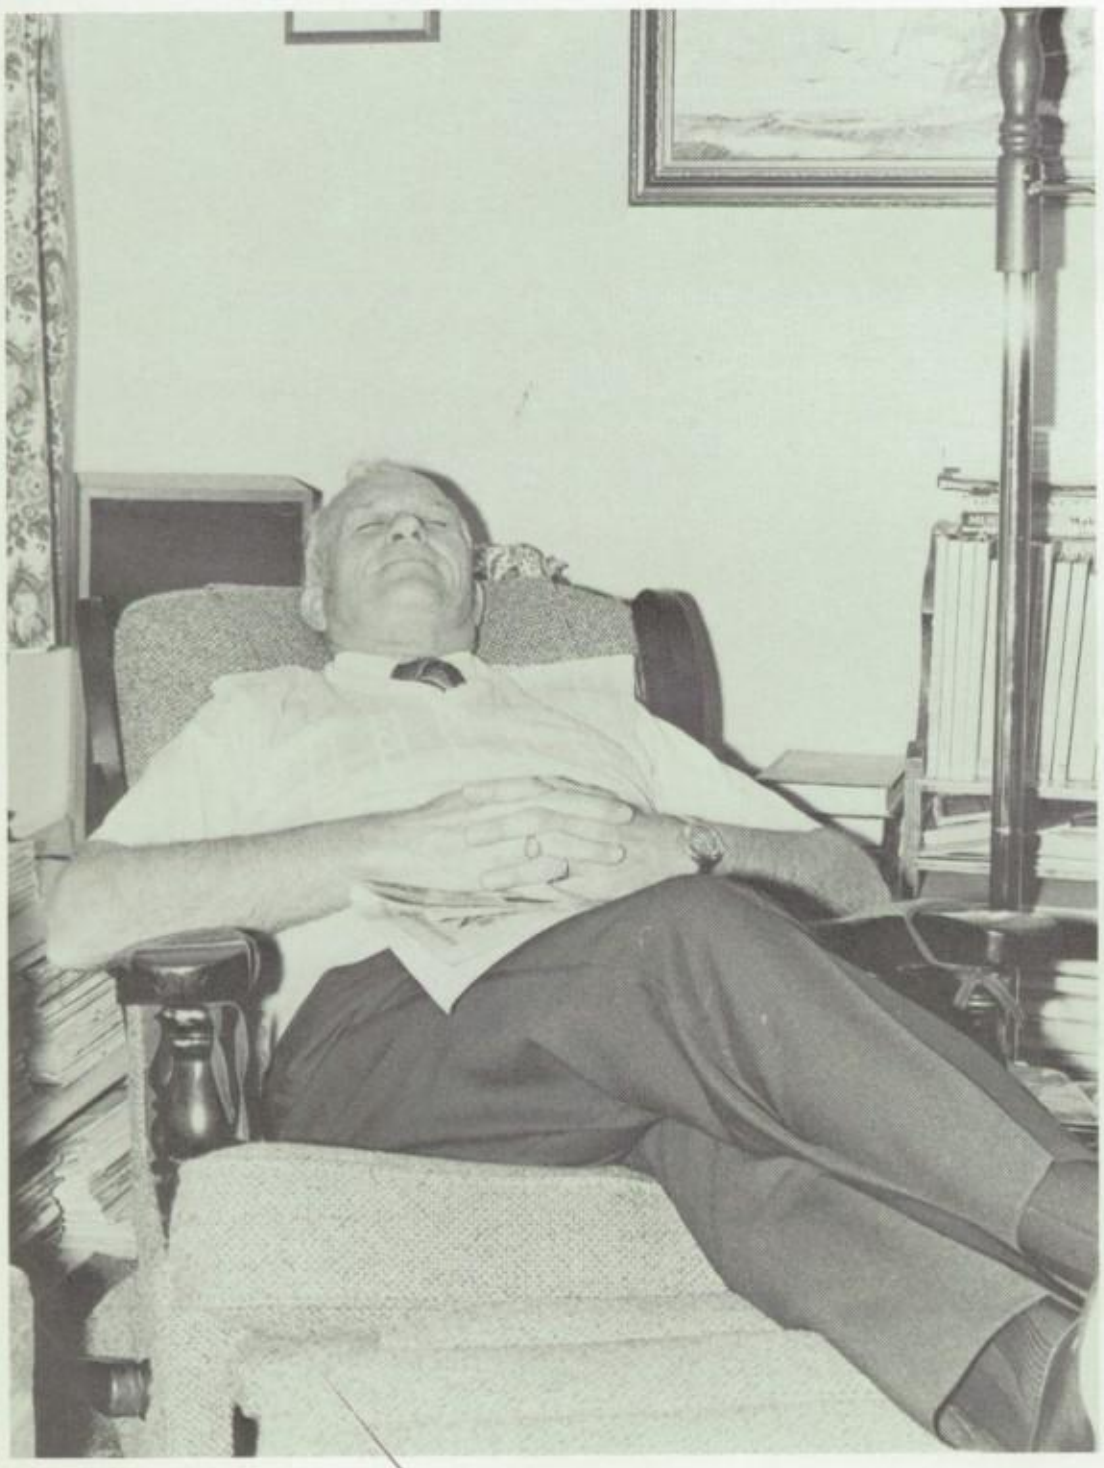
1979 WHIRLIGIG Honors Principal Robert L. Glenn

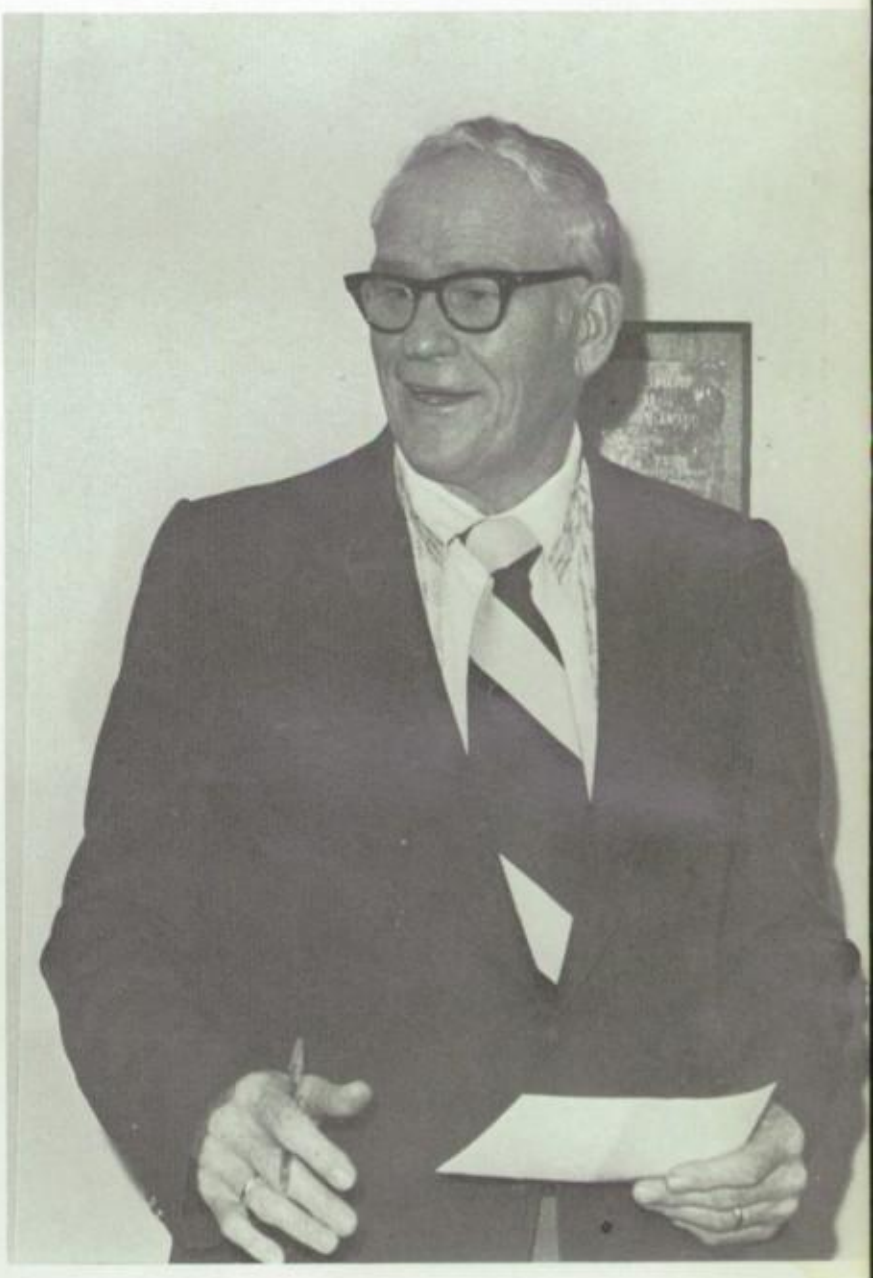
It is only fitting for the beginning of this publication to honor a man who has strived to keep Grimsley in its initial state — a state of superiority and excellence over other schools. As we celebrate the 50th year of Greensboro Grimsley High School, it is necessary to reminisce to earlier days, when men such as Mr. Charles W. Phillips, Dr. E. T. McSwain, and Mr. A.P. Routh, headed the faculty and student body.

The first principal, Mr. Charles W. Phillips, led Greensboro High School from 1929-1933. At the finish of his term, he joined the faculty of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Until 1976, Mr. Phillips was a representative of the Guilford County district in the North Carolina General Assembly. Mr. Phillips was succeeded by Dr. E. T. McSwain, who held the position of principal from 1933-1934. The third leader of Greensboro Grimsley was Mr. A. P. Routh. The school was under his guidance from 1934-1969. Mr. Routh takes an avid interest in Grimsley today, supporting band concerts, and football and basketball games.

Today, Grimsley boasts of yet another great man, Mr. Robert Lody Glenn. Principal Glenn graduated from Greensboro High in 1940. After attending college at Elon and Guilford, and teaching at Lindley Junior High School, he returned to Grimsley in the early 1950's. With his degree in history and his football background, Mr. Glenn became a member of the faculty of Grimsley. For six years, he was Assistant Football Coach, Head Track Coach, and Head Wrestling Coach. His 1955 wrestling team acquired the state championship. In 1956, Mr. Glenn became Assistant Principal, a position that he held under Mr. Routh until 1969. In that year, Mr. Glenn achieved the rank of principal.

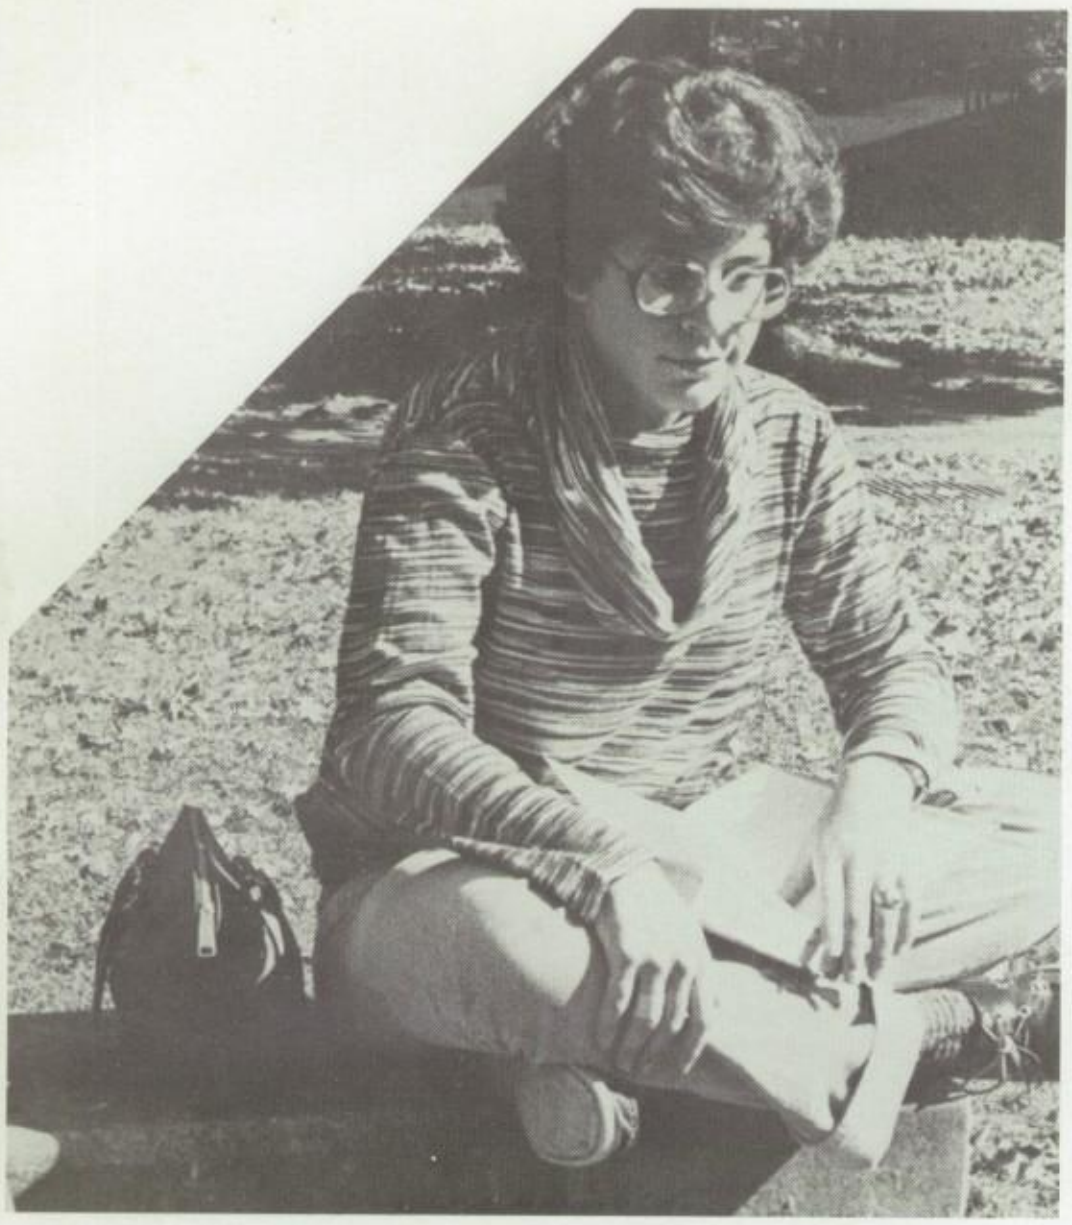
The 1979 WHIRLIGIG is proud to honor these individuals, past and present, and offer this dedication as a message of thanks from the entire student body of Grimsley Senior High School to Mr. Charles Phillips, Mr. E. T. McSwain, Mr. A. P. Routh, and especially to our present leader, Mr. Robert Lody Glenn.





Snoring away — Mr. Glenn rests after a long day at Grimsley.

Sounds Like a Good Excuse — Mr. Glenn tries to believe student's story.



The change of fads and styles over the last fifty years has greatly affected Grimsley. Roller skating to classes, the major pastime of students in 1929, was outlawed because of safety factors. It was overcome by bicycling, and then skate boarding in 1979.

Student life has always been an important part of Grimsley. Whether it was roller skating in the halls or playing football on the front lawn, most students did not come to school to just learn, but to also have fun.

Service clubs are a major part of Grimsley's extracurricular activities. These clubs, the oldest being the Civitans, work to help the city in a diversity of ways. Students find social benefits from membership.

A youth center was opened in 1924 to provide students with a "place-to-go". Disco's, athletic activities, and parties took over as the years progressed.

Student government has greatly advanced over the years. Class presidents, vice-presidents, and treasurers were the main governing body of the school at the beginning of Grimsley's history. An Executive Council was formed later in hopes of giving more students a voice in the school government.

Whether it is clubs, athletics, student government, or social activities, there is always some form of Student Life in which one can find pleasure during his high school years.

PASTIMES

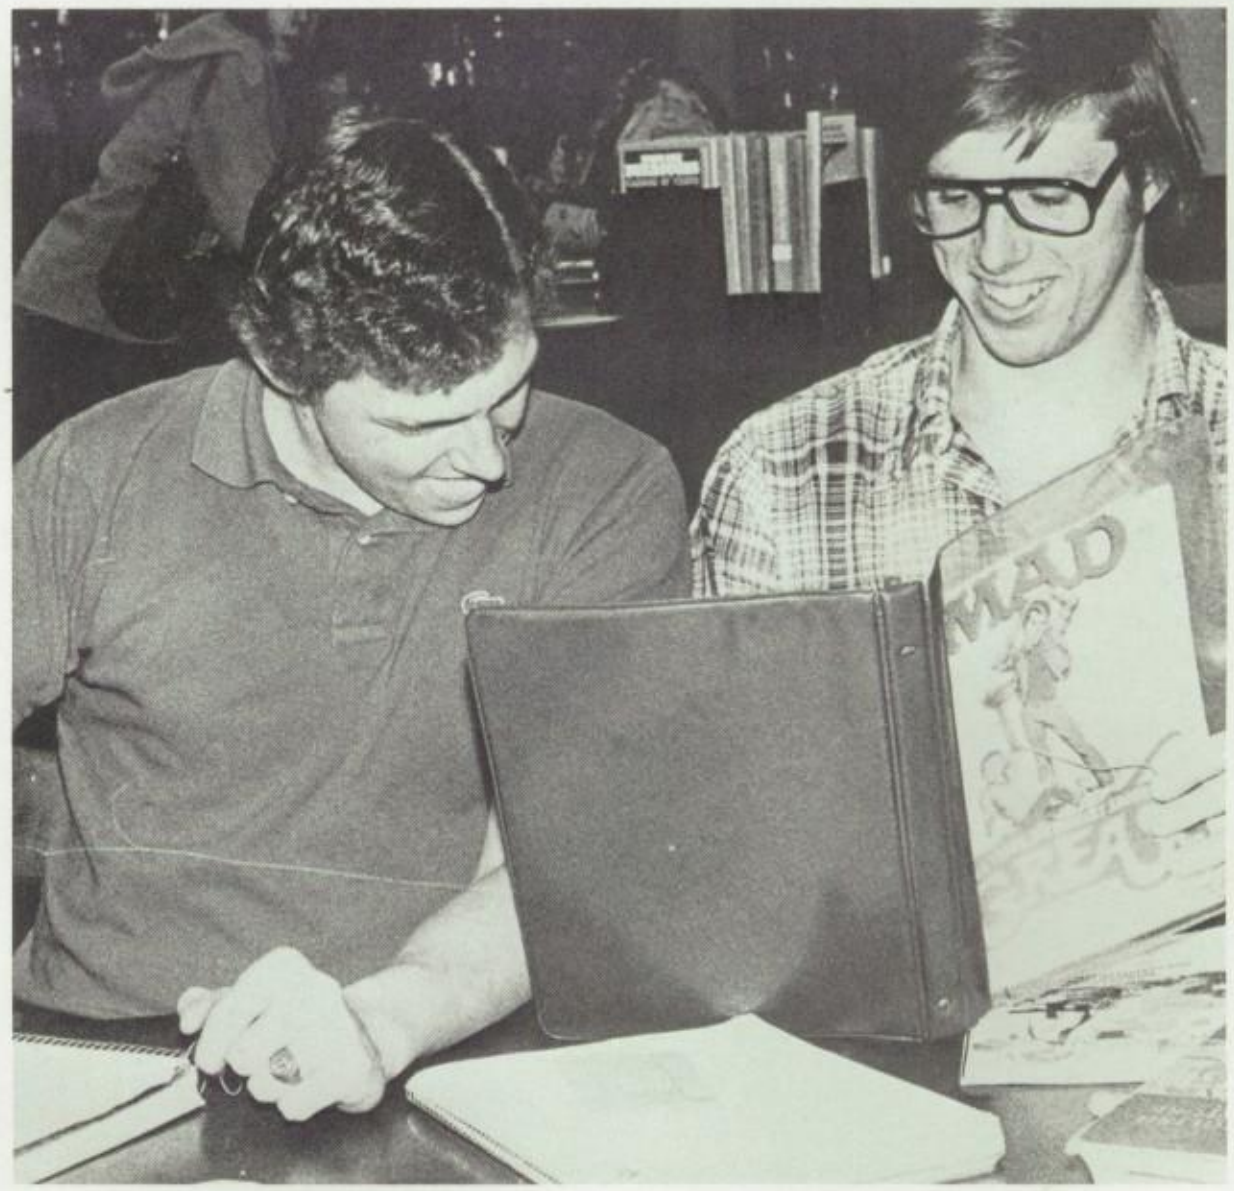
While trudging through a horrendous test in the middle of the day, a student begins to feel that there is no escape from school. It seems to always be there — unescapable. However, parties, movies, dating, sports, and family life find their way through on the weekends and in the afternoons to overtake the concerns of school.

Nowadays, discos are attracting more and more people. Kids are always eager to try a new dance. The expression "What can we do tonight," will always be in existence, but if all options are fully exposed, one will find there is a lot to do once he puts his mind to it.

Funkadelic! Parliament brings funkadelic rock to Greensboro.

Don't Spill It! Chris Payne prepares for movie at local theatre.

It's a Mad World — Bill Linton and Stuart Cameron find the library has something for everyone.



Picture perfect — Brian Smith utilizes Education Center television camera.

Bend further! Sharon Sturdivant practices Modern Dance.

Favorite pastime — Kim Gosney enjoys her hobby as Beth Imbus looks on.

The Twerp dance this year was a night for all to remember. With the gym decorated in red and white for Valentine's and the tickets shaped as hearts who could forget it?

This was the one time of the year when a girl could ask her special someone to dance. That brought about many mixed feelings, but the most obvious of all was apprehension. What if he said "no" ran through many girls minds just as they began to ask their special guy.

Along with asking the guy out came paying all the expenses. This included dinner and the dance.

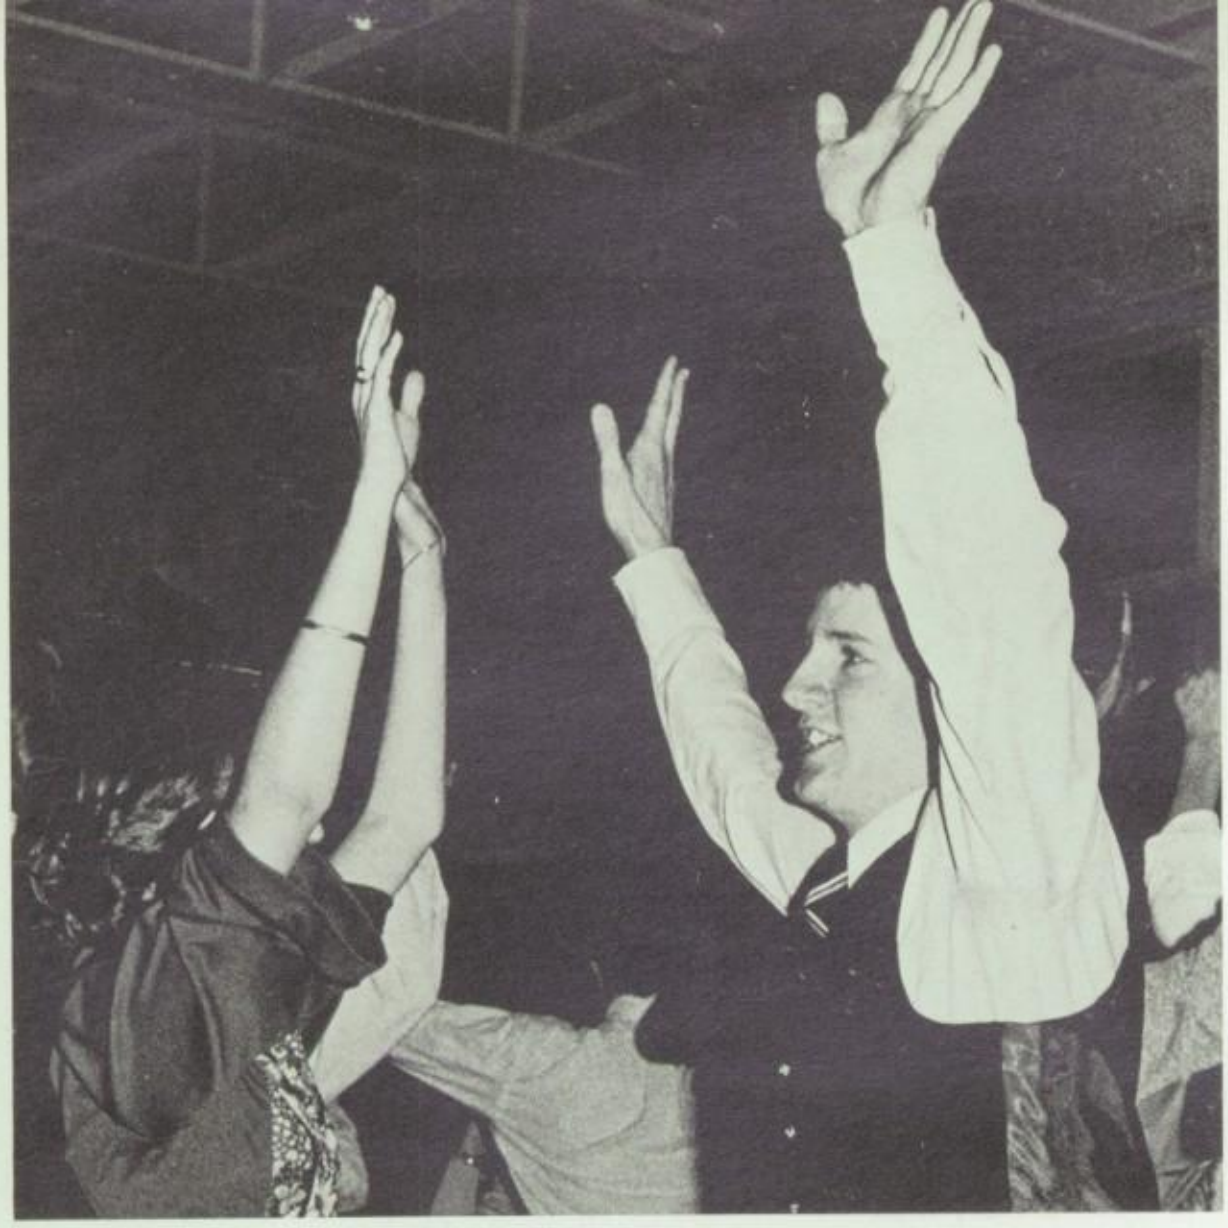
Then came the problem of what to wear.

All went perfectly and by the end of the evening, the girl was fully aware of the benefits of being able to choose their dates.

Roles Reversed at TWERP

Boogie Nights. Couples get into the music during their favorite song.

Get Down. Doug Schuster and Trudy Roberts demonstrate how it's done.



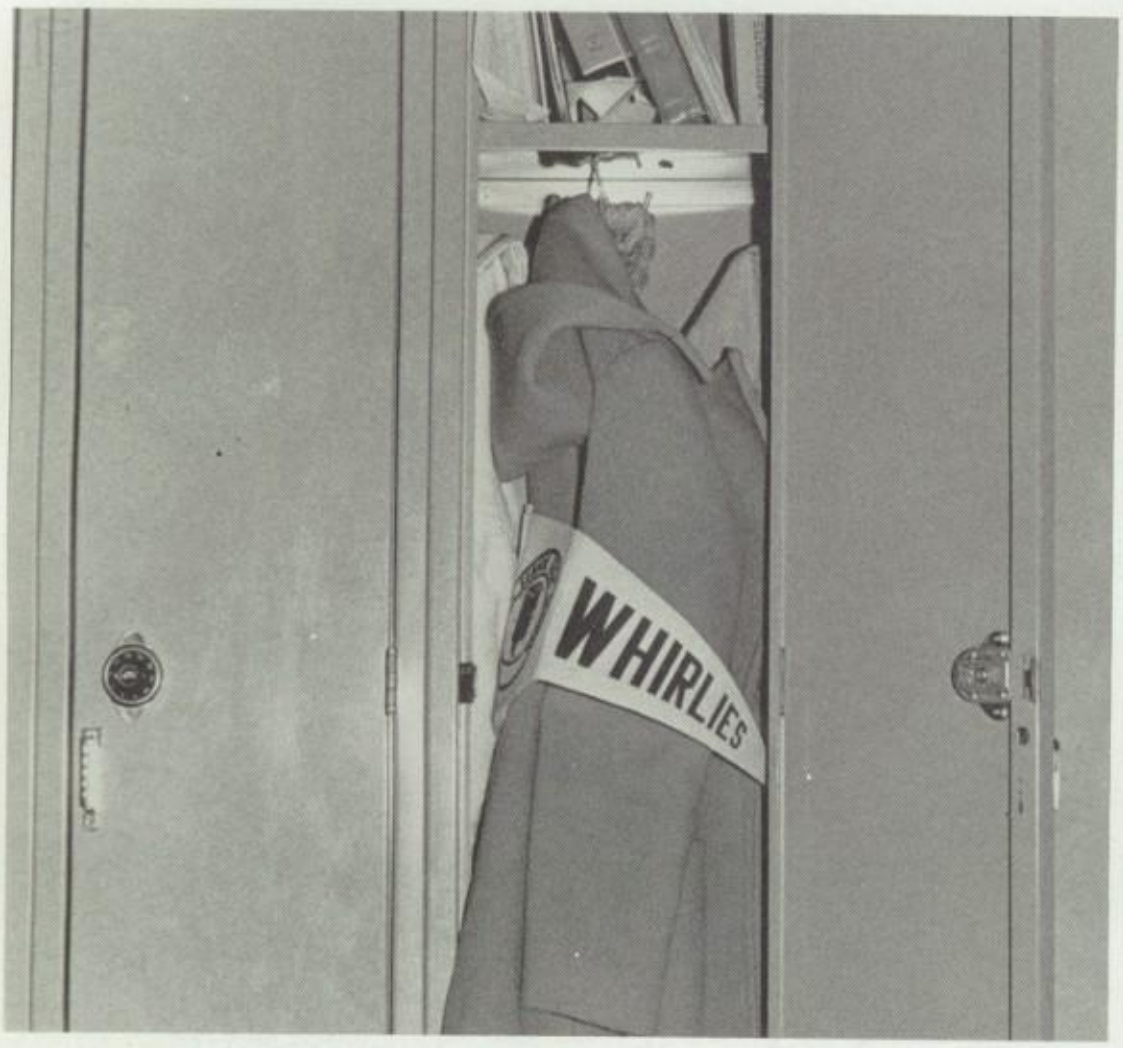
I just wanna shout. Emily York and Jeff Baker get i the music.

Let's Dance. Lamacia Miller and Chuck Franks dance to the dummer's beat.

The Wall Flowers. Scott Toben, Beth Byrd, and Jon Albright decided to rest between dances.

Little of everything — Winston men, lady bugs, and Snoopy — a permanent part of one Grimsley student.

Symbol Of Permanence



Lockers, our only sign of permanence during our high school years, did more than just store our school supplies; they reflected our personalities, were shrines for our idols, and were used to celebrate birthdays — in short, lockers served most any purpose imaginable.

Lockers were perfect meeting places before, during and after school, and when one could not be located messages could be left on locker doors.

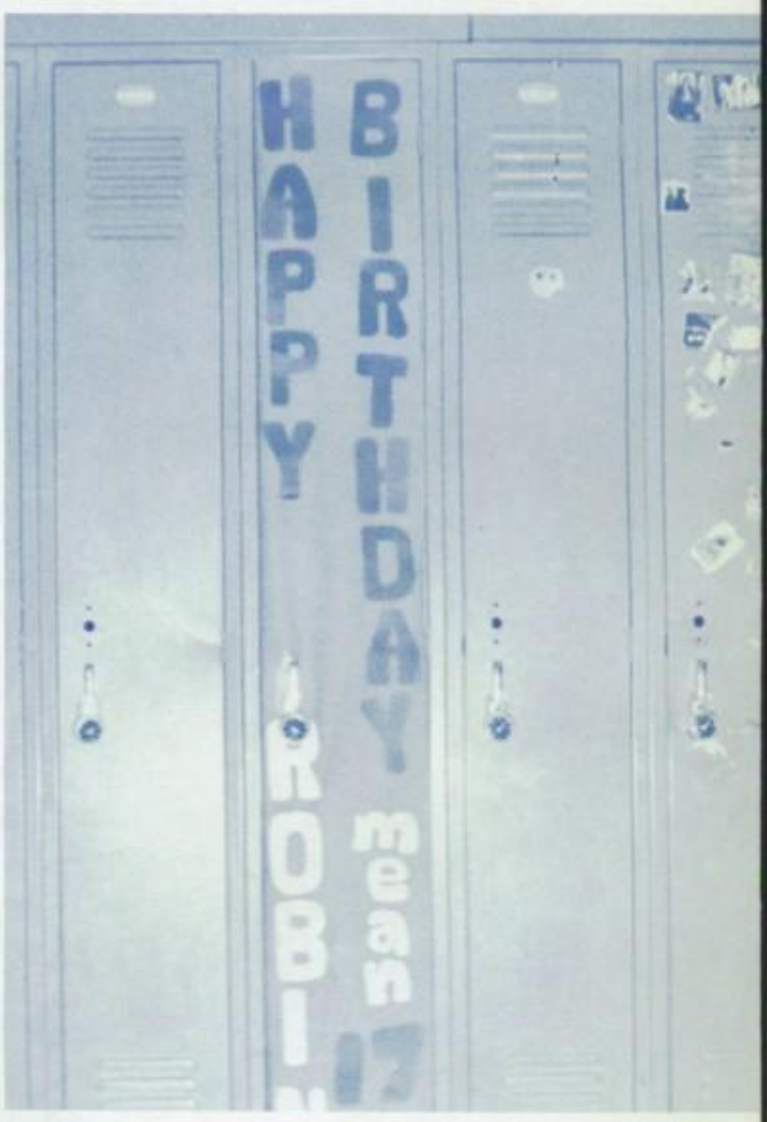
For $2.00 we had obtained the one thing that was ours. Each year we found more and more uses for something that many people thought no more of than just a place for storage.

Deflated spirit — Whirlie pennant finds itself abandoned in Pep Board member's locker.

Unsung heroes — Football stars decorate door of locker.

Hit the Slopes! Grimsley student dreams of skiing while at his locker.

Grafitti wall. Lockers show a variety of sports, singers, and comedians.



Happy Birthday! Robin turns that mean seventeen.

Oh, Those Winston Men! Cameron Clegg and Liz Cross show off their Winston locker.

Jam, Whirlies Jam!

When one thinks of spirit, what comes to mind? Who really knows, but one thing was definitely true — this was "The year of the Whirlie." Never in our 50 years of existence have we, the student body, been so spirited and supportive of our school and its events.

Everyone joined in, not only the upperclassmen, but even the new arrivals jumped in and showed their spirit. We cheered our fearless teams on to victory and were a strong support during losses.

Spirit days had a new life; everyone participated. A new addition, "Toga Day" proved to be an omen of what was to come — more spirit, much more spirit. There was such an unbelieveable amount of spirit that contests were held to pick out the most spirited students. We painted our cars, carried banners and above all worked as one when supporting our school.

Yes, this was obviously the "Year of the Whirlie", and no one can deny that we have that WHIRLIE POWER!!!!

Full house. Whirlies turn out to pep rally in masses to help turn the Page pirates.

Funeral of the Pirate. Solemn members of Pep Board mourn pirate's death at pep rally.

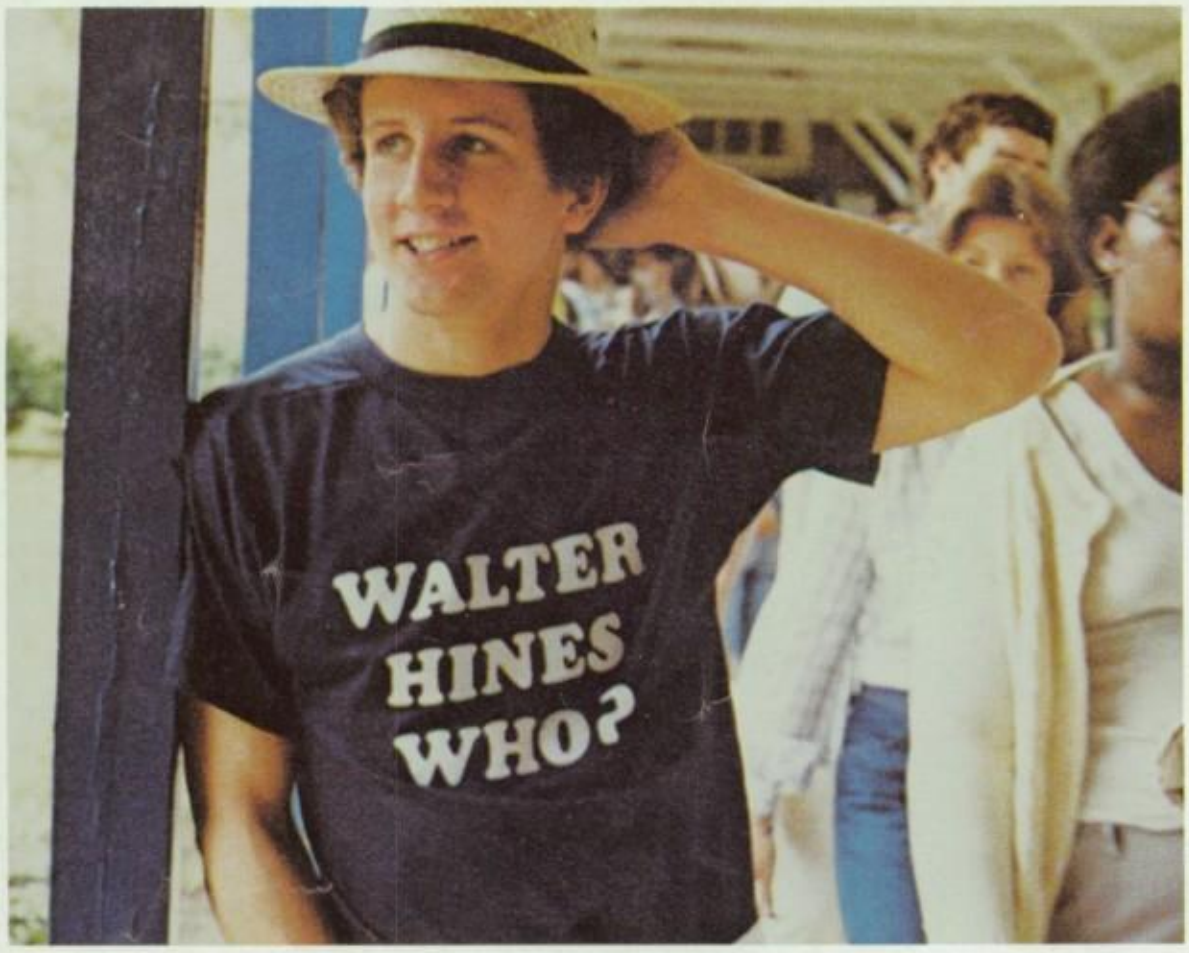
All hail to thee— Grimsley cheerleaders show spirit during Alma Mater.

Killed in action. Pep rally shows what a tiger Kim Paul can really be!



The ultimate question. Jeff Baker asks, "Walter Hines Who?"

Bewildered Whirlies. Just what are the words to the Alma Mater?

Oh We Can Really Dig It!

Childhood years. Whirlies revert to their youth on Kiddie Day.

What's going on? Cheerleaders sponsor varsity football team for charity donations.

Yell, Whirlies, yell! Jeff Baker looks for support from fans during pep rally.

Picking up tips. Neil Reitzel asks Scott Toben how the JV's are playing while Bill McKenzie picks up some tips for the varsity team.

Toga, toga! Animal House comes alive in Jamieson Stadium before the game.

We're Number 1! Even cars show how tough a Whirlie can be.

Whirlie Spirit Soars

The motivation behind all of our fabulous school spirit? Rivalry, of course! Rivals gives us that tremendous desire to win and without rivals our spirit would serve no purpose.

One entire week was devoted to our arch-rival Page and during this week we went all out to prove to others that our spirit was, by far, the most powerful. Much hard work was needed to convey the message that we were to "floor Page", and what could be better than a week of high spirited spirit days.

Rivalry is what makes us tick and win or lose. WE ARE WHIRLIES AND WE ARE PROUD!!

We May Never Pass This Way Again

Queen for the Night. Alicia Neese, escorted by Brent Gentry, is crowned 1978 Homecoming Queen.

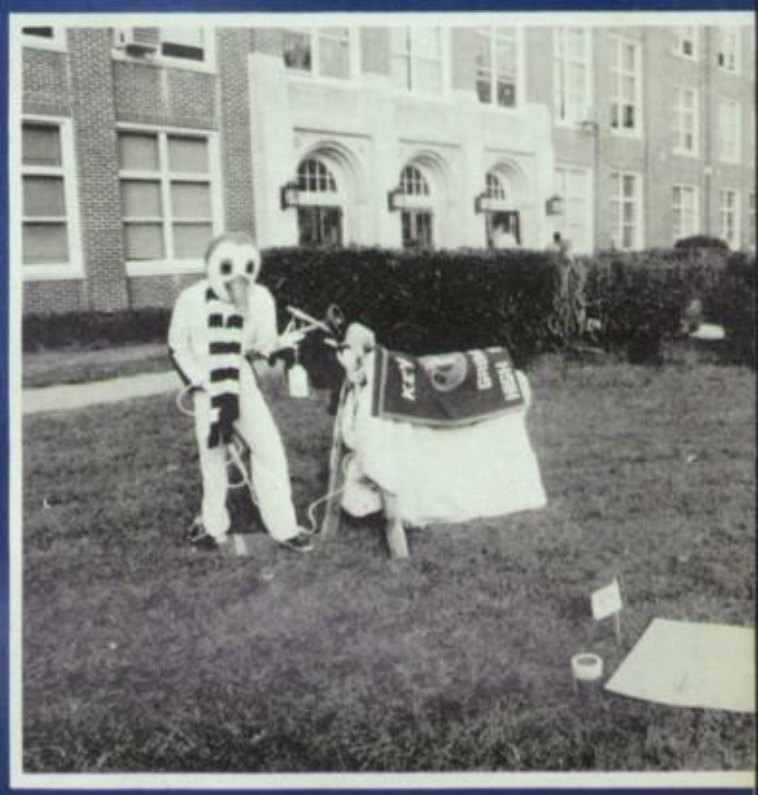
Runner-up. Jaycettes receive second place for their project.

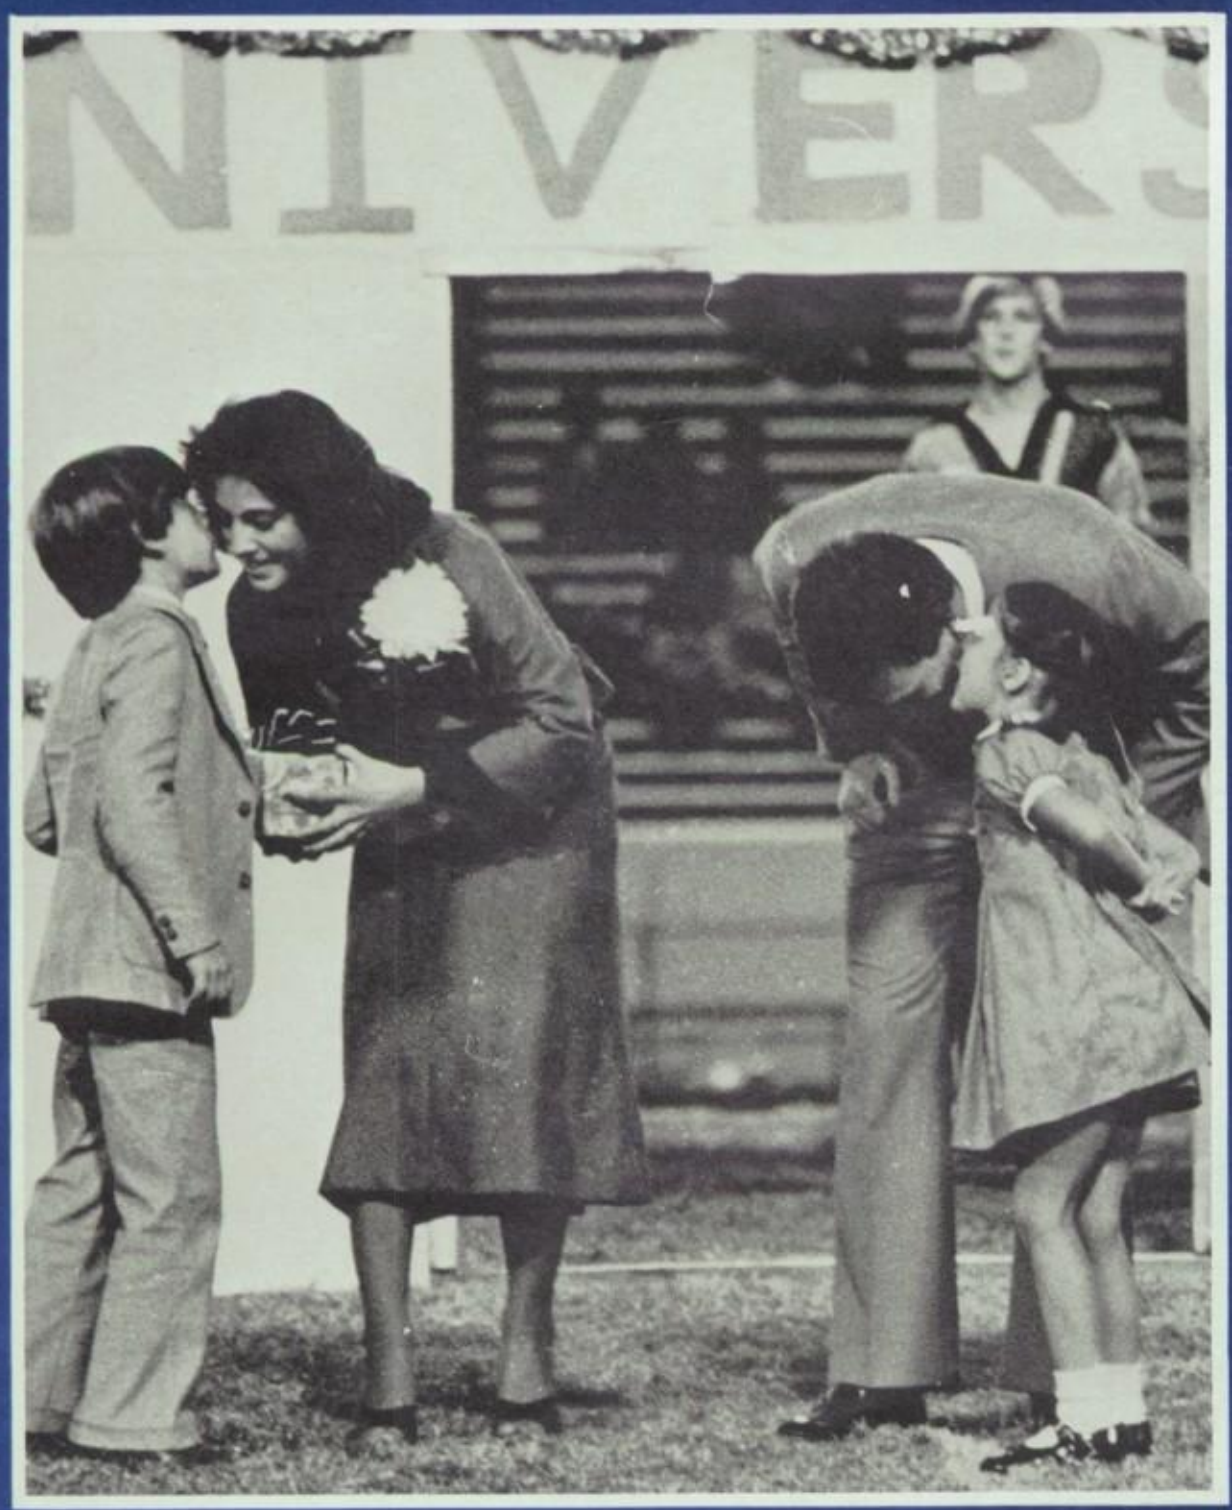
First place. Exchangettes win Homecoming Project competition.

Not Too Bad. Kissing Leigh Cagle and Bob Farley isn't all that bad.

Happy couple. Mary Lynn Burris receives Homecoming gift as Paul Babinski looks on.

To the glue factory. Key Club sends the Parkland Mustangs to the glue factory.





This year commemorates our 50th year and what better way to celebrate than by having our homecoming revolve around this idea — "50 years." This year it was different — we had our game on Friday and our dance on Saturday. The Homecoming Court proved to be phenomenal and everyone deserved to be queen, but one young lady rose out from among the others and received the crown — her name, Alicia Neese, her duty, to reign over our 50th year with grace and dignity. The Maids of Honor, Kelly Haines and Joy Ballentine worked side by side with the queen to insure a productive year.

Our 50th year, a special year, for we know that "We will never pass this way again."

Glad to be here. Linda Byrd and Jim Hardy receive kisses as they come through the doorway.

What's happening? Everett Diggs looks to other side of gym at "freaking" dancers.

Hold me up! Fritz Healy and Diane Lasek seem to be enjoying Prom '78.

Taking a breather. William Moore and his date take time out between dances

High school sweethearts. Junior Alicia Neese and alumni, David Irvin, making lasting memories.

The Last Prom. Rod Elkins escorts Patty Gray to her last senior prom.

Memory Lasts—Always and Forever

Prom — the social highlight of a high school year, is more than "just a dance," and much more than "just a date" — it is an event which has been dreamt about for years. Prom '78 was no different in this respect, and the many priceless memories will last "Always and Forever."

For many students Prom '78 was a first but, whether or not one had been before, the mystical qualities were present.

Shortly after having eaten exotic dinners, couples began arriving and one could hardly believe the difference that formal attire could make in an appearance. The main gym, decorated in pastels of blue, pink, and lavender, was the focal point of this magical moment in time. Whether one danced or whether one socialized was of no difference for Prom '78 was unique for everyone and it was during this night that "anything goes."

Midnight breakfasts and intimate parties highlighted the after dance agendas and everyone seemed to have the stamina to go forever. In short, "They could have danced all night."

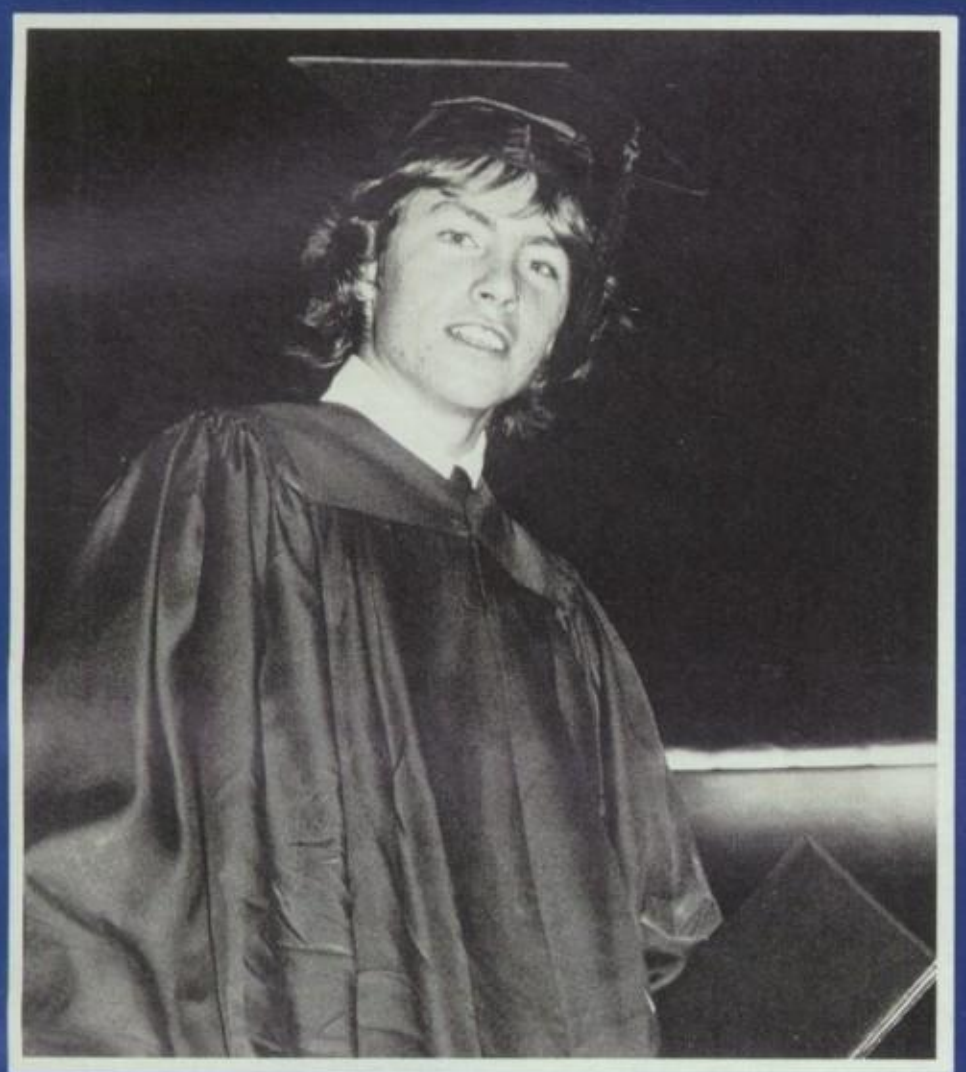
For the seniors, Prom '78 was the finale before graduation — a celebration which marked the end of one phase of their lives. For the underclassmen, Prom '78 held many private and special meanings; none of which would ever be forgotten. But, for everyone Prom '78 was priceless and the memories which one treasured will last "Always and Forever."

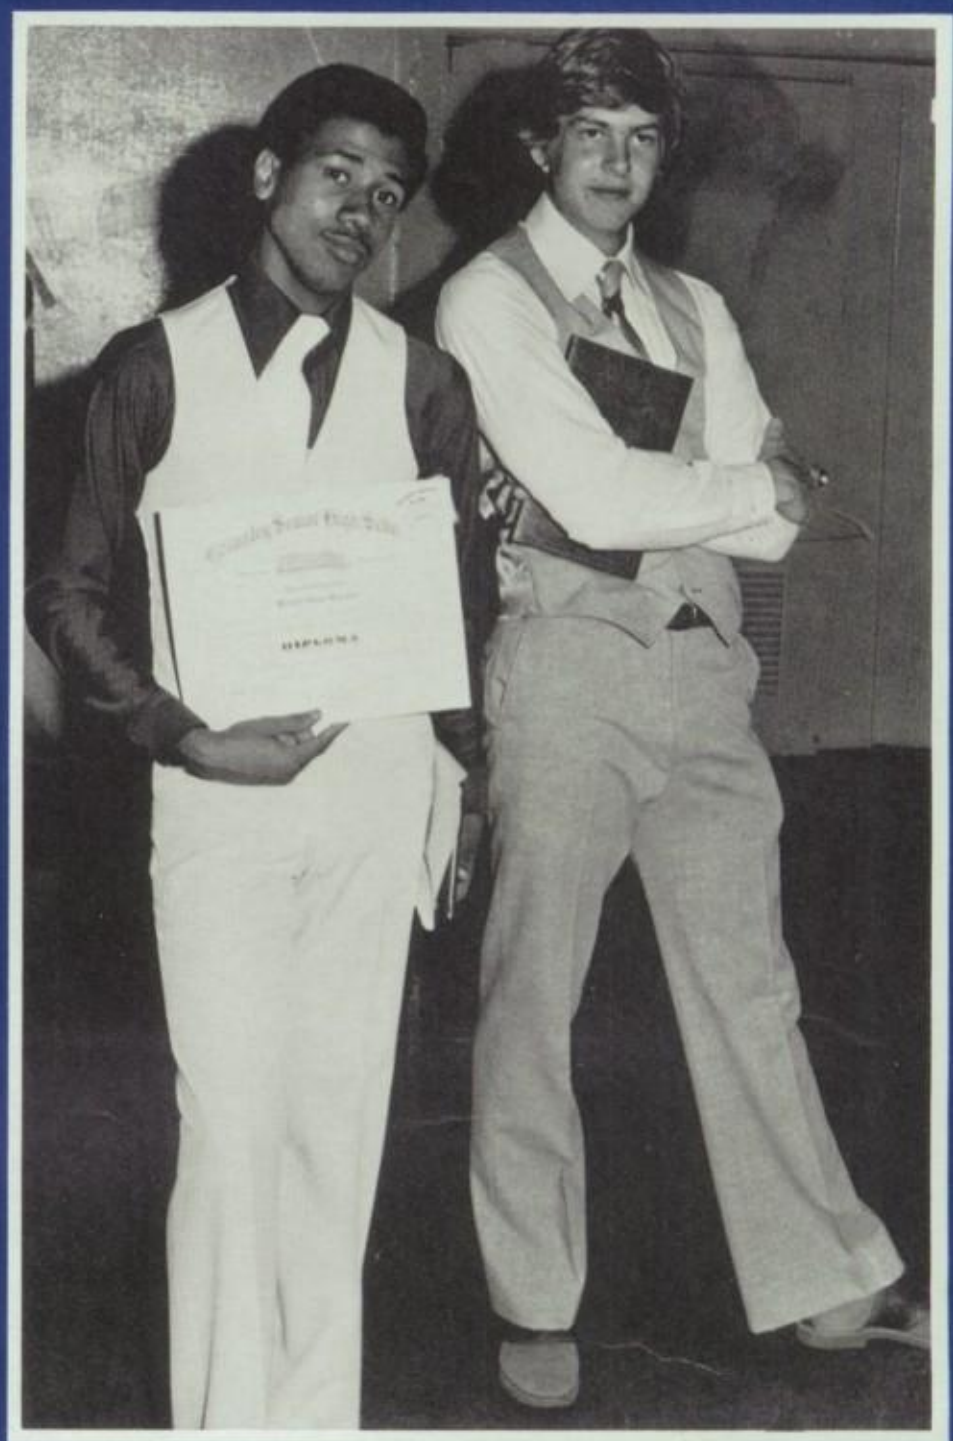
Greek Connection. Irene Kontoulas and Steve Anton pose before returning to the dance floor.

Get off! Laura Hoppough and Bill Linton jam at Prom.

Look Sophs! Graduates show off earned high school diplomas.

Finally! Dan Morton doesn't quite believe he's made it.



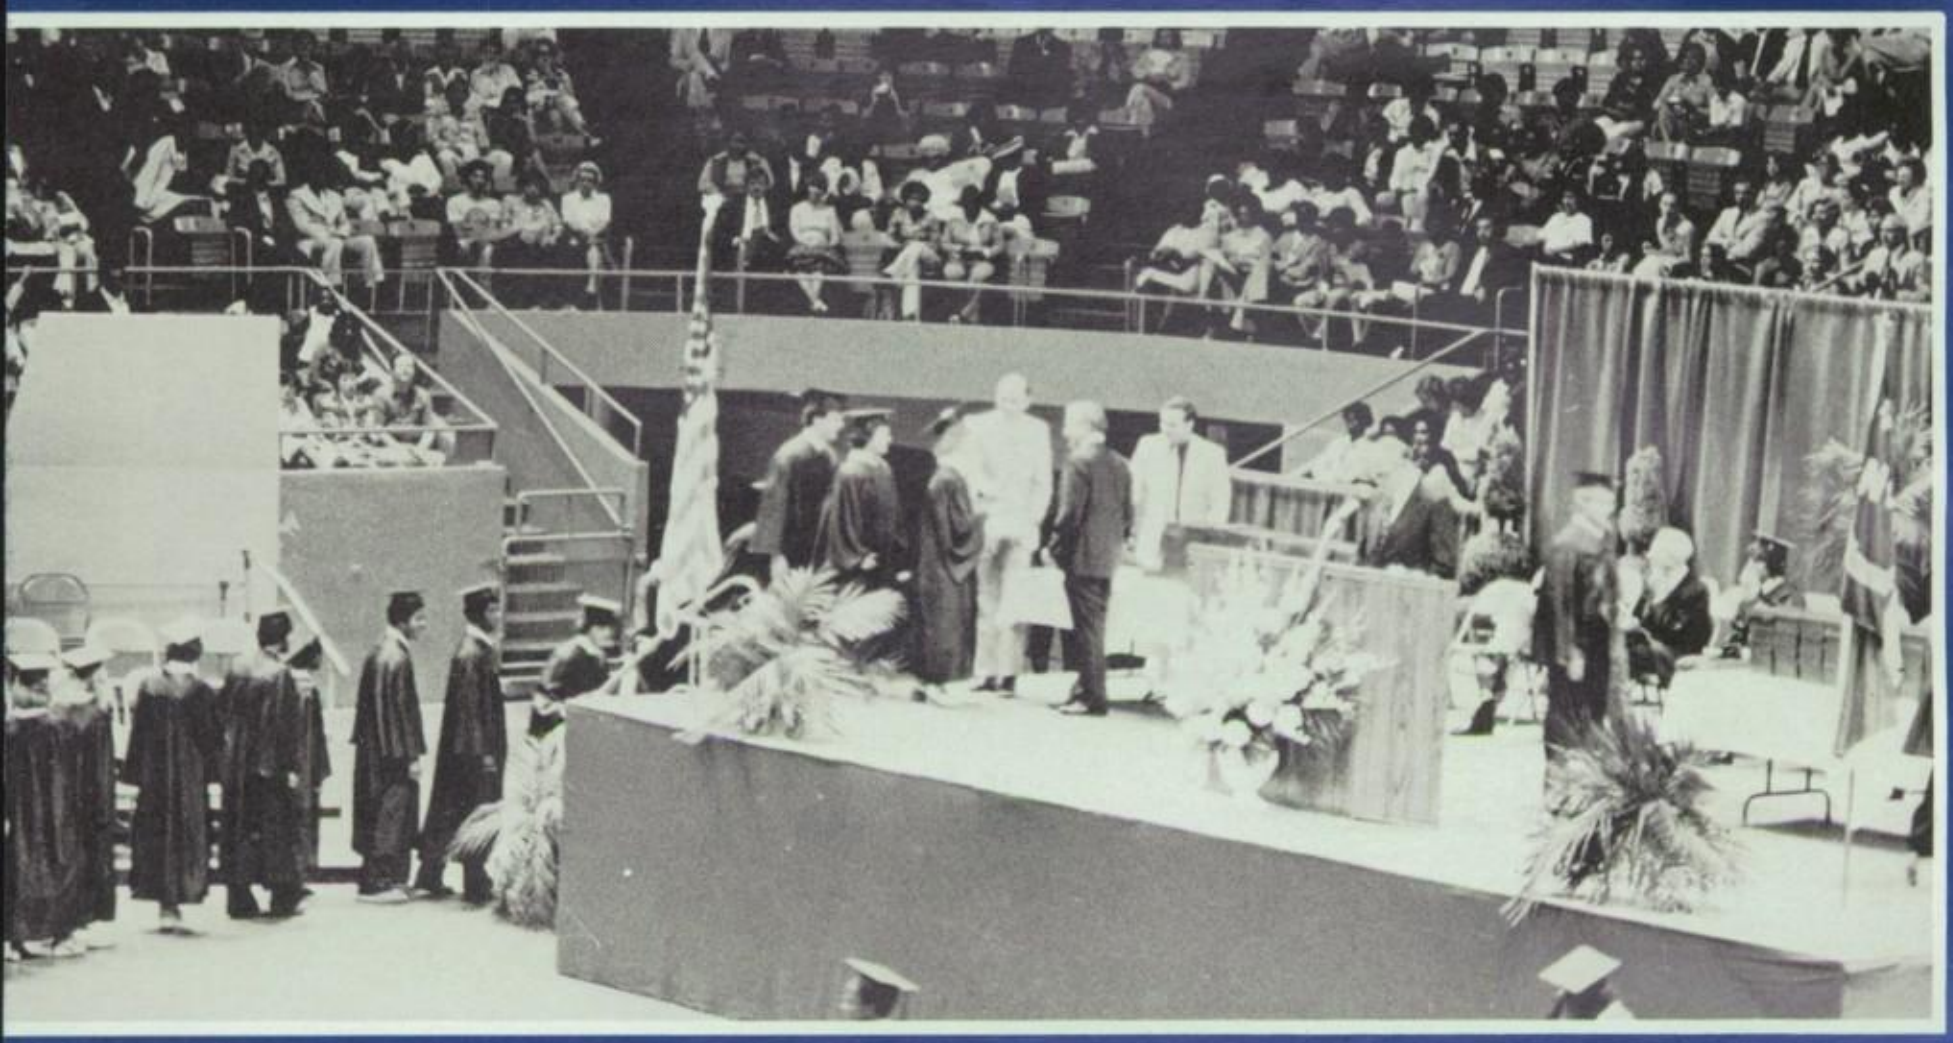


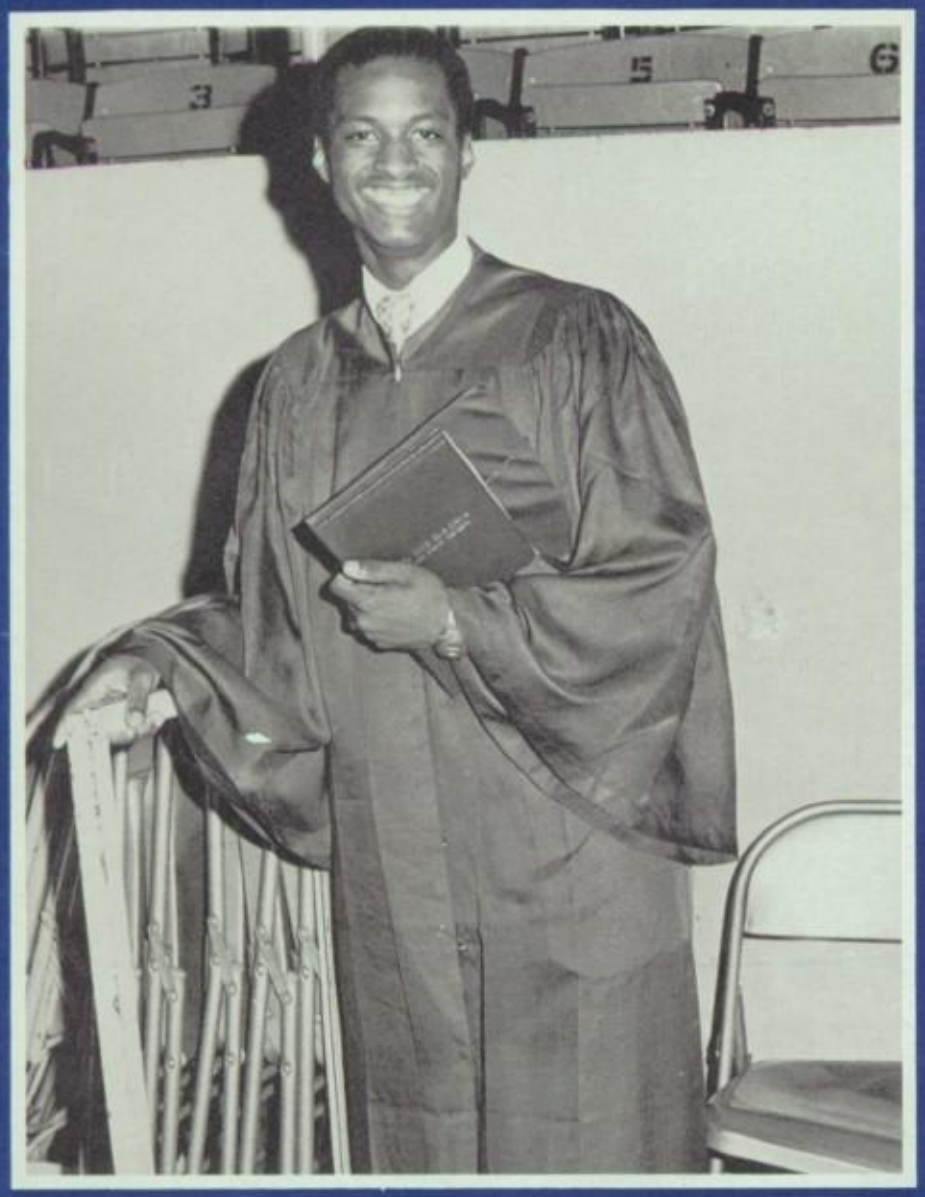
On June 13, 1978 over 350 students were part of a long awaited event — graduation. After having worked diligently for 12 years, these students received their diplomas — their key to the future.

The guest speaker, Mayor Jim Melvin, gave the graduating class tips on how to better their future and the speech delighted all in attendance.

The joyous mood of the evening was also touched lightly with periods of sadness. Many students realized that this was their last function as a class and that from now on they were on their own. For some college was the next item on their agenda, after the beach, that is; for others their future was of yet unknown. But for everyone one thing was certain — after 12 years of hard work the reward had been received — They had graduated.

We Finally Made It!





Graduation exercises. Seniors receive diplomas at the 1972 Graduation exercises.

Happy Seniors. New graduates show feelings with smiles.

Looking good! The Supreme Court never looked as good as Ogden Spruill.

Big smiles! Robin Blowe and her boyfriend seem glad to be with each other.

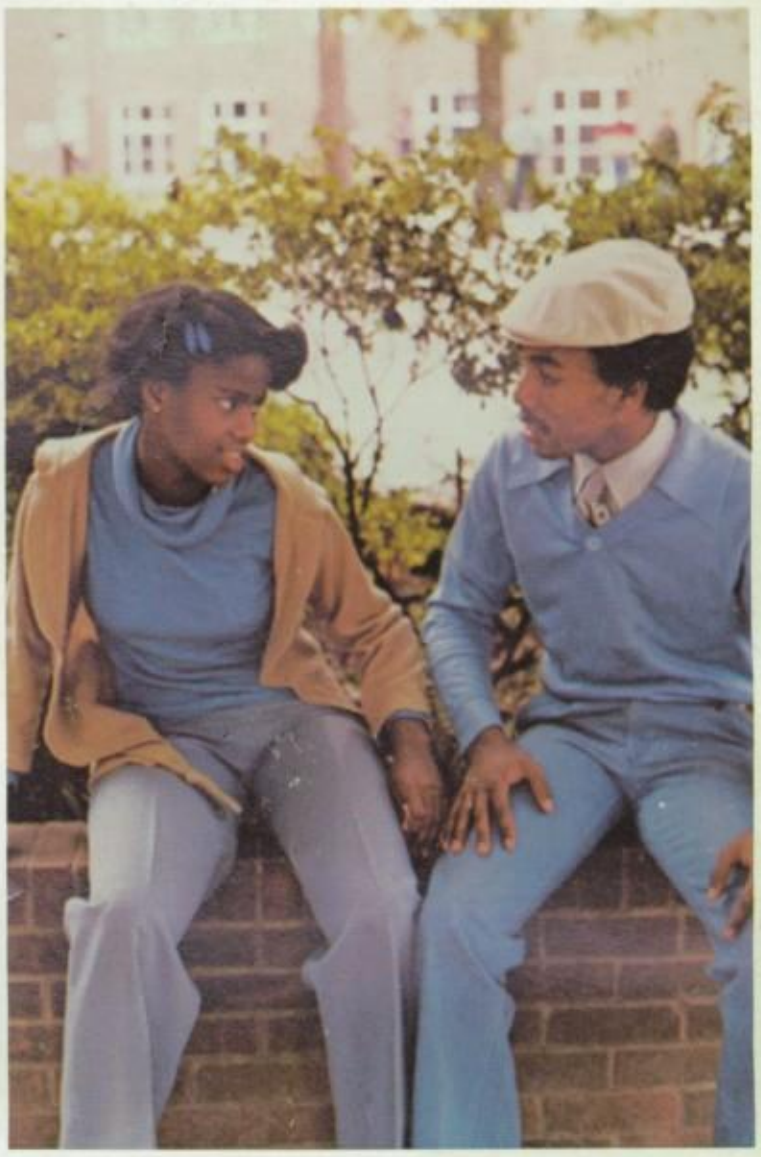
Dating, one of the most important parts of high school life, has immeasurable value to all high school students. Many lasting relationships form during these three brief years and for many dating is, over all, the most important item.

Dating becomes a more formal affair during high school and, therefore, being asked out becomes more of an honor than it once had been. Movies and the "disco scene" are the major entertainment for a couple out for an evening on the town and, of course, there is nothing better than being in the company of an enjoyable person.

Dating, what would high school life be without it? Who knows. But one thing is true, dating adds that special touch to our lives. It aids in maturity and, above all, it's enjoyable.

Knock 'em out! Allan Ralls and date knock out bricks at Dimensions.

Loving looks. Whirlies give each other looks of love on campus.



The Dating Game

What will it be? Grimsley students decide which movie to see on Saturday night.

Tighter! Students pose together for Whirligig photographer.

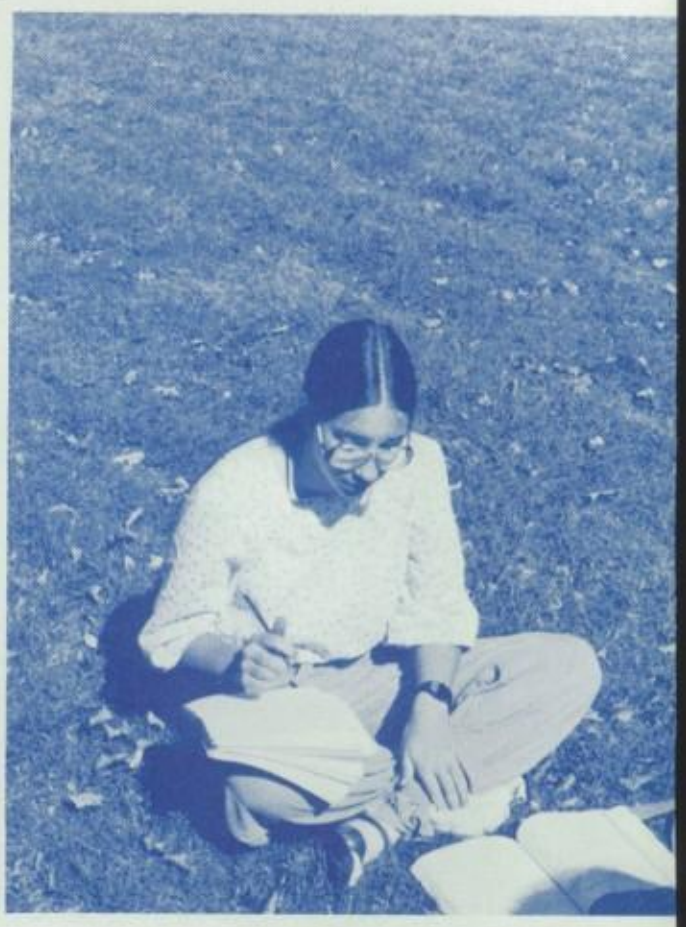
Munch out! While eating, Grimsley students find time out to talk about happenings of the day.

Studying hard. Felicia Pratto finds that lunch on the front lawn is a good time to study.



Big order. I'll have four cheeseburgers, three large fries, and a box of McDonaldland cookies.

Hot and juicy. Chandra Mintz finds she needs "lots of napkins" at Wendy's.

Day of the 10¢ hamburger—1963 prices include 12¢ french fries.

Stop scowling!—Student finds pictures interrupt the lunch process.

Where We Munched Out

Lunch, whether it is fourth period or fifth period, there is a trick in getting to a place to eat, ordering, eating, and making it back to school in 45 minutes. Impossible? No, at least not for those students determined to eat off campus or those with a heavy foot.

Despite the fact that traffic is heavier, lines are longer and service somewhat slower, fifth period lunch is the most popular period. Those students with fourth period lunch found it to be a much more leisurely and therefore tardies to fifth period were few.

Yes, lunch is the most important time of day, to many students, and could best be described as "Grimsley at its wildest!"

In-between bites—Ann James and Pam Brewster have those "Quarter Pounder Smiles".

Traditions — Changes In The Way We Are

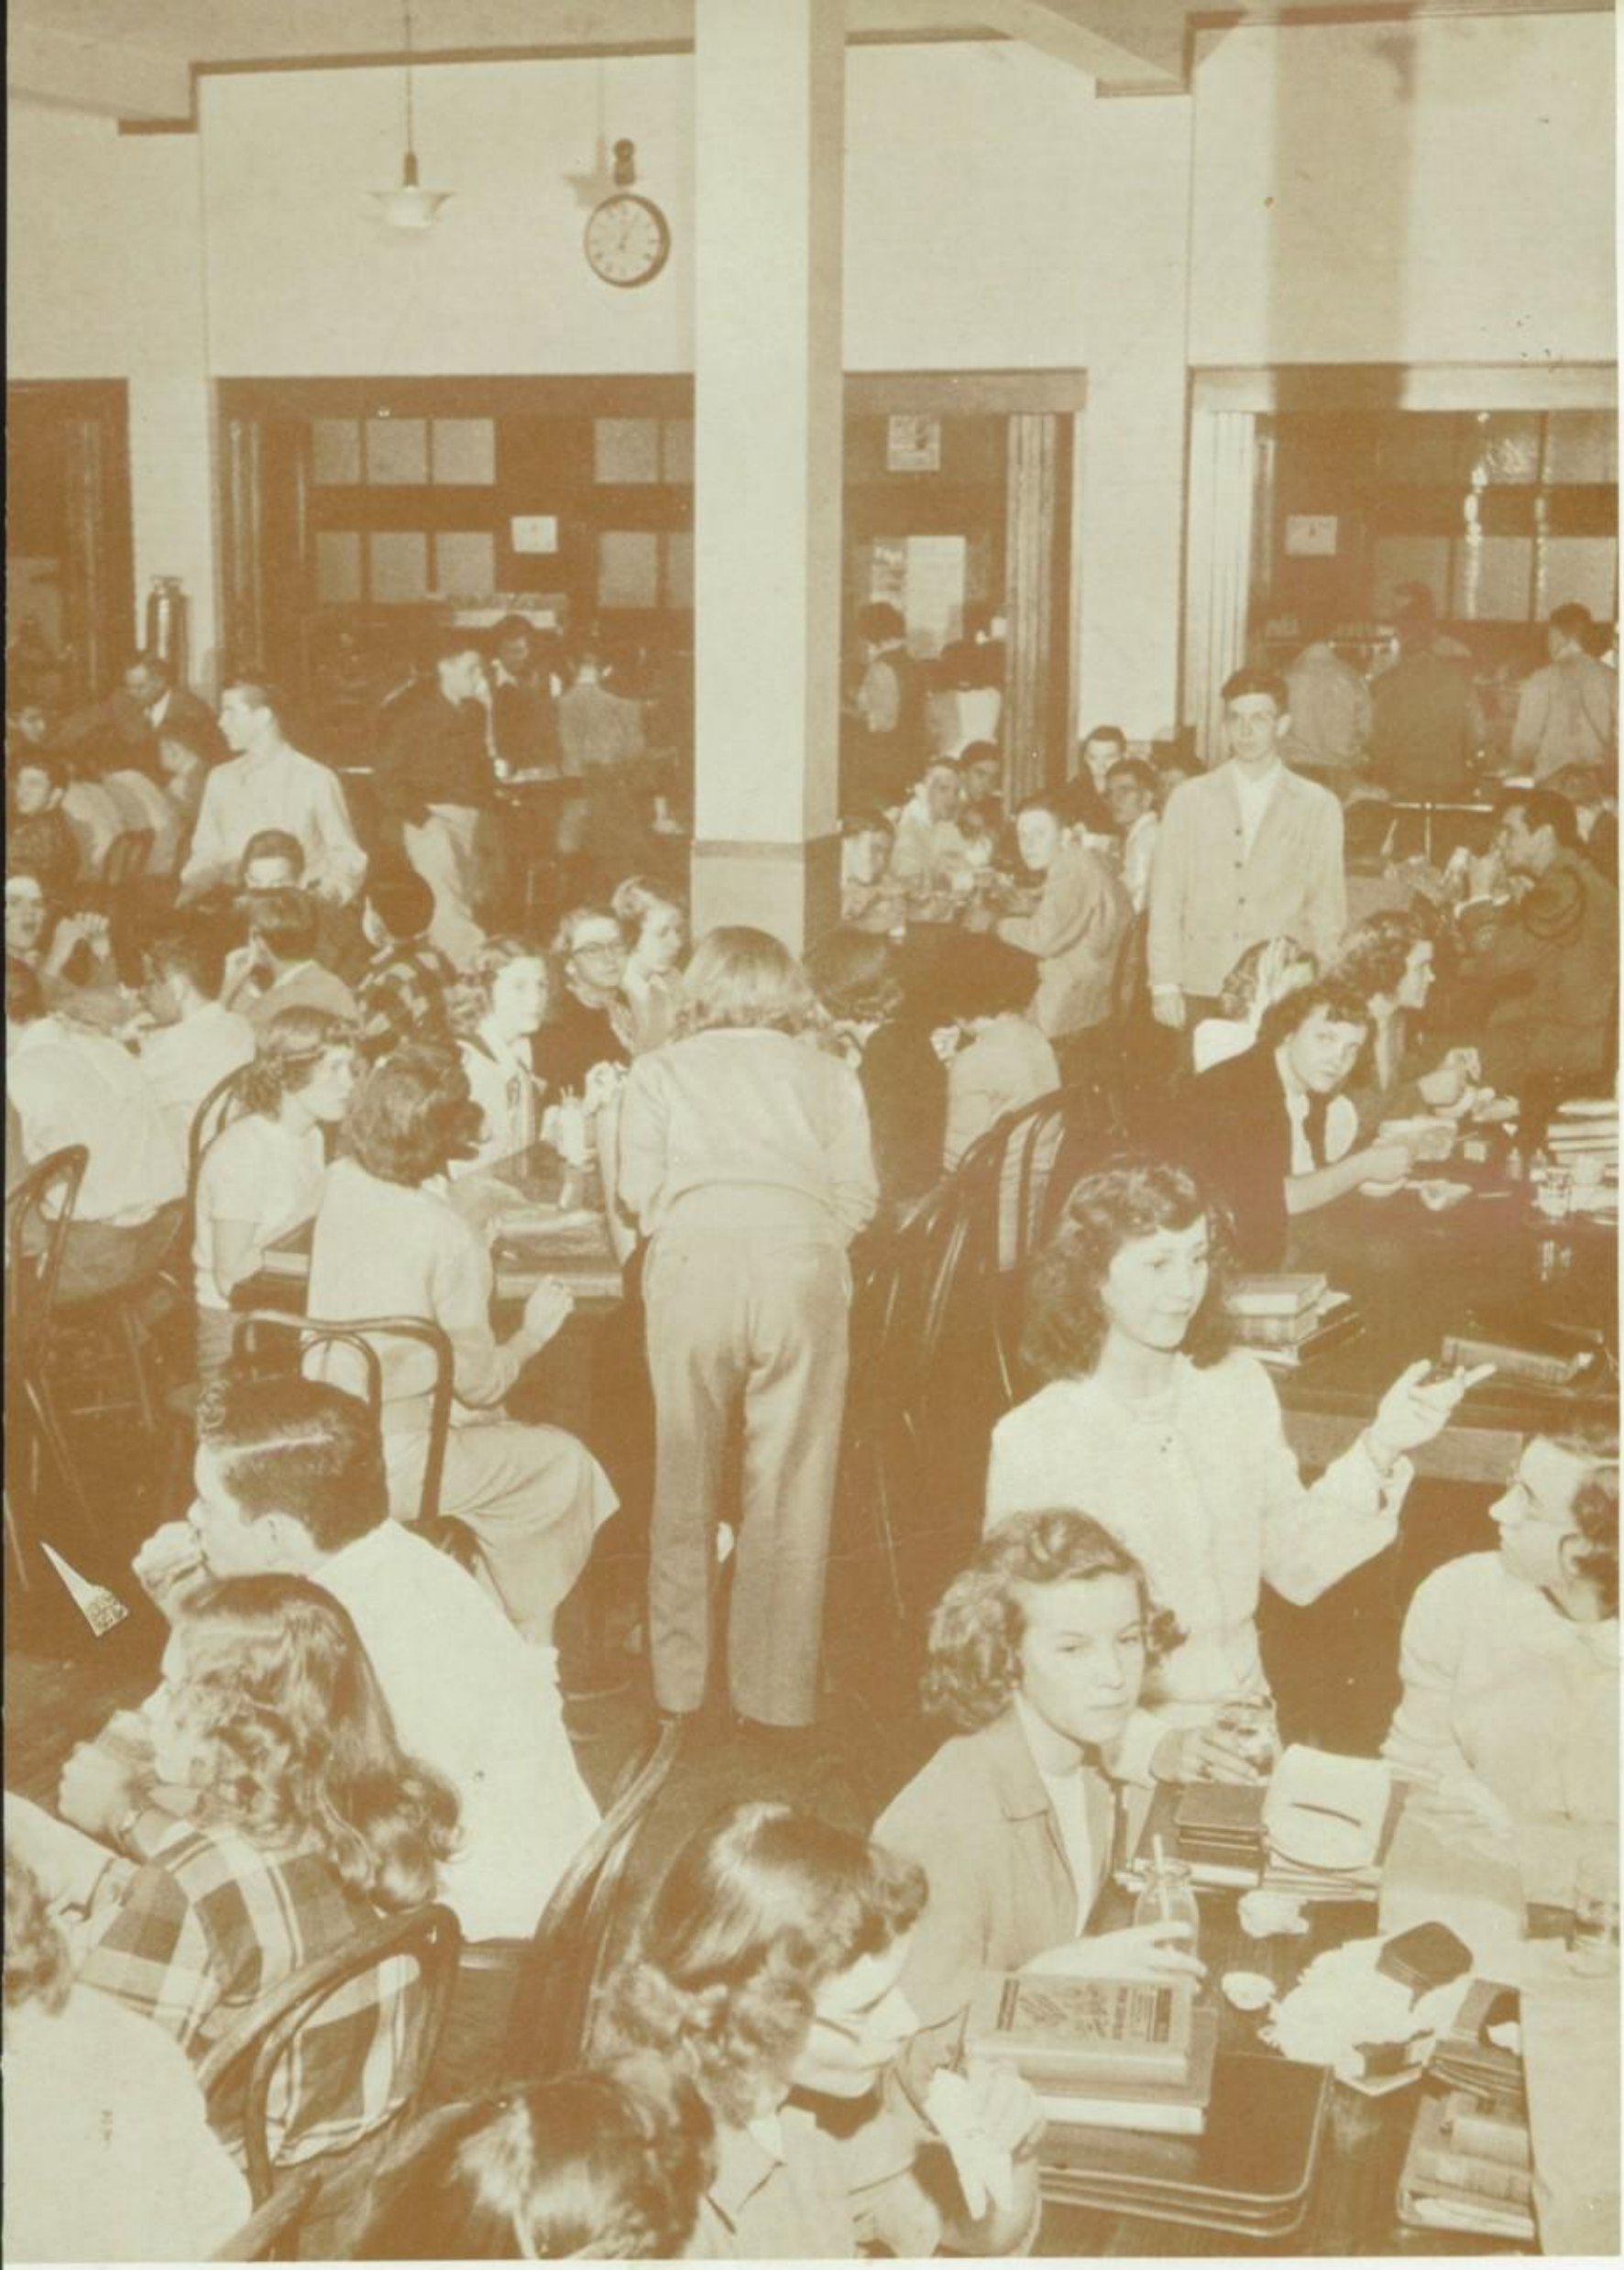
Tradition — the thread that holds fifty very different years to a common cloth. The weaving and pattern vary with the times, but tradition holds true, staying the same but ever changing. Fifty years, traditional years of Greensboro Grimsley High — sock hops have gone disco, May Queens have become Homecoming Queens, and the cafeteria has become obsolete for those students who prefer McDonalds. Though outside characteristics have changed throughout the years, the spirit of the school and of its students is a constant reminder of the tradition which has been a part of Greensboro Grimsley for half a century. Pride is an important factor in the sustainment of traditional ideas, and it can truly be said that pride is the motivating force behind Greensboro Grimsley High's students and faculty. The feeling is a necessary one in maintaining the level of excellence in which the school has prospered throughout these years. To be able to say one is a true Whirlie is in itself a great accomplishment. It is not something to be taken lightly, but must be felt — a feeling of satisfaction, of knowing that the Whirlies are the best.

The fiftieth year is an important year — a golden year to be remembered in the hearts of all who share in Greensboro Grimsley's history. It is a halfway mark — drawing the celebration of a century closer yet putting half of that century behind. We can see the dimness of the past, a cloudy image in which lies the beginnings of today; but also the nearness of tomorrow, a time which holds the birth of the future. The traditions will change, but the "faith, love and loyalty" which students share will remain.

Hard work—Auditorium boasts the creed of a hard-working student.

Voice of knowledge—Mural adorns auditorium wall.

May Day—Couples' parade in 1956 May Day court.



Munch out—1950 Greensboro High students utilize cafeteria.

Campus Changes Shown By Buildings

Grimsley Senior High School has not always been an expansive high school campus boasting a swimming pool and an immense number of buildings. Fifty years ago campus life was centered around 3 buildings—the main building, the old science building, and the cafeteria building. As times changed and the student body grew expansions were necessary and the "school in the country" as it was referred to in the 20's and 30's—began the task of trying to meet the needs of its inhabitants.

In 1940 land was cleared for a stadium and parking lot and plans were made for a vocational building to be added to the school complex. Shortly there after the old boys' gym was removed and replaced with a new and productive facility. In 1956 a home economics building and music building were completed. And finally in 1967 a new library with the most modern study aids was opened behind the main building.

Even these additions proved too small for the growth over the next 10 years, so in 1974 a new science building joined the GHS campus, and not long afterward the school was highlighted with a swimming pool and tennis courts.

In 50 years Grimsley has grown from a 3 building school "in the country" to a sprawling school "in the city" with facilities for all.

May Queens Of Yesterday Reign

Grimsley Senior High School has grown over the past 50 years and with this growth it has changed. On the other hand, many things have remained the same. The traditions and focal points have been left in tact. Prom, pep rallies, and the like still carry much weight as did many other events which had been commonplace throughout the school's rich history.

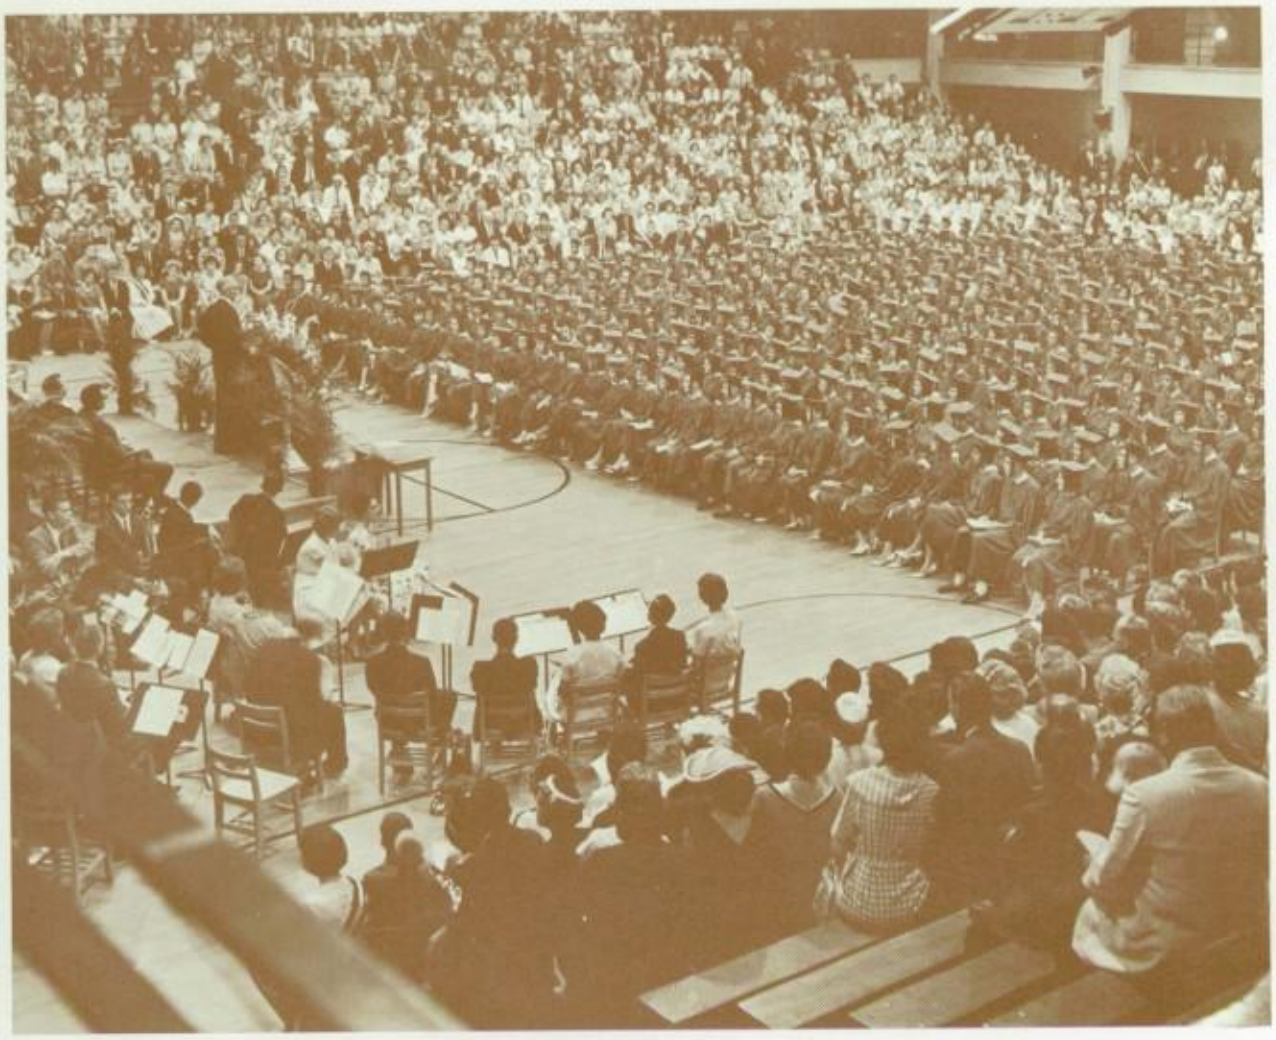
May Day and candidate rallies, at one time major high school events, have been deleted, but at the same time new social events have been added. Twerp has taken the place of the Mid-winter's Dance which was the winter social gathering of years past. The dance after Homecoming has taken on all the pomp and beauty which was exposed during May Day. Much more emphasis has been placed on sports and the social clubs have been replaced by more productive and pleasing service clubs.

Over the years changes have taken place but these changes have only been "skin deep". Grimsley remains the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

May Court—1956 May Queen reigns over her court.

Spring Prom—Students enjoy spring prom, 1950 disco style.

Class of '49—Graduate looks toward future during exercises.



Traditional graduation—1963 graduation held in Grimsley gym.

Promenading—Front lawn is the scene of the 1962 May Court's spectacle.

Classes Of Yesterday

Classes, the major component of a student's day, have grown throughout the years. Class selections were limited during the first years at Grimsley. Sophomore, Junior, and Senior English classes grew and were replaced by many diverse courses meeting the needs and desires of the students. The addition of the Weaver Education Center in the school year 1978-1979 added many facilities to class selections. Courses such as Astronomy, Auto Mechanics, Modern Dance, and Carpentry were offered to those students who wished to take advantage of the opportunity. Advanced courses, Vocational courses, and drama courses give students the chance to prepare for their lives after high school graduation. Classes have advanced throughout the fifty years with the help of the faculty and administration to give students the best education possible.

Pithed frog—1960 general biology students pin and dissect frog.

Organizations Provide Benefits

The organizations at Greensboro Grimsley have for the most part remained the same. Throughout the fifty years, few changes in this area have been made. New organizations were formed and others were dropped, in accordance to the interests of the students.

The Euterpe Symphonia is an organization which most students have never heard of. It provided past students interested in music with a place to gather. The Traffic Squad's purpose was to control the traffic in the halls during the school day. Students were able to broaden their knowledge of Latin and the people who spoke it by joining the Junior Classical League. One of the largest organizations was the Ben L. Smith Future Teachers of America Club. Quill and Scroll has decreased in size over the years, limiting its membership to only the most qualified. Homespun, the school's first literary magazine was once published by the Quill and Scroll Society. The Library Club members were student assistants who were able to meet together to share their love for books. The Wheel Club was made of the school's bus drivers.

Although most of the names of the service clubs have changed, the purposes are the same. Clubs still offer social time for its members while providing meaningful service projects for others.

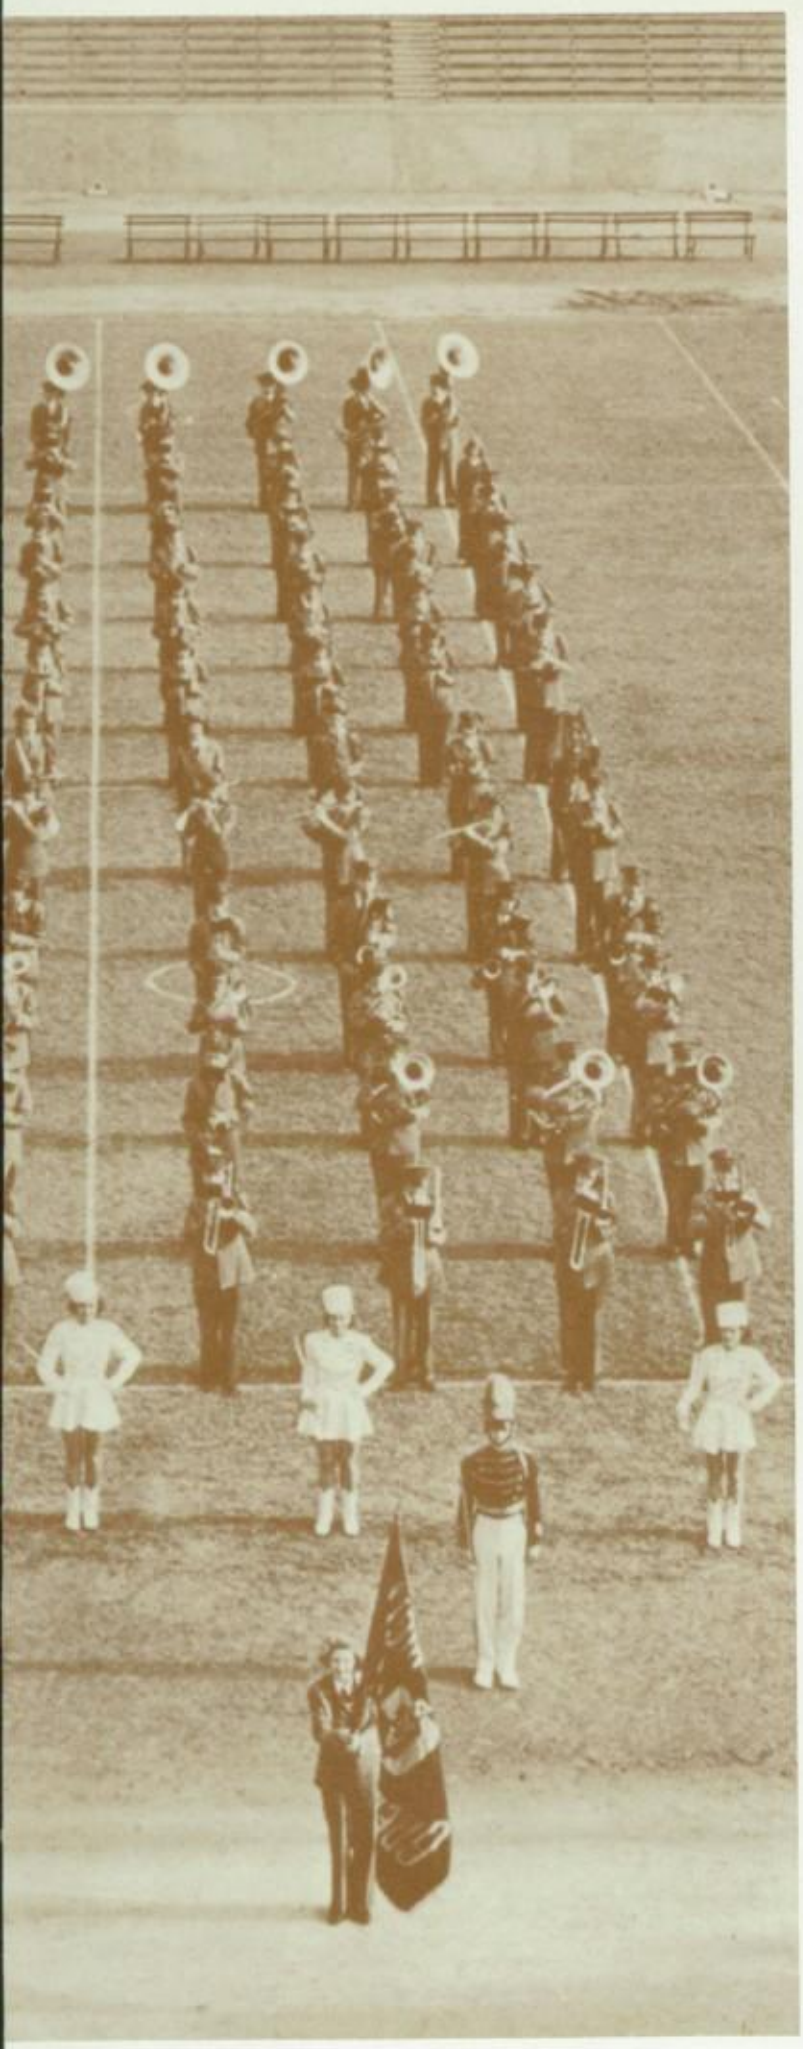
Honor Society—1950 Torchlight characterized by Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character.



50 yard-line—1950 Marching Band shows that the football field is also good for geometrical manueveurs.

Ticket sale winners—Les Soeurs Club of 1950 wins car for outstanding work in sale campaign.

Sports—Large Part Of Greensboro High

Over Grimsley's fifty years of existence, competitive sports have played a major role in the high school curriculum. Many sports have gone with the "latest" while others have stuck fast, appealing to students of long ago as well as today. Among those that sank were water polo and ping pong. There are always the old standbys: basketball and football, sports which have delighted fans throughout the years. Sports have been the central meaning for school spirit and pride. The spirit of Whirlie Power has evolved around sports and the rivalry within these sports. The former arch-rivalry, High Point Central has been forgotten as the Whirlies battle the Pirates of Page in the most intense cross-town rivalry in North Carolina. As the fads, tastes and interests of the students change, so the sports also change. An example of a sports boom has been that of soccer which has been growing stronger and stronger in this area in recent years. A Whirlie soccer team was formed in 1974, tying for the city championship in their debut. With the Whirlie spirit of fifty years behind Greensboro Grimsley, sports have become a major asset to the school.

Election Rallies Bring Out Spirit

In 1929 as today, the activities which fill the lives of students play an important role in the development of both the student and the school. Throughout Greensboro Grimsley's history, many activities have become a tradition, and new traditions are being formed every day.

Students have always wanted to "get involved", and school activities have given students an opportunity to do just that. School dances have always been popular activities; homecoming and prom the most popular, but the Christmas Dance of a few years ago being attended by most of the students also. Elections at one time played an important part in students lives. Huge campaigns were common, and often resembled political conventions, complete with posters, speeches, and confetti.

Sports, clubs, and organizations have also been an asset to the student life at Greensboro Grimsley. The Whirlies nearly always have a winning season in all sports, and often a state or conference championship title. Social sororities were the predecessors of today's service clubs, which have become major activities for students.

The Greensboro Grimsley student has formed a tradition of activity, which is continually growing stronger and larger.

Election excitement—Election rally promotes Executive Council candidates.

In 1929, Grimsley had several service clubs. These included Young Life, Alpha Omega, and Key Club, the first of which was the Key Club. 1979 began with over ten clubs in existence.

These clubs, which mainly centered around the interest of helping the community, also found time to have fun. Whether it was outrageously funny sophomore skits, or the annual beach trips, all club members had a great time.

Grimsley has not been limited to just service clubs. In 1953 there were fifteen active service clubs, among which were the NU PHI, MU, Syitt, and Les Soeurs.

Grimsley is still the meeting place of the French Club and Spanish club. These clubs have been meeting once or twice a month to better inform their members of the cultural aspects in their foreign countries.

Clubs have always been a big part in the student life at Grimsley by providing fellowship, fun, and the opportunity to learn from others.

Looking Back To Clubs In The 50's

Occupational club learns health trade

The Health Occupations Club is an organization that deals with the study of the human body. These girls have guest speakers which come to tell them of the different parts of the body, diseases, and other things pertaining to human health. They learn of the availabilities of jobs and the requirements in order to qualify for these jobs. The girls go on field trips to different places to learn more about the job itself. These girls are career conscious and do a find job.

Interclub council center of all clubs

The center of all the Grimsley High School service clubs was the interclub council. It was headed by Keith Butler and made up of all the club presidents who worked together to come up with ideas for money making projects, rules, guidelines, and problems the clubs might encounter. The council meets an average of twice a month to discuss issues and plan projects. On the whole the interclub council serves as an advisor for the clubs.

Charioteers rock away the year

As the name implies, Charioteers is a service club geared around helping various charities. This year, the girls worked on Christmas toys and school beautiful. The girls were sponsored in a Rock-A-Thon, in which they rocked in rocking chairs for 30 hours. The main event for the club was an annual Fashion show, in which 12 of the hardest working girls and their escorts model clothes from a well-known clothing store. Under the leadership of Christie Suarez, the Charioteers supported various charities.

Civitans year highlighted by beach trip

Civitans is a club with a reputation of goofing off a lot, but they do worthwhile things too. Under president Jim Hardy, they raised money by selling Whirlie gym shorts, Little Four tickets and participating in the Halloween Flea Market. Much of the money raised went to support numerous Greensboro charities. The Civitans' year was highlighted with their annual beach trip over spring break.

Civinettes raise money for Girls Haven

The Civinettes, sister club to Civitans, participated in many activities. Under the leadership of Co-Presidents Marianna Gulledge and Gina Zahran, the Civinettes participated in many fund raising projects. These included selling T-shirts, Little Four tickets, matches, and a car wash and bake sell. The money they raised went to Girl's Haven and other charities.

Nicknames for each of the girls, initiation, and going to church with Civitans once a month were only a few things the club did to become a close knit group.

Pencils Mark Year For Exchangette,

The Exchangettes, under president Clair Wilson, had a very busy year. They started the year off by winning the homecoming project award with their theme 50 years and we're still kicking. When basketball season came, the club gave out pencils with the basketball schedule printed on them. For Valentine's day and Easter, they gave out cards and eggs to the children at McIver school. These activities plus many more gave the Exchangettes about the busiest year ever.

Exchange Boost Spirit With T-shirts

The Exchange club contributed many services in 1978-79. They once again sold their annual GHS T-shirts to the Grimsley students. They also were in many fund raising projects such as the Halloween Flea Market, and the GYC Carnival. The money raised went to charities and gifts to the school. With Kemp Clendinnin as president, the club had a fun and successful year.

Formal — S. Alan, C. Barbee, K. Clendenin, D. Kornegay, A. Ralls, D. Lusk, T. Walsh, D. Long, P. Rothrock, D. Bowles, J. Ray, M. Edgertin, J. Alan, J. Gilbert, D. Dockery, G. Bennet, R. B. Gentry, J. Poole, K. Anderson, C. Hipps, M. Source, T. Ferrell, C. Goodman.

Jaycees Sponsor Haunted House

The Jaycees are a service club. They do several different things throughout the year among these are working at the GGO, participating in the annual Jaycee Haunted House and working at the Halloween Flea Market. This year they had the first annual football game with the Civitans, which the Jaycees won. The club is led by Chris Anderson and had an active year.

Jaycettes promote School Spirit

The club which has been nicknamed the "cup cake" club is Jaycettes. Each year they make cup cakes for all the teachers. Aside from this, the girls participate in Halloween Flea Market, Christmas toys, GGO, and sponsor a needy child. This year they promoted school spirit and sold football jerseys to all who were willing to buy. With Cindy Floyd as President the club had a year full of excitement.

Key club still going strong after 33 years

The Key Club is the oldest service club at Grimsley. The Key Club was started in 1946 and is still active today.

Every year the club members work very hard raising money and putting together the Key Club directory which they give to all of Grimsley's students and faculty free of charge. Under President Keith Butler, the club participates in many fund raising projects to raise money for charities and the directory. The Key Club ends the year by going to an annual District Convention for all Key Clubs in the Carolinas.

Brunswick stew highlights Liaisons Year

The club associated with the police is the Liaison Club. The main purpose of the club is to further the relationship between the Greensboro police department and the students of Grimsley High School. The Liaison Club works right alongside of the police to obtain an understanding and appreciation of the law. Under president Julie Watts, the club was involved in many of the fund raising projects sponsored by GYC. Their main fund raising project was selling brunswick stew that the club cooked themselves. The money raised by this organization goes to charities and to sponsor a family. The club buys clothes, food, and other necessities for the family.

Y-Teens Host Festival

The Y-Teens had a relatively busy year this year. The participation in building a Homecoming project brought them the honor of third place over all. They also entered "Chris Evergreen" which involved hostessing the Festival of Trees, selling saplings for promotion of the project, and decorating a live tree on campus. The girls had fun along with their work, and have annual beach trips over Easter holidays, dinner meetings and a few parties. Lizzie Barlow is president of the club and with her guidance, the club had a good year.

OHJ's Sell Shakers

The O'Henry Juniors are widely known for their cry of "Please buy a shaker!" at football and basketball games. These girls have been selling shakers for many years at Grimsley's home games. Aside from this, the girls participate in making a homecoming project, Chris Evergreen, the Halloween Flea Market, and the GYC Carnival. Their state project for this year was working with Thompson Children's Homes in Greensboro. In the spring the girls will have a mother/daughter banquet. With Emma Bailey acting as president, the club also sponsors a child in Indonesia. The club is organized and has the ability to get things done.-

Having Fun— Emma Bailey, Merideth Webster, and Laurie McFarland show how much fun club can be.

For those students who desire more than an academic program there are many organizations in which students may participate. These organizations not only benefit their members, but the rest of the student body and faculty as well.

Organizations give students opportunities to participate in the performing arts—drama and music; or to gain discipline through ROTC. Students are able to aid their school as various assistants, or as Junior Marshals. They are able to be involved in the student government through Executive Council, Student Affairs, or SSBAG. They are able to liven school spirit and extracurricular activities by belonging to Pep Board, GYC, and YRC. Enriching literary knowledge is available if a person belongs to such staffs as Whirligig, High Life, or In Full Flight. There are organizations that honor student's scholastic ability by being selected into Torchlight or Quill and Scroll. Students are able to widen their cultural experiences by participating in the French or Spanish Club.

According to the interests of students, organizations change. Organizations some have been discontinued, and some new ones formed, however some are essentailly the same.

There are several organizations that have continued during the 50 years of this school, but during their existence changes were made. During 1968 High Life was published weekly. "Homespun," a literary magazine was published by Quill and Scroll.

There have always been organizations at Grimsley, and though the students have changed ideas, the activities they enjoy are basically the same.

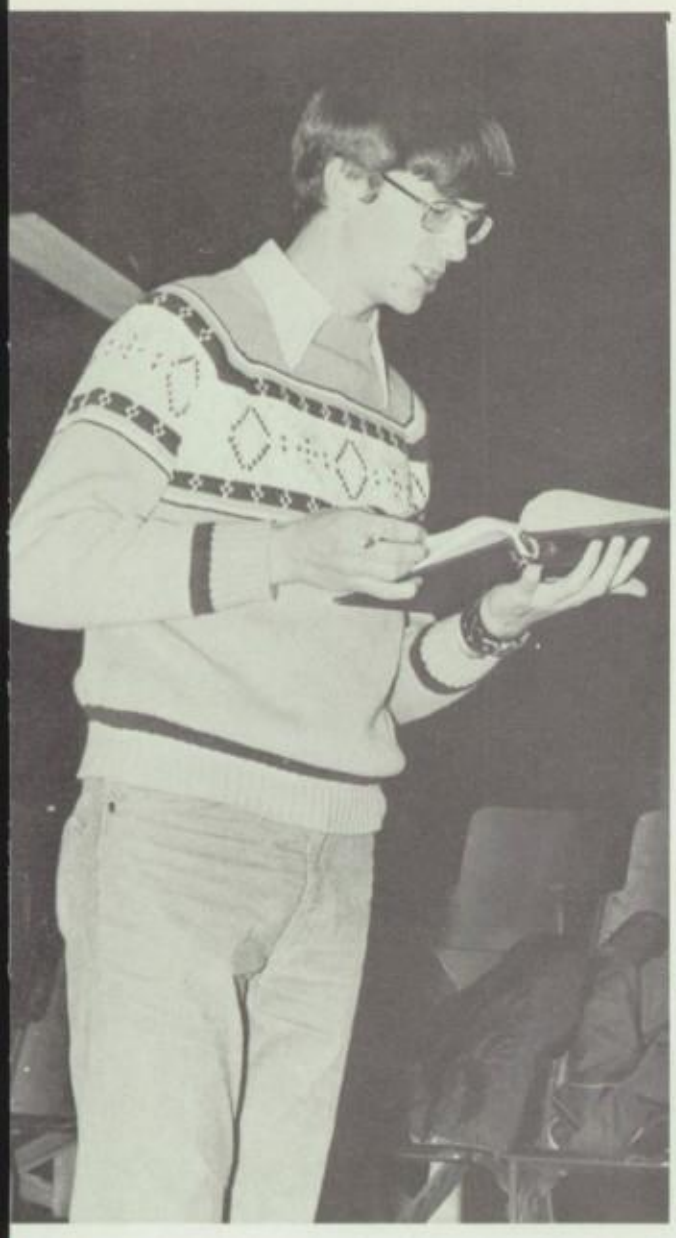
Playmasters and Puppetmania Keep Going

Break Time — Brad Wheeler rests during scenery change.

Playmasters Formal — On Floor — Mr. Zaruba, First Row — Ershler, Pratto, Routh, Vanslow, Leeds, Evans, Seipak, Sawyer, Siepak, Second Row — Wheeler, Johnson, Hilderbrandt, Baker, Zschiesche, Bartis, Stacy, Roulhac, Matlock, Whichard, Luper, Third Row — Pratto, Spencer, Lowell, Witherspoon, D. Watts, Pratto, J. Watts.

Puppetmaina Formal — Luper, Lentz, Lowell.

Surprise, Surprise — "You mean I really have to say that?" thinks Pam Ershler.



Playmasters and Puppetmania have undergone several changes this year. An advisory change occurred, making Mr. Richard Zaruba the new advisor.

Since the main core of the drama department was switched to the Weaver Education Center, Playmasters presented most of the plays there along with other high schools.

In spring Playmasters presented "The American Dream" at the Carolina Dramatic Association Festival. Other plays performed were "Welcome to the Monkey House" and "Tea House of the August Moon."

There hasn't been much talk about Puppetmania lately, but it surely has been active. These talented members may be seen at birthday parties, churches, and elementary schools. They also performed at commercials at the Weaver Education Center.

The members produce the puppets and write the scripts by themselves. As one can see by the appearance of the puppet shows, a lot of time, creativity, and plenty of effort is put forth in producing these shows.

Audiences Entertained by Excellence of Symphony Band

Under the direction of Mr. Sampson the Symphony Band is kept in the realm of excellence. Only the most talented musicians in the school are in this band. They are selected through auditions.

Various performances include joint concerts with other groups in the music department. They perform to civic organizations throughout the community. Band members enrich their musical abilities by attending camps and clinics. The All-State Band tryout is the highlight of the Symphony Band school year. Students from throughout the state compete for a place within this musical group.

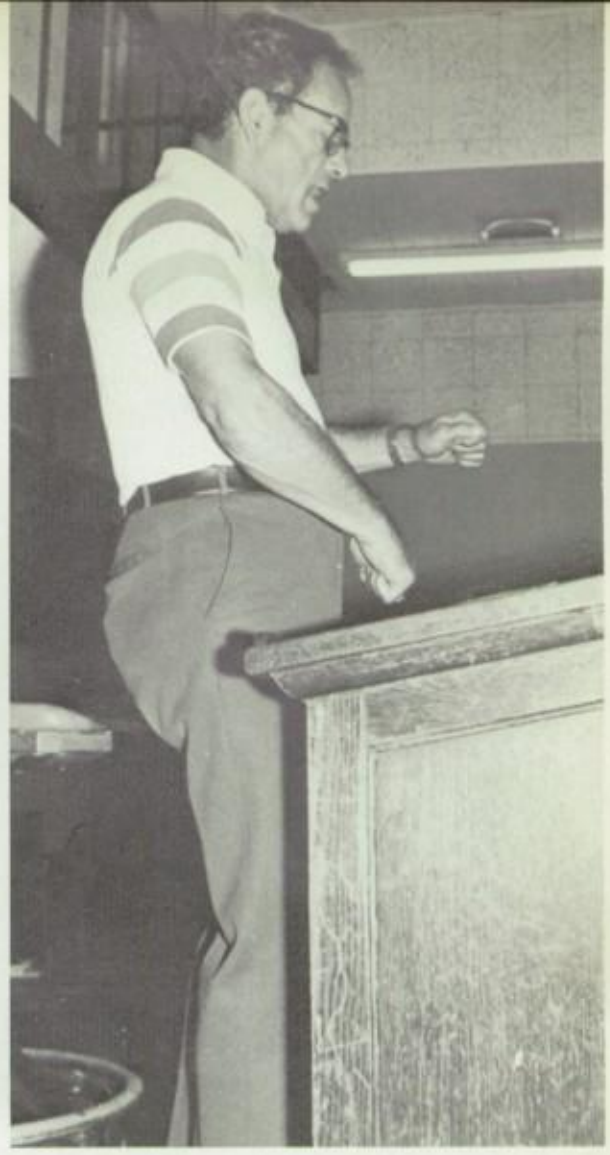
Slide It! Jerry Cheek, Clark Goodman, and Jim Dailey add to the flowing music by playing slide trombones.

Duet Time. Alan Hartgrove and Brian Simpson blend the sounds of their saxophones.

Picture Time. Jack Williams knows his part well enough to leave the music and pose for a picture.

Symphony Band. Members perform at Holiday Concert.

Keeping Together. Mr. Sampson directs Symphony Band.



Deep Breaths. Carl Winfield makes the tuba produce mellow sounds.

Clarinettes Please! Row of clarinette players practice their part together.

Stage and Concert Bands Keep In Realm of Excellence.

The Stage Band at Grimsley has been known for its excellence over the past years. Under the direction of Mr. Ken Sampson, this group played for many community functions. Bass, organ, and guitar players provide this band with the extra instrumentation for a truly superb jazz band.

Another group, the Concert Band, performs a large variety of music throughout the year. Because of the fewer number of players, much individual help is available, thus improving the quality of the performers.

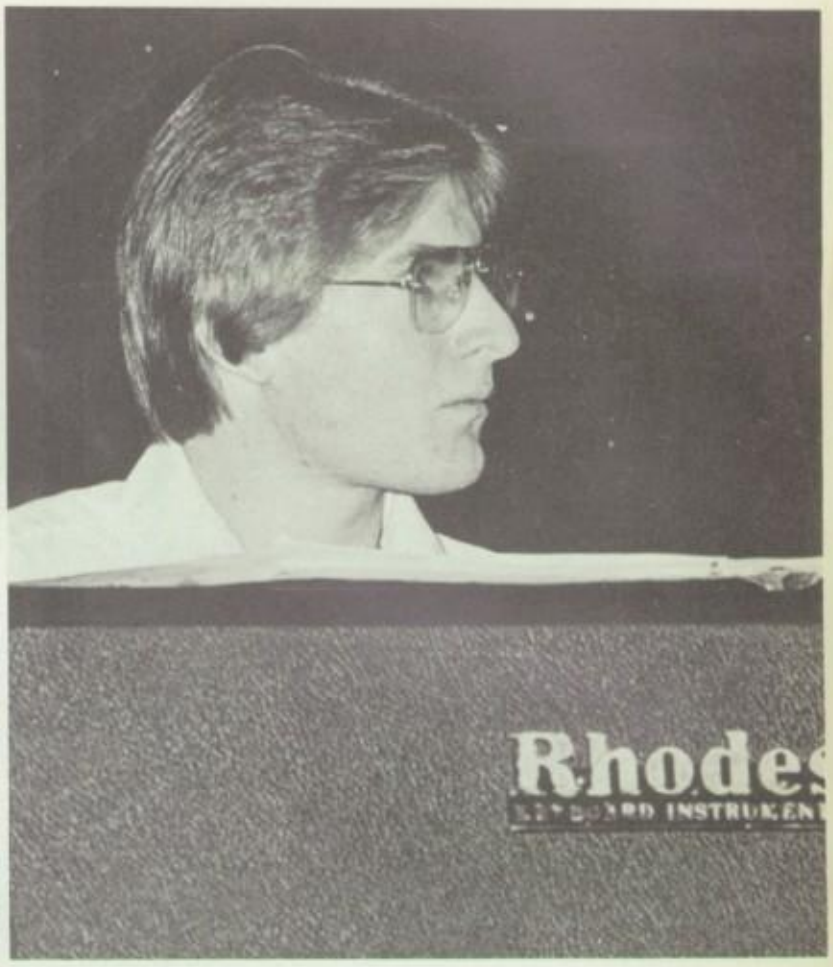
The Beat. Harry Shipman keeps the beat rolling during the opening number.

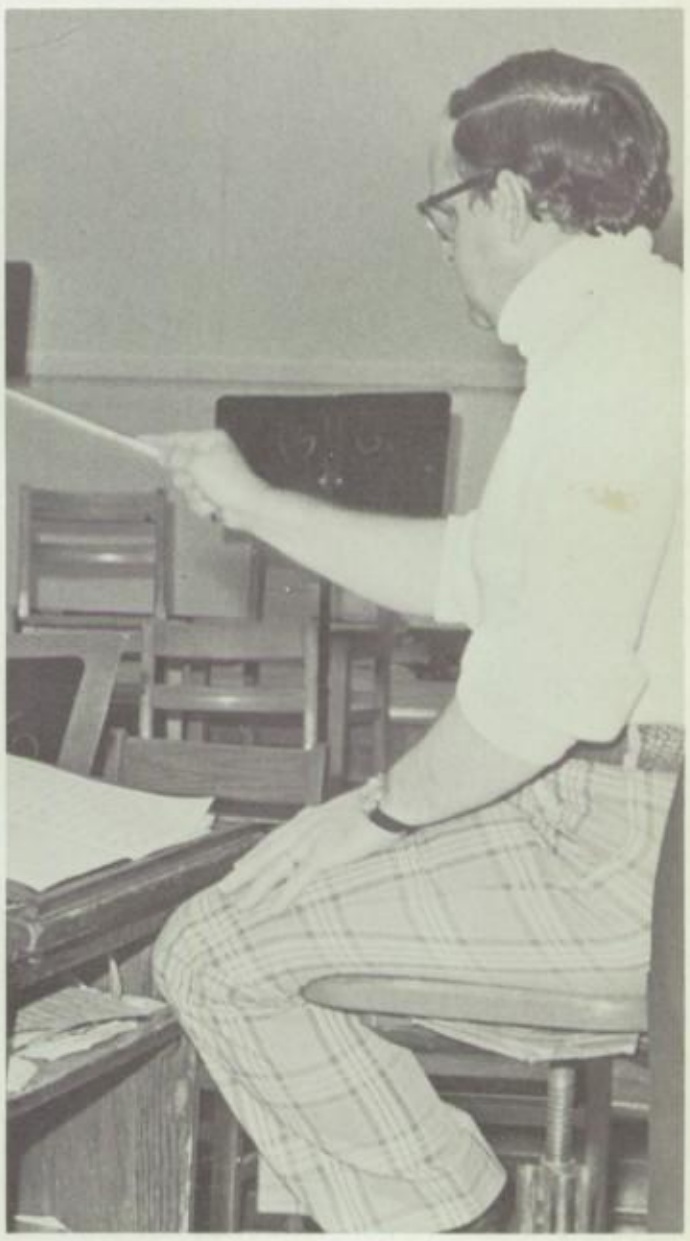
Keeping Time. — Mr. Rooker conducts concert band students.

Jam Out! Steve Millikin listens to the music of Jay Wagmeister on the electric piano.

Three Trumpeteers. — Randy Barlow, Emil Heiny, and Darrell Hester blend their trumpeting talent during a concert.

Attentiveness Counts. — Robert Poovey waits for his cue.



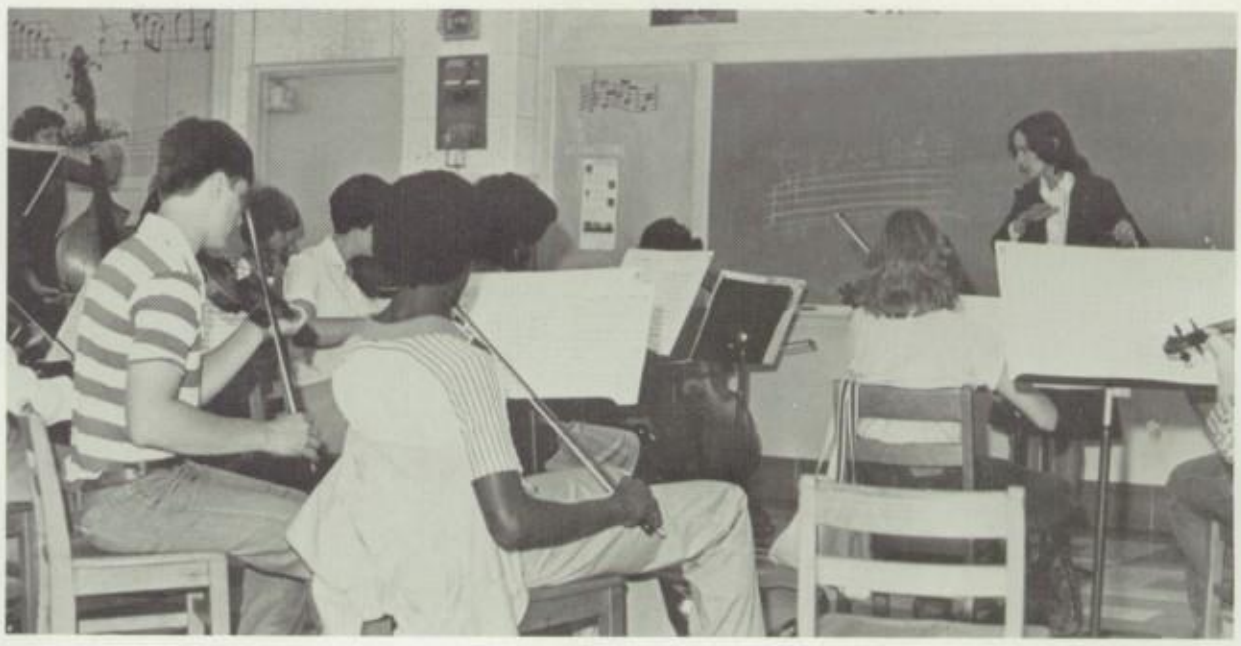


Concert Band. — Members entertain audience during the Holiday Concert.

Practicing, Practicing. — Bob Johnson practices before a big concert to be sure it's just right.

50th Anniversary Concert Highlights Orchestra

Low Tones. Peter Hildebrant and Everet Diggs are the bass of the orchestra.



Magical Change. It takes a keen eye to change notes into music.

Orchestra Formal. First row — Simmons, DeCamp, Cashion, Moskovitz, Hassel, Second row — Mrs. Artley, Baker, Holloway, Abe, Rankin, Spear, Benfer, Mrs. Hammer, Third row — Benbow, Cox, Blount, Shoun, Gray, Lenz, Fourth row — Butenhoff, Diggs, Cooper, Hildebrandt, K. Cooper

Always Concentrate. Ann Gray knows that concentration is necessary to play a musical instrument.

The orchestra's main goal is to provide the best possible musical experience for its members. This includes various performances and lots of hard practice. The orchestra performs at various school and community activities which include the Senior Tea, the holiday concerts, and the highlighted 50th anniversary concert. This concert featured a guest conductor, Mr. Harriman, who taught orchestra here for several years. Under the guidance of Mrs. Artley, assisted by Ms. Hammer, the orchestra participated in competition for the All-State Orchestra and the N.C. Governor's School, both of which are high honors and enrich one's musical background.

Beautiful Music. Chris Lenz practices diligently for an upcoming concert.

Singing Director. Mrs. Hammer sings joyously along as the orchestra plays.

Reaching Perfection. Glenn Cashion and John Cox demonstrate the proper method of playing the cello.

Madrigals and Choir Serenade Various Groups

Within the music department are three of the finest vocal groups. They are the Madrigals, the Girls Madrigals, and the choir. This branch of the music department provides the best possible choral experiences for the students involved. Any interested student is eligible to participate in these choral groups; however, an audition is required in order to join the Madrigals.

Each of these groups compete for special honors at the State Festival. For the first time in 7 years the Choir competed in Eden, North Carolina along with other high schools.

Madrigals sponsored car washes and bake sales to finance renaissance costumes and scenery. The Choir sold Whirlie license plates. The proceeds will go for music and fees to enter the State Festival.

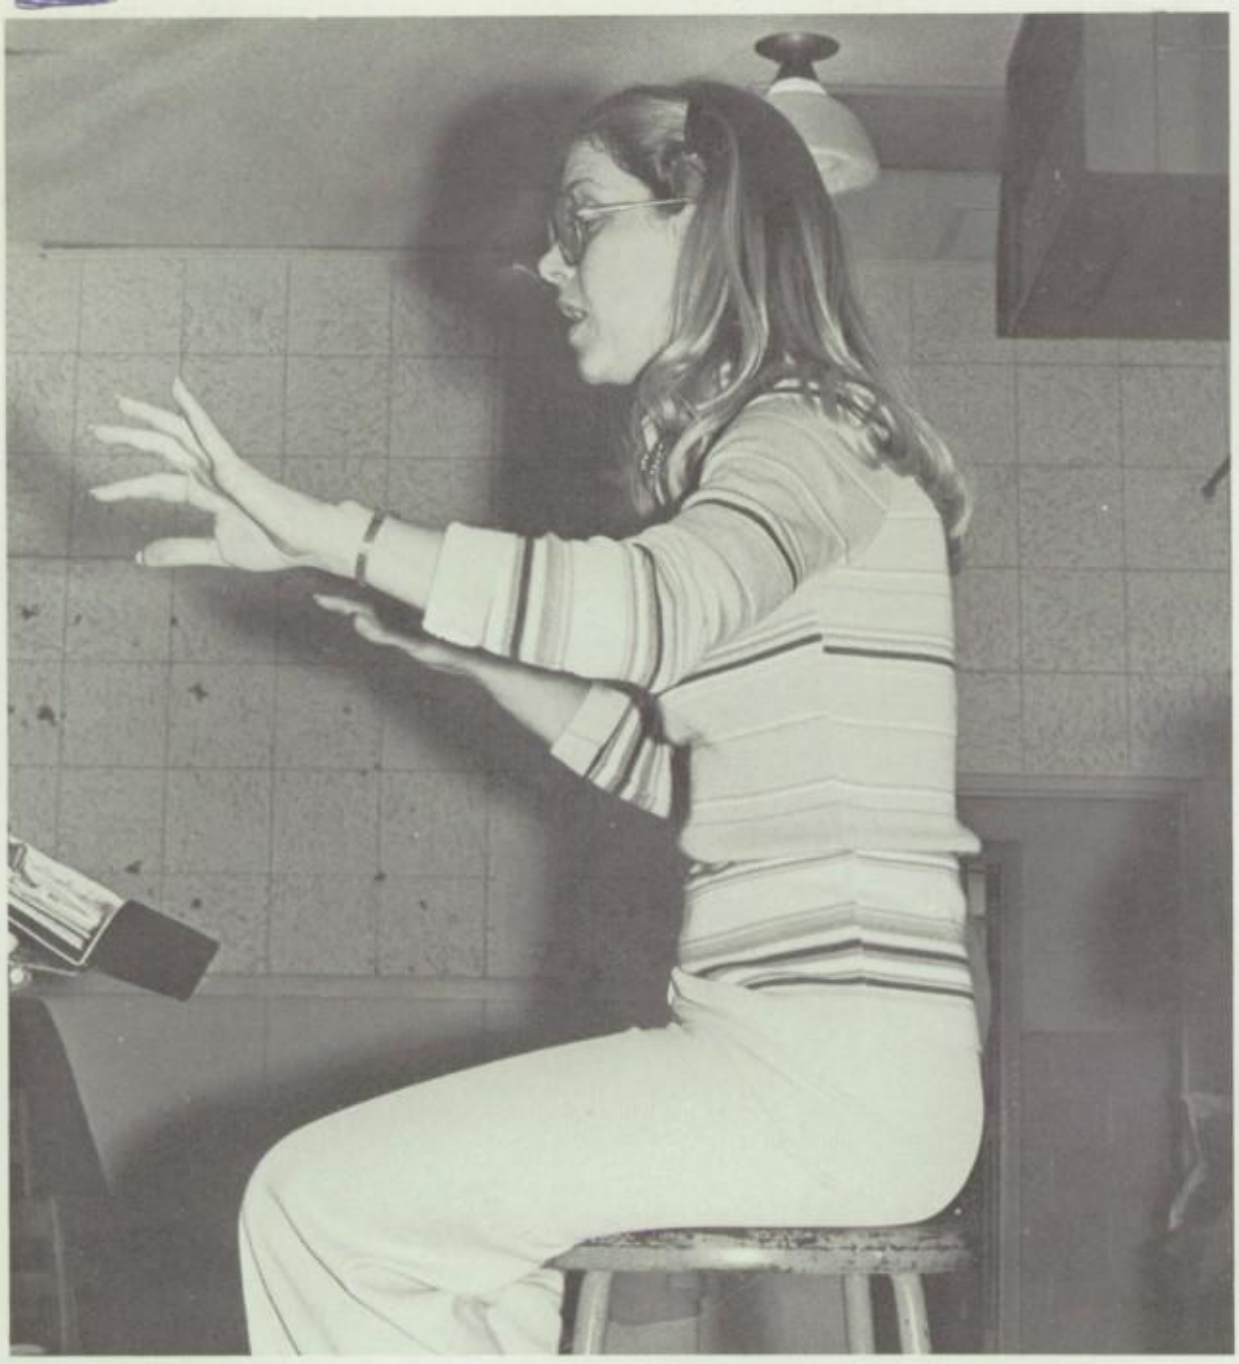
Sing Out. Ishmael Whitfield sings out during rehearsal.

Lovely Duet. — Barbara Harris and LeeAnne Carroll harmonize with a new song.

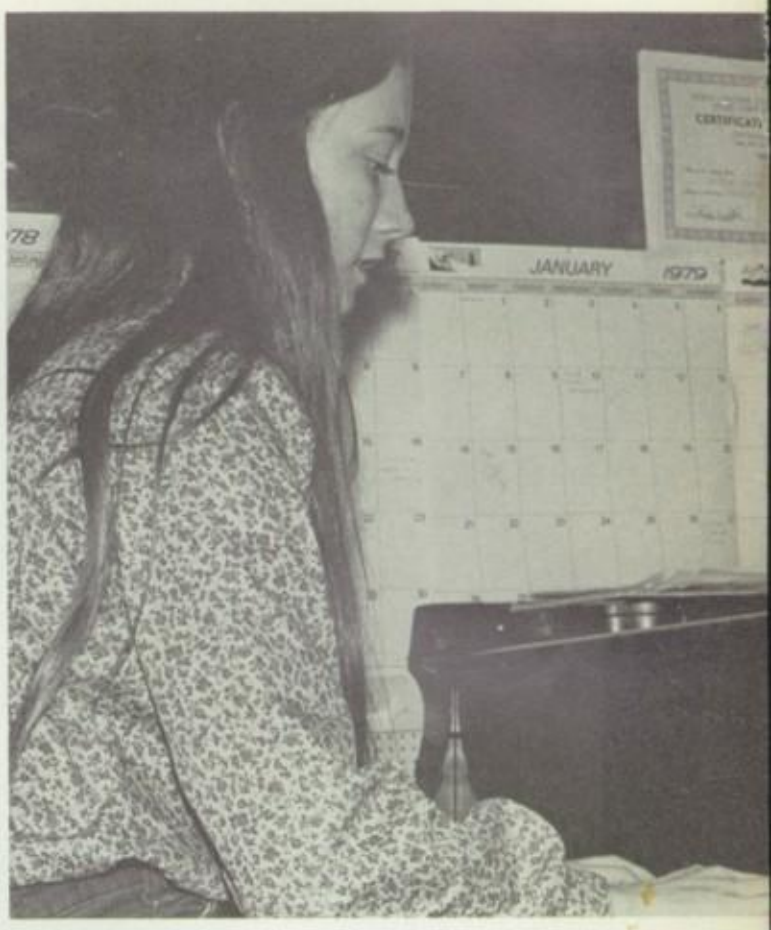
Madrigals. Seated: Westergaard, McCraken, McAdams, Michaels, Comer. Standing: James, Evans, Poulos, Oakes, Whitfield, Bartis, Byrd, Robinson, French, Morris, McGlamery, Evans.

Choir. First row: Boyd, Hall, Ellis, Rankin, Inman, Whitfield, Debnam, Harris, King, Stelmack. Second row: Allred, Lutz, McSwain, Skolnick, James, Wilson, Barker, Oakes, Shoffner, Franks, Rimmer, Carroll, Rohan, Achey, McGowen.

Altos Only! Ms. Force helps students rehearse parts.



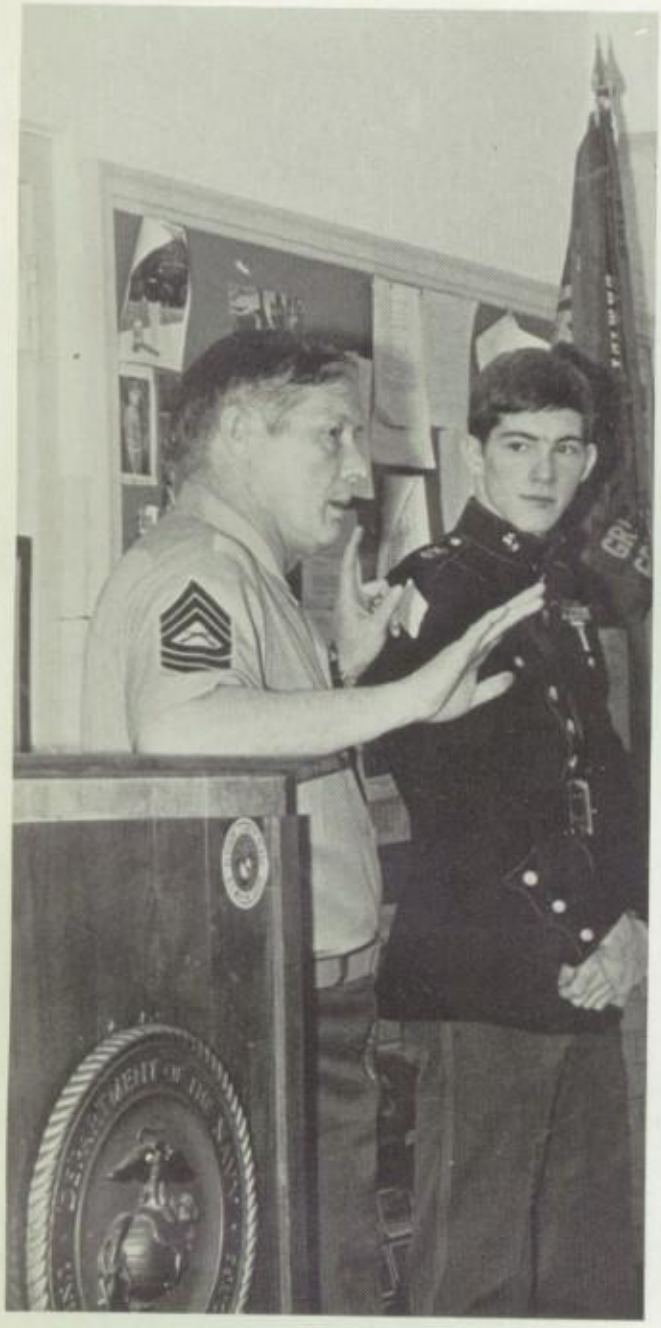
Piano Girl. Valerie Ward practices the choir's newest piece.



Awaiting Cue — Allison Ellis awaits direction during choir rehearsal.

Girls Madrigals — First row: Rankin, Schoolfield, Brown, Hutts, Alston, Hudson, Henick. Second row: Poulos, Austin, Hardin, Walton, Achey, Tate, Evans.

Important Lecture. Ed Graves listens attentively as Sergeant Hale explains the demerit system.



Be Prepared. ROTC members are ready for inspection.

Waiting Around. Lynn Blackmon waits in line to pick up her candy to sell.

Prize Possession. The high quality of ROTC is shown by the numerous awards and trophies received throughout the years.

Despite Interest Loss ROTC Marches On

Leadership and discipline are the key words in ROTC. ROTC — Marine Corps Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps — is a very contributing organization to this school. However, to many people ROTC is unknown.

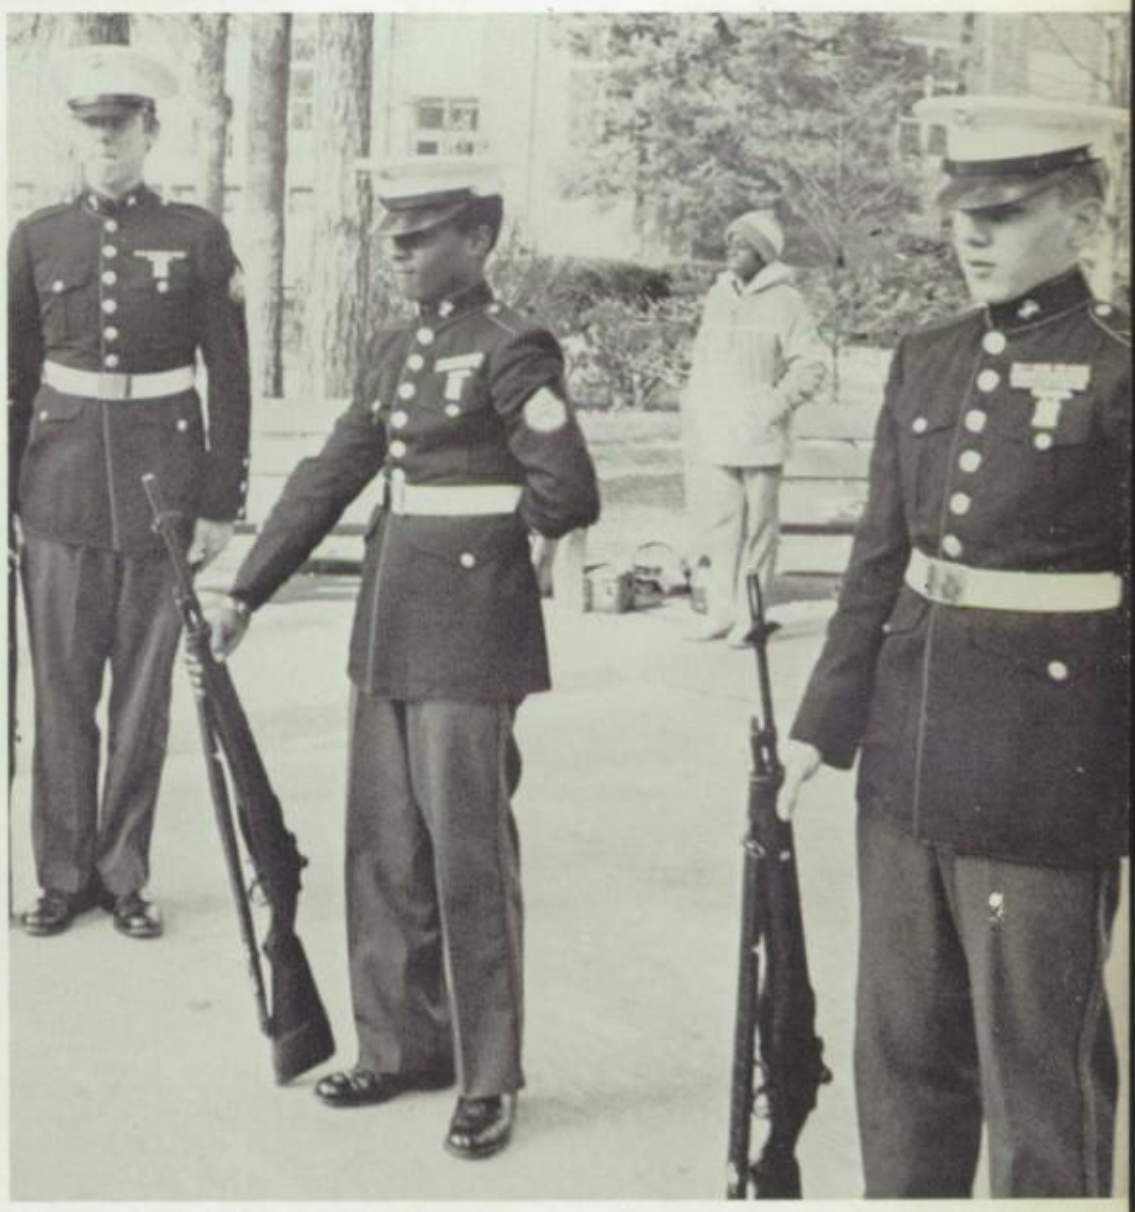
Beginning at 7:30 each morning, one may see a ROTC drill team member practicing. This hard work is a necessity, because they often compete throughout the eastern United States.

ROTC members may also be seen in front of the school putting up or taking down the flag, as doorguards at basketball games, or marching at basketball or football games during halftime.

They have several money making projects. They sold cosmetics, candy bars, and athletic programs at winter sports events. This money is used for drill competition.

Straight Face. Ann Highfill and Linda Hall have seriousness in mind as they get inspected.

Standing Tall. Daryll Stewart is all squared away.



In Blues. Drill team practices routine in order to reach perfection.

Student Assistants Render Aid to Administration

Student assistants serve in various places around the school, including the guidance office, media center, Dean's office, main office, and school store. These volunteers give up their study hall or homeroom in order to aide the faculty.

The guidance assistants run errands for the counselors. They go to classrooms to give messages to teachers and get students who have made appointments.

In the media center, one can find assistants at the desk checking out books or getting magazines for students. They also straighten and shelve books.

The dean's office and main office assistant's chores vary. For instance, they take messages to students, alphabetize report cards, fill out absentee slips, and escort visitors around campus.

What would students do if there were no school store assistants? These dedicated aides arrive at school early in order to open the store and sell supplies to the English students who forgot that note cards were due or the Trig student who did not remember his straight edge.

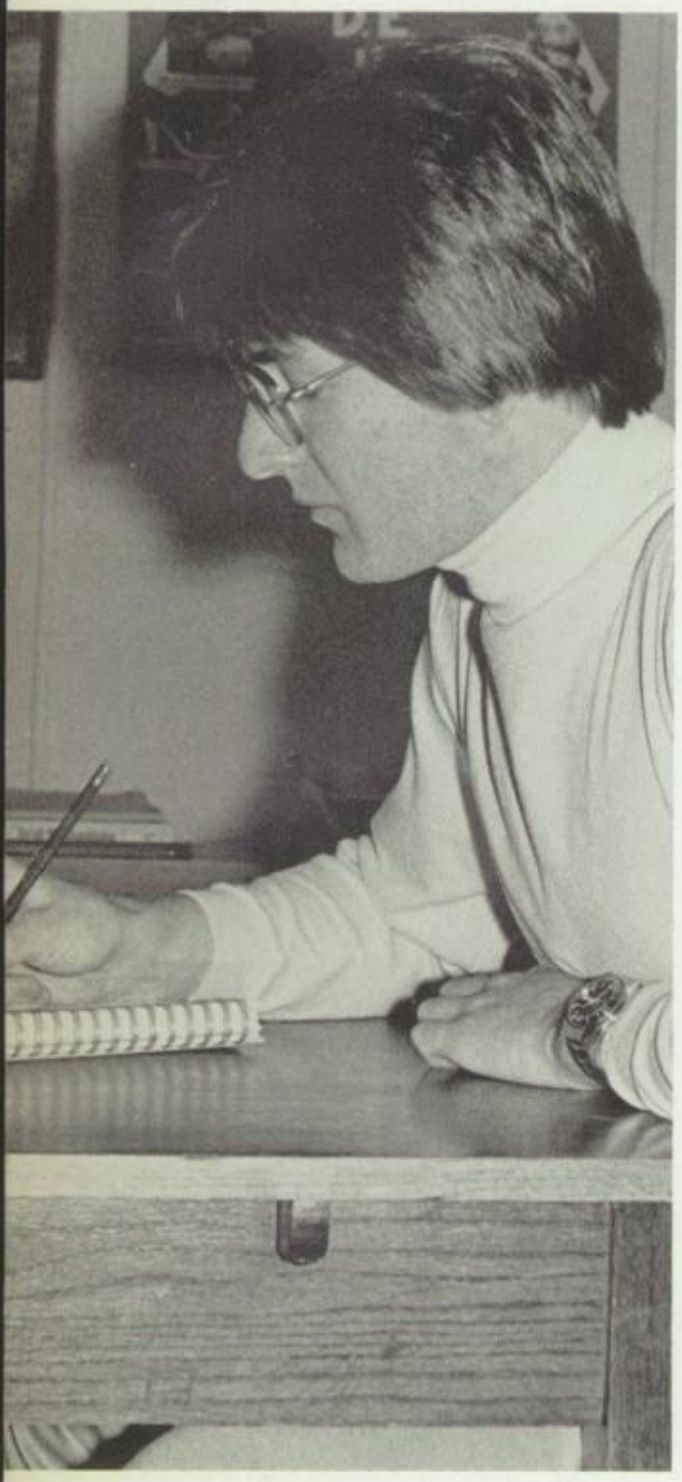
Student assistants are a great help to the faculty and staff, as well as to the student body. Without them, things would not run nearly as smooth as they do.

Main Office. Lillian, Johnson, Shue, Lanita, Worthy, Huffman, Caffey, Welker, Floyd.

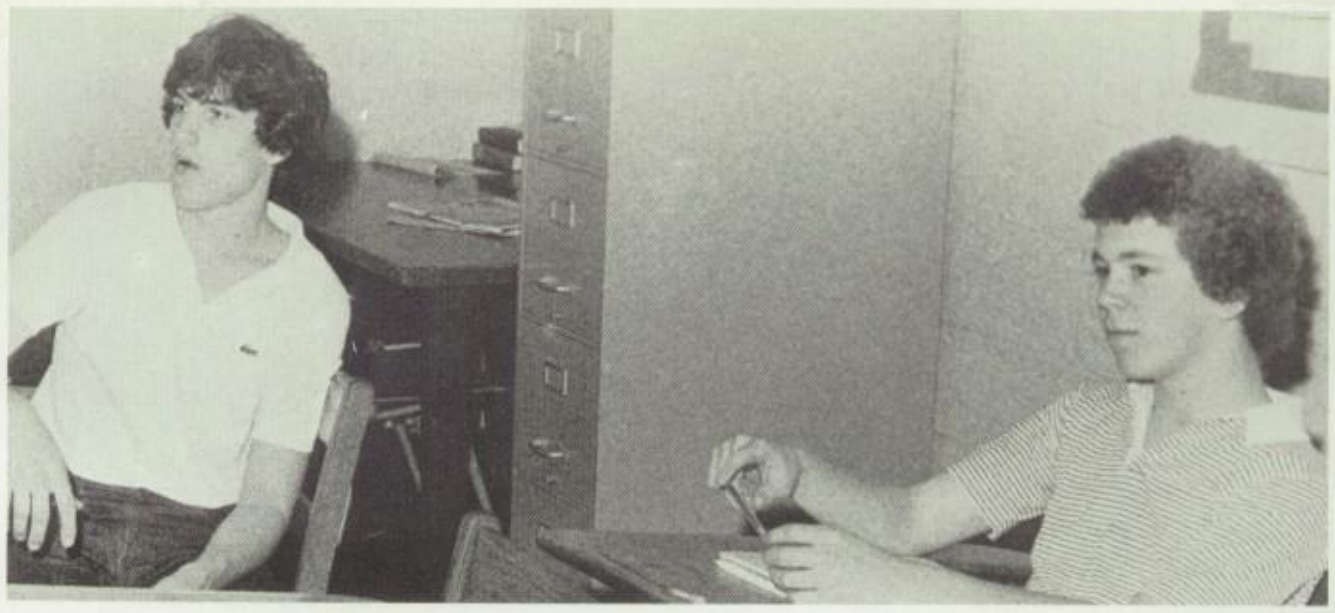
School Store. Mr. Whittemore, Wiggins, Hester, Matthews.

Library Assistants: Page, Adams, Cosby, Forde, Swann, Graham, Standing — Carpenter.

Torchlight and Quill and Scroll Honor Outstanding Students



Taking notes. Robert Poovey takes notes at a Torchlight meeting.



Learning Format. Quill and Scroll members Martin Miller and Joe Morris listen during journalism class.

Busy Advisor. Mrs. Manahan plans for the next Torchlight meeting.

Quill and Scroll. Pentz, Hughes, Collins, Miller, Morris, Dennis.

Dedicated Member. Pam Dennis earns her way into Quill and Scroll by serving on the yearbook staff.

The National Honor Society stresses knowledge as a primary quality of its members. However, non-members are often unclear as to the other qualifications of the N.H.S. chapter. Torchlight recognizes those students who exhibit exceptional potential as well as character, scholarship, leadership, and service to others.

Torchlight is more than a group of worthy students. Members participate in community activities such as the Halloween Flea Market and the GYC Carnival. The fund raising project was pecan sales during the holiday season. All of the money raised in such projects is used for scholarships.

Being inducted into the National Honor Society is a very high honor—an honor which is proudly displayed by wearing a white (instead of a blue) tassel on one's graduation cap, and a special seal on his diploma.

Quill and Scroll is also a very high honor. It is the Journalism Honor Society, advised by Mrs. Tanner and Mrs. Shockley. The members are invited to join after serving two semesters on either the Whirligig or High Life staff. Quill and Scroll members receive a small lapel pin and a subscription to the Quill and Scroll magazine.

Being Studious. Anna Poulos studies for a test during lunch.

Skill and Patience Part of Busdriver's Routine

Screaming kids, waking up before dawn, sweeping out the remainders of many hurried breakfasts, and picking up the forbidden cigarette smokers' evidence are only a few of the responsibilities of the student bus driver.

A bus driver must display driving skill and knowledge as well as patience. Skill is needed to transport elementary, junior high and senior high students to school and back, and the patience is needed to tolerate a screaming bus load of students, and keep from squeezing a particular obnoxious person in the door.

Each month when payday rolls around, all of the dreadful memories are forgotten and are replaced with a hefty bundle of cash to support the various activities of high school life.

GYC and YRC Sponsor School and City Wide Projects

The Greensboro Youth Council, founded in 1962, was the first youth-operated council in the United States, and is the largest council in the country. It sponsors city-wide projects involving recreation, entertainment, and communication programs, as well as youth involvement projects. Among the projects sponsored by GYC are the Mayor's Youth Conference, The Entertainer, High IQ Bowl, and Halloween Flea Market. GYC's biggest project of the year is the GYC Carnival, which raises over $15,000 for participating youth groups.

GYC consists of elected councilmen from each grade level as well as those who earned their council position working for GYC 30 hours in two months.

The Youth Recreation Council sponsors the social events of the school. This was the first year YRC was in charge of Homecoming. The main project was the "Twerp" dance. YRC, under the supervision of Bill Linton, also sponsors the Intramural Volleyball Program.

GYC Formal. Seated — Vernon, Welker, Rankin, Fleishman, B. Stelmack, Miller, Ferrell, Kneeling — Wells, Collins, Rheaume, Brown, Rothrock, Wiener, Wright, Standing — Henson, Robinson, Stelmack, White, Sanders, Kelley, Sillman, Allred, DeCamp, Brown, Hyman, Doles, Doles, Hovey, Herard, Butler

Right On! Juniors show spirit by participating in a pep rally cheer.

Pep Board is the backbone of our school spirit and motivation. Signs, banners, spirit days, pep rallies and various decorations are only a few of the activities that Pep Board sponors. Spirit days include Top 'em Day, Stuff 'em Day, Fifties Day, the traditional Blue and White Day plus more. The newest addition to spirit day scene was Toga Day.

Pep Board sponsors the week of spirit days before the Page game, and one of the special pep rallies was "The Funeral for a Pirate," presented before the Page football game.

The Executive Council has proven without a doubt to be one of the best in its 50th year history. One reason for this is the competitiveness of the individual classes. Keith Miller, Carol Essa, and Mike Barber constantly demand that their class is number one. Under the leadership of Mrs. Lackey, the Executive Council sponsors such activities as the TWIRP dance and many other activities.

The council has been recognized for outstanding accomplishments in a nationally published magazine.

Student Affairs is the foundation of most of the school's community involvement. For example, this organization is involved with sponsoring Student Exchange Day. Student Affairs participated in the Halloween Flea Market. It's usual but widely acclaimed deeds are collecting canned goods at Thanksgiving and singing at the Wesley Long Hospital.

Listen Up! — Student Affairs members listen to instructions on the Thanksgiving Project.

SSBAG's Get Set Program Success

The Student School Board Action Group (SSBAG) provides communication between the Greensboro School Board and area high school students. The main topic of the meetings are the concerns and opinions of students on school related issues. The monthly meeting place of the group varied between the Administration Building and the four high schools. Composed of Rod Elkins, Harlan Frye, Bill Linton, Gerri Ratliff, Keith Staton, and Jenny Wood SSBAG's main accomplishment was GET SET. Throughout this program, students were exposed to prominent speakers in fields of scholastic interest.

FHA Members Prepare for Future

The Future Homemakers of America (FHA) is a home economics related organization, now in its second year after its fading out here 5 years ago. Among its objectives are strengthening the family as a basic unit, encouraging the cooperation between the home and community, developing interest in Home Economics careers, and developing awareness of the multiple roles of adults today. The only requirement of members is that they take a home economics course. Through the guidance of Mrs. Sigmon, the FHA participates in school improvement projects and, being affiliated with the national and state wide organization, supports the March of Dimes. The group's monthly meetings consist of various speakers and activities which include the preparing of a buffet

FHA Formal: First row — Gibson, Welborn, Cohen, West, Michaud, Gibson, Rembert, White, Foushee, Hill, Griffin, Second row — Chambers, Yablecki, Horner, Meadows, B. Prizes Incentive for In Full Flight Contributors

". . . In full flight; in full flight. The mother drinks the water of the pond. She skims across. Her baby hangs on tight . . . "

The literary magazine In Full Flight gets its title from the excert above from Randall Jarrell's poem "Bats". Inspired to keep in full flight; its staff, advised by Mr. Richard Smith and co-edited by Stephanie Bartis and Beverly Leary, works diligently to make it the best ever. In its third year, In Full Flight advertises for students to enter poetry, prose and art work. A committee from the magazines' staff reviews each entry and chooses the best entries to be published. As incentive for students to contribute work, a 10 dollar prize was offered. The magazine is supported by patrons within the school and throughout the community.

Junior Marshals Assist in Various School Events

Junior Marshals are chosen from each junior homeroom. There is a large obligation involved with this job, therefore each student is very dedicated. Junior Marshals participate in various activities within the school such as taking up tickets, ushering and seating guests at drama productions and orchestra and band concerts. These faithful students also serve at the graduation ceremonies. Junior Marshals are greatly appreciated by all.

High Life Survives Advisory Change

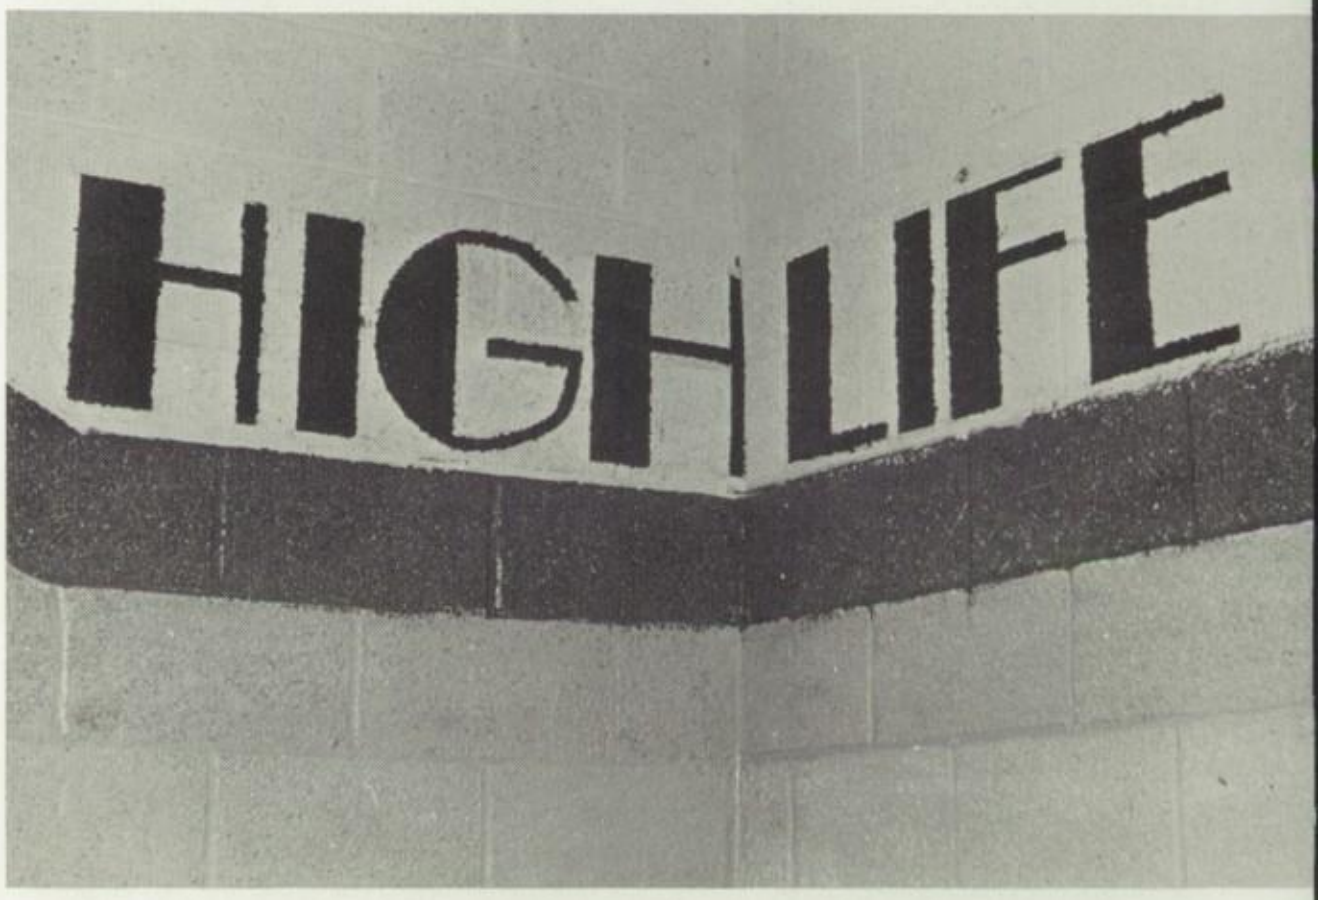
In spite of a midyear teaching change and reorganization, the High Life staff continued to uphold its long-standing tradition of excellence in journalism.

This year's first three issues of the newspaper were published under the guidance of Ms. Kathi Sroog. During this first nine weeks, the High Life staff showed a tendency to do most of its work under pressure; some of the writers even seemed to enjoy rushing through last minute articles. But miraculously, each issue was distributed on time (or almost on time), and all of the blank spaces were filled with copy! !

A November teaching change put Ms. Lynn Tanner at the helm of the newspaper staff. The transition was smooth: with organization being the new byword for the staff.

The successful year for High Life began under the capable leadership of Editor Lisa McDowell. Lisa did everything from making trips to the printer in High Point to speaking her mind with hard hitting editorials. But when she graduated in January, Joe Morris and Jackie Scism assumed the staff's key offices of Editor-in-Chief and Managing Editor.

Anna Poulos, Sara Gramley, Martin Miller, Keith Staton, and Anthony Beard also held important staff positions. But, as is the case for all newspapers, reporters formed the backbone of High Life. The students on the High Life staff, many of whom are genuinely interested in journalism as a career, put forth their best cooperative effort to make Grimsley's newspaper informative, accurate, and entertaining. The staff succeeded in retaining High Life's traditional position as one of the state's finest high school publications.



Paper Work. Lisa McDowell finds that the life of a newspaper editor is real paper work, in more ways than one.

Making Sure. Ginger Branton spot checks proofs for errors to maintain the high quality of the newspaper.

Always Busy — Jackie Scism finds that writing copy is only one of the many responsibilities of being on the newspaper staff.

Whirligig Blends Yesterday and Today for Tomorrow

Jon: "I refuse to write this baseball copy unless you let me put the word 'DRUBBING' in."

Susan S.: "So what if we don't get permission to use the Greensboro Daily New's pictures, we really won't get sued, . . . will we?"

Susan R.: "What do you mean I can't have another doughnut? I've only had 10!"

Kathy K.: "All of the candids for the yearbook are gone! Do you think anybody will notice? By the way — FREAKOUT!"

Kathy C.: "What? All of the junior retake pictures have to be in the yearbook?"

Martha H.: "How am I supposed to crop pictures without the pictures?"

Carol P.: "There will be no pyramid formals in my section!

Keith M.: "Oh yeah, I'll take that picture next week."

Mary S.: "I can't type copy now, I'm writing to Sylvia."

Barbara H.: "How do you spell Whirligig?"

Debbie C.: "Peter will you write copy or something?"

Robin B.: "This is called a shutter and this is called a battery."

Mary C.: "Does my hair look alright?"

Peter H.: "I'll take it to the office."

Pam D.: "We're $3.00 short again."

Jeff K.: "Then you write it yourself Kathy."

Ed C.: "I took all of those pictures. But I didn't use a flash. The film was scratchy, and I dropped my camera in the mud."

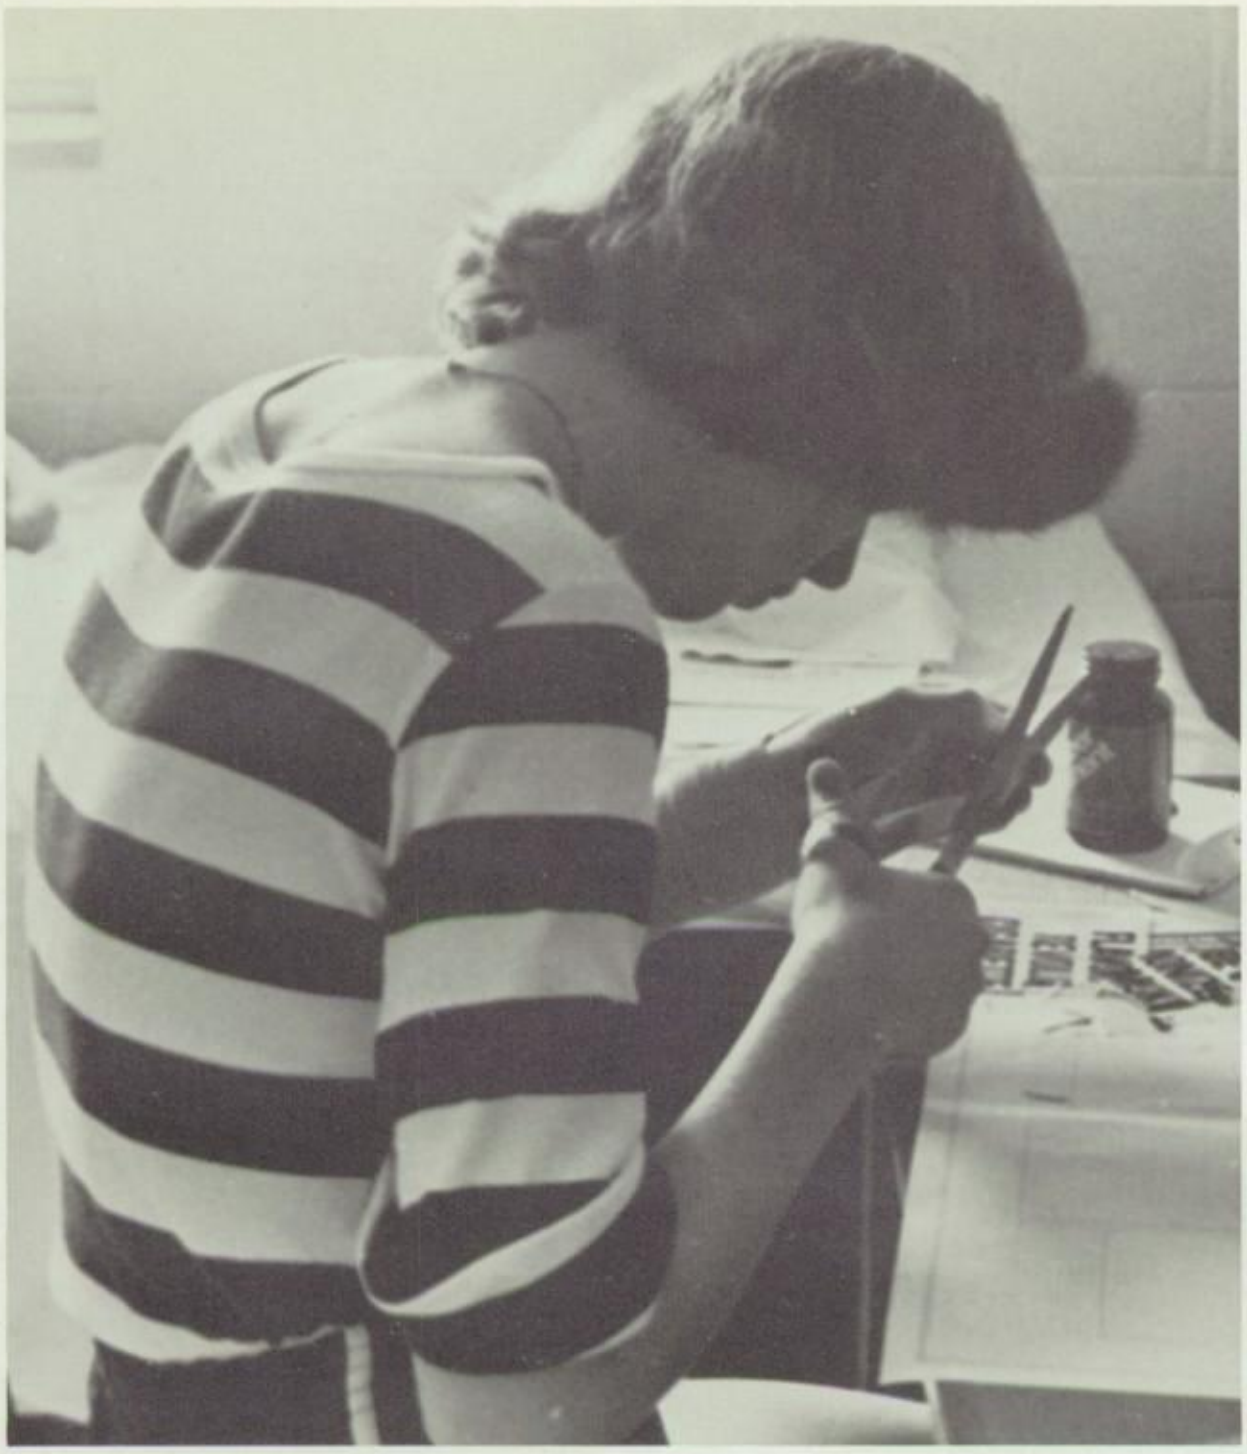
Mrs. Shockley: "OK, Let's get busy."

Mrs. Chapman: "Get back in this room unless everyone of you wants to go to the office!!"

These are only a few of the cries heard from room 861. The Whirligig class is probably the loudest class on campus from 2:37 (2:45 for slow staffers) to 3:30. Yearbook may sound like a crip course to some. But no, to those on staff that know that it is a working class . . . most of the time. Among the duties of a yearbook staff member includes maintaining a section, selling yearbooks in the fall and spring and going to clinics at Longwood College and Elon College. Although at times the work is a hassle, at the end of May when the shining copy of Whirligig is distributed, satisfaction is almost guaranteed.

Problem Solvers — Yearbook advisors Ms. Shockley and Ms. Chapman ponder on the latest problem of the yearbook.

At Last! — Copy Editor Jeff Kirkman is surprised that all of the words in the faculty copy are spelled correctly.



Summer Fun — Kathy Kelley works on a layout at Longwood College proving that being editor of Whirligig is a year round job.

The athletic department of Grimsley has always had a fantastic girls sports program.

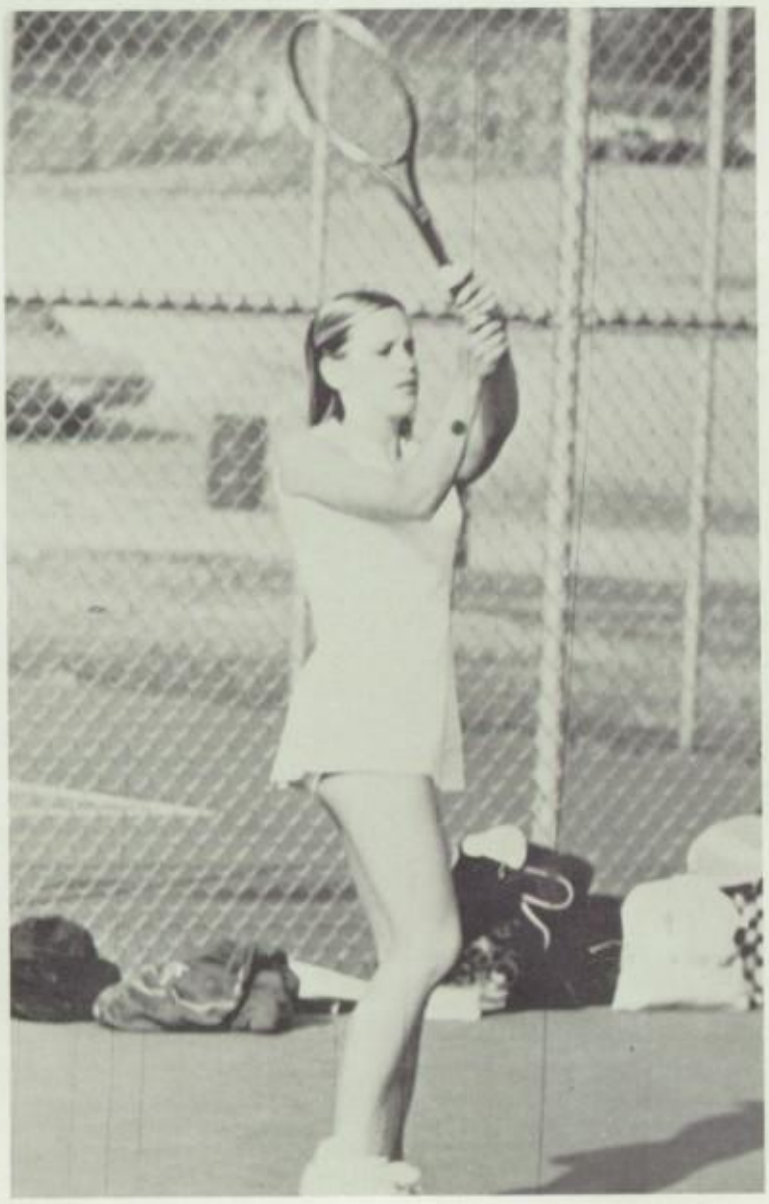
The school opened in 1929 offering girls a chance to participate on a girls basketball team. On this foundation was built tennis, swimming, soccer, volleyball, track, and basketball teams.

The tennis team of 1979 boasted its second consecutive conference championship and both the swimming and volleyball teams had great seasons.

The time in sports when girls were thought to be inferior to boys has long been overcome by Grimsley. The girls have conquered their share of foes in pursuit of conference championships.

Along with the boys, the girl athletes of Grimsley have made everyone "proud to be a Whirlie."

GIRLS SPORTS



Girl's Track runs to a good season

To certain individuals, track may seem like a boring sport, but try telling that to a team member that practices hours each day. Around the track these people run not going anywhere except back where they began. The outcome was rewarding when the team placed 3rd in both the County Championship Meet, and District 7 Conference.

Mollie Berry claimed 3 firsts this season, while Martha Alspaugh held one first. Other members of the team which aided in the final tallies were: Martha Alspaugh, Julie Bales, Mollie Berry, Susan Flannagan, Suzanne Forrester, Dana Forsythe, Tara French, Andrea Gantz, Carol Grolnick, Janice Hall, Cathy Jackson, Ann James, Kay Janke, Kim Jones, Kathy Krege, Dana Luper, Denise Metz, Louanne Simonton, and Betsy Walker.

Girl's Softball Swing into Action

For practice and playing this year the girls had to use the Latham Park field. This did not seem to effect their skill. They had a tremendous season with 14 wins and 4 losses. They tied for the District 7 Championship with Dudley, but lost in a 9 inning play off game with Dudley with a score of 1-0. The team, as a whole, had a good batting average. They achieved 161 runs during the season with Rita Barrett as the leading hitter.

The defense was excellent, but could you expect less than excellent with Nina Heard on 1st base, Julie Vernon on 2nd bas, and Rita Barrett on 3rd base. Barbara Polk in right field, Shell Spruill was in center field, and Teresa Arnold was in left field. Teri Miller was in short field along with the pitcher Terri Wallace and Kris Gross as short stop. In the last 4 games the defense gave up only 4 runs.

Other players that aided the team were:

Lisa Milligan
Jeanette Williams
Sharon Sherry
Linda Rizzo
Bonnie Dalton
Pam Rice

Under the coaching and leadership of coach Phil Weaver and Assistant coach Eddie Jones, the team, as usual, had a fantastic season.

First Girl's Soccer City Champs

The girls sports arena had a new addition this year—a girl's varsity soccer team. Even though this was their first year, these girls showed that they had the same competitive ability as do all Whirlies. The final team consisted of 22 girls who were chosen as the best of the 40 girls who had tried out.

Kelly Haines proved her worth to the team by being chosen the most valuable player. Headed by the captains Jackie Barrier and Ann Bemus, the team defeated Page in the final game to claim the city title. The girls achieved an excellent record of nine wins, two losses, and one tie and can be accredited with a very successful season.

Spike To Victory

Comprised of 2 of last year's starters, and 8 other returning State Champions; who could expect less than a great season? The volleyball team finished 2nd in District 7, and had a superior record of 11-2. Both losses were to Dudley, who edged them out of first place in the District. The Panthers were the only team able to out match the spirit, skill, and enthusiasm the Whirlies had.

The team, as a whole, had a tremendous offense. Most of the players perfected the skills they already had at summer camp. They learned the 3 hit offense attack that made it difficult for the other teams to return the ball.

Next year, the team will be composed of its present members; this will prove to be a major asset.

Girl's Tennis Team Volleys to Victory

The girls' tennis team got off to a slow start. The loss of the first three matches was upsetting, but the experience gained was worthwhile as the Whirlies won the rest of their matches and went on to win the Division 7 Championship, once again.

The team was composed of 40 young ladies. The top three positions were played by Joanne Engle, Pamela Newell, and Kelley Ferrell. All of the girls were not able to play in matches but they practiced with their teammates and gained valuable experience.

Joanne Engle showed her rocket skill by qualifying for the Regional Tournament and then progressed to the State Tournament where she was defeated in the first round by a tough competitor.

With coach Lynda Tamblyn and managers, Carol Palmer and Ellen McAdams, the team had a season worth repeating.

Despite Season, Lady Whirlies have Good Attitude

The girls Varsity Basketball Team was a complete changeover from last year. As the girls graduated last year they lost many hopes for the height and experience they needed for this year, but they survived.

On this year's basketball team there were many advantages as well as disadvantages. They did not have a tremendous amount of height or experience; but that gave the girls all the more incentive to work together as a team; they learned together.

Though they had a rough time there were many accomplishments. The girls were quick and the majority of this quickness was attributed to Senior Kris Gross and Sophomores Sandra Smith and Sherri Phillips. These girls accounted for excessive quickness on defense as well as working together for a good shot on offense.

As the season went on, the skills improved. The girls worked very hard this year with one particular goal in mind — to win. And this goal was reached in many different aspects other than their record. They learned to depend on each other, to work together-winning and losing together.

Next year's team lends a lot of excitement. Returning will be Juniors Onelia Davis, Debra Moore, Sherri Phillips, Kristen Schoolfield, and Sandra Smith. Also returning are Seniors Susan Flanigan and Tara French. With this experience and the coaching of Ms. Tamblyn, the girls basketball team should have a successful season.

Cheerleaders cheer teams on to victory.

"Jam, Whirlies, Jam — Oh we can really dig it!" The cheerleaders began this cheer and as others joined in it was heard throughout the stadium. Caroline Bogarty, head cheerleader, and Sharon Sturdivant, assistant head cheerleader, lead their squad through a year filled with new cheers, stunts, and dances which added much to the squad's routine. These girls do more than lead school spirit. They must also be neat, well dressed, and show enthusiasum in everything they do. Much of the Whirlie spirit is owed to these girls and is greatly appreciated.

The J.V. cheerleaders give the sophomores reason to cheer with their smiling faces showing all around the school. Lead by June Ellis, with her assistant Elizabeth Abe, the girls demonstrated their gymnastic ability on and off the field. The only male cheerleader, Billy Witherspoon added depth to the stunts that could be performed. The sophomore squad has shown much creativity throughout the school year.

Important to Wrestlers

There is a certain group of girls that did not receive as much recognition as they should. These girls are called the Whirlettes and they stand behind and support the wrestlers. Some of the duties involved in being a Whirlette include handing out oranges, yelling at the top of their lungs and promoting "Whirlie spirit." Under the leadership of Chandra Mintz, and practicing twice a week, the girls show enthusiasm supporting the wrestlers.

Cheryl Mintz and Claudelle Rankin show pleasure in the outcome of the match.

When the swimming season is over and the swimmers look back and review all the training that they had been through, early morning practices at 6:30 seem worth while. This year the girl's swimming team, with captain Mary Atkinson, worked together to score an undefeated season. Under the superb direction of Coach Bob Sawyer these girls were also able to win the state championship for the second year in a row.

Despite the changes of the past 50 years, Grimsley's athletic department has been able to sustain its realm of excellency. Basketball, Football, Baseball, Golf, Track, and Cross Country, which were emphasized when the school opened in 1929, still play a major role in the athletic competition of 1979.

The addition of the swimming pool provided students with the facilities to make an outstanding swimming and diving team even better.

The soccer era also affected Grimsley by providing an interest for a soccer team.

Thus, Grimsley has reached its 50th anniversary with a football team which has been the division champion for two straight years, and a basketball team which is second in the state. Athletics, the sporting challenge, has made Grimsley Number One.

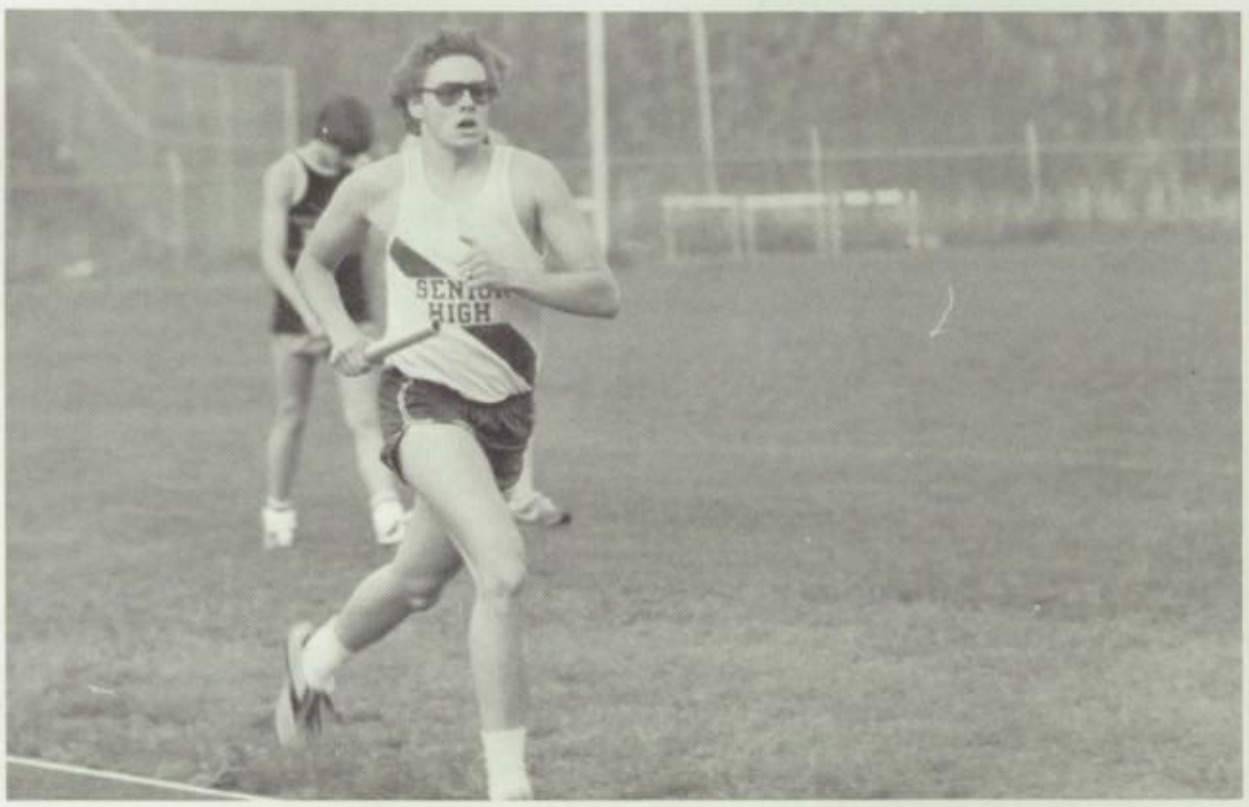
Track Team Strides Through Year



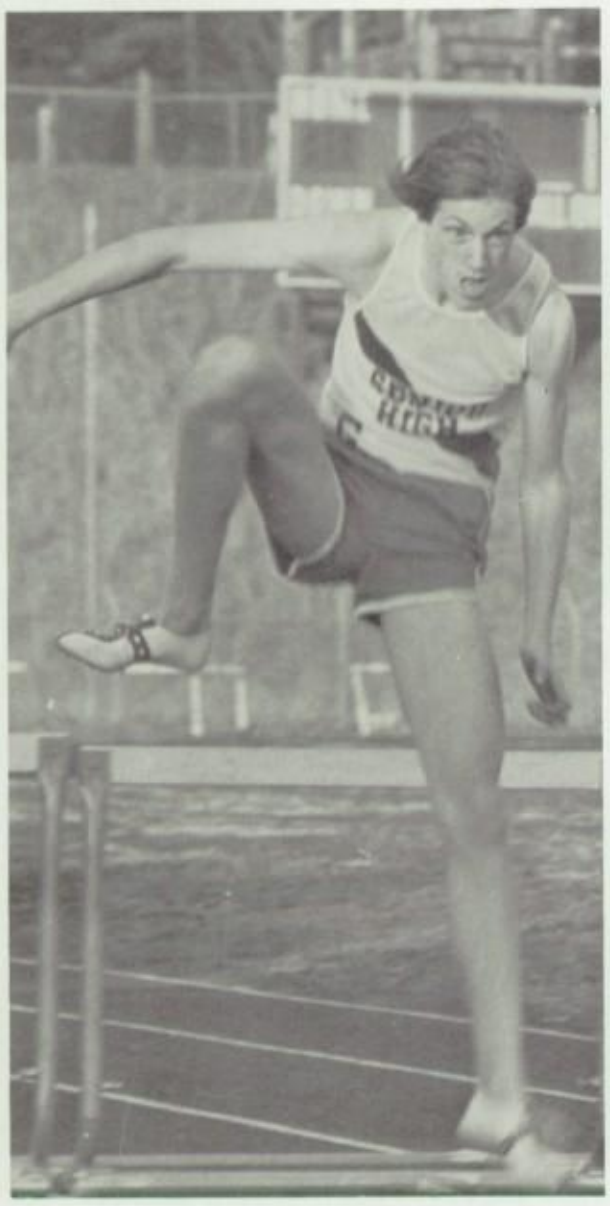
Mile Relay — The state meet mile relay team consisted of Dan Young, Jay Bennett, Stan MacAdoo, and Wes Whitaker.

Long Jump — Keith Dunnavant concentrates on his footing as he takes off.

Last Leg — Wes Whitaker strives to make it to the finish line.

Hurry Bill! Bill Linton has the look of winning determination throughout his relay.

High Hurtle — Curtis Fields portrays a unique style while jumping the hurtles.



Deep Concern — While running in the mile relay, Jay Bennett seemed very concerned about how the race would turn out.

The boy's 78 track team finished third in the conference. Although the team had a disappointing year, there were several bright spots for them. Leading the way was three year standout, Dan Morton. Morton won the state two mile run in record time (9:01). The mile relay team consisted of Dan Young, Jay Bennett, Wes Whitaker and Stan MacAdoo, who also competed in the state meet.

The teams only victory came in a dual meet win over conference member West Forsyth. The team also placed fourth in the Guilford County Championship meet.

Record Breaker — Dan Morton was the state champion in the 2-mile run. Dan had a record time of 9:01.

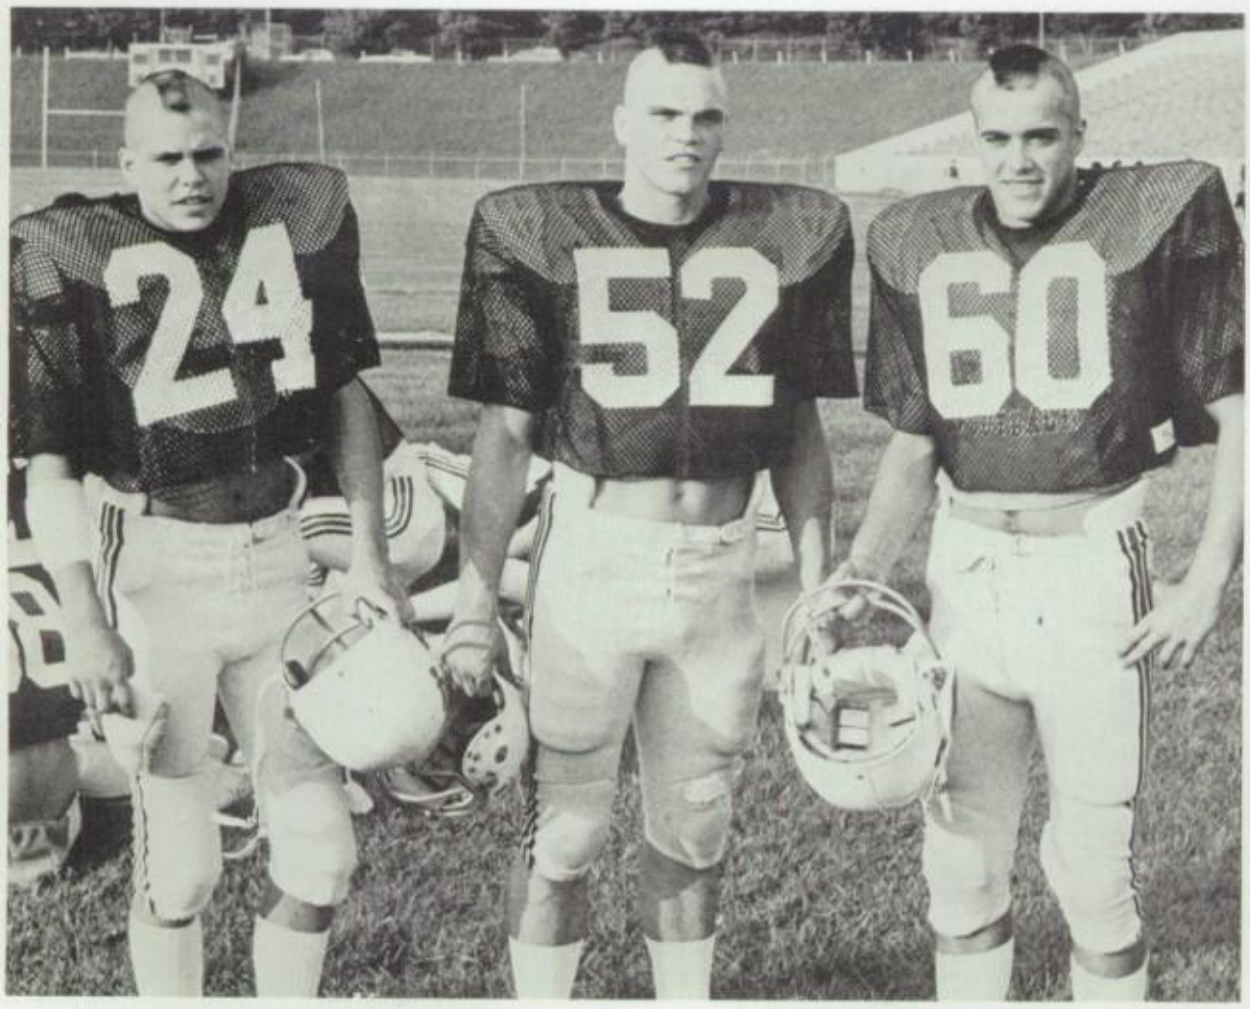
Once Again; Division Seven Champs

For the second consecutive year the varsity football team captured the conference championship and advanced to the State Playoffs, a mark of another successful season.

At the beginning of the season over seventy teams had a chance at winning the State Championship. The Whirlies made it down to the final eight, and demolished North Mecklenberg 28-0 in the first round of the state playoffs. In the second round they were defeated by the strong Winston-Salem Reynolds team.

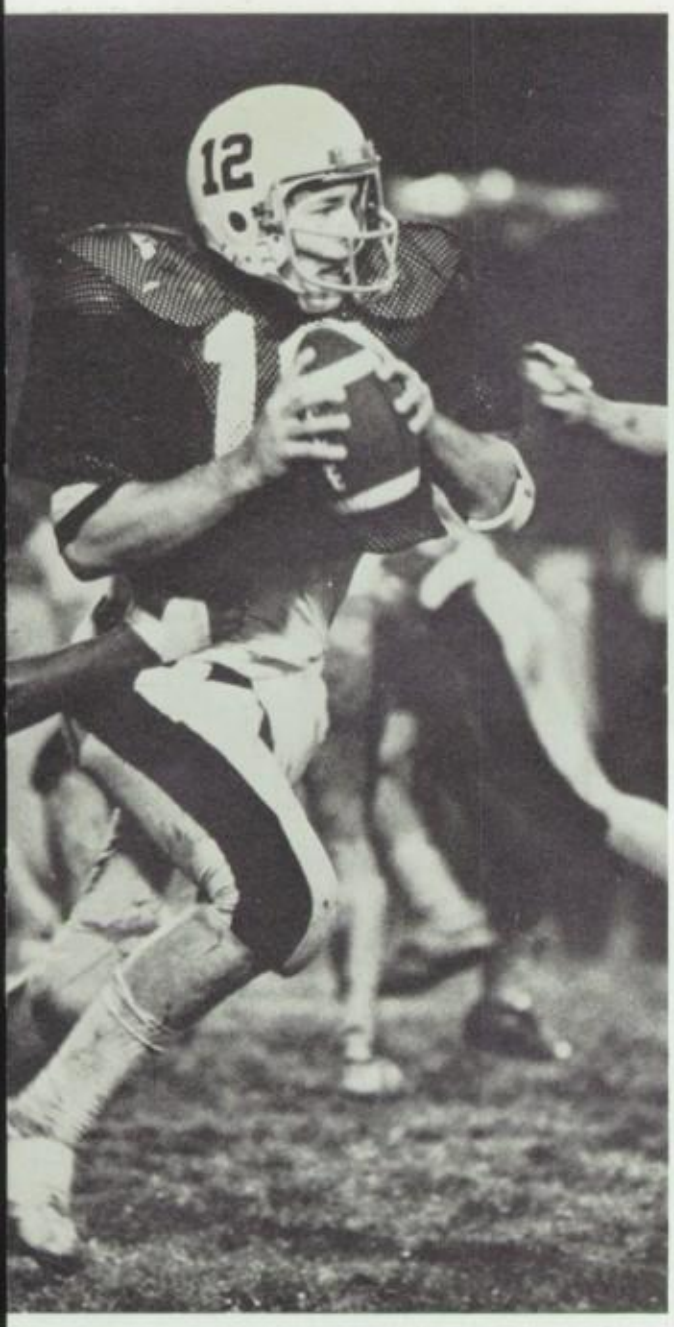
In addition to the teams accomplishments, several members of the team made all-conference honors. Rod Elkins, a senior quarterback, was named Division Seven offensive player of the year, and Bernie Grzeszaczak was named the defensive player of the year.



Three Musketeers — The "mohawk" seemed to be a very popular sight this season with Craig Bugbee, Bernie Grzeszaczak, and Darrell Pappas.

Elkins Searches — Rod Elkins searches for an open player before the opposing teams defense gets him.

No Way — The Whirlies had their ups and downs this season, but there was no way Kyle Neve was going to let a Williams player get away with an interception.



Whirlies Take It To The State

Honorable Coach — Coach Henry Vansant should be honored for leading his Whirlies to their second straight Division Championship.

Team Work — Rod Elkins hands off the ball to Delaney Bush for another successful play.

Signaling Plays — Coaches Vansant, Dowd, and Colson signal the team as to which play to use.

JV's Suffer Through Dismal Year

The Junior Varsity Football team ended two years of frustration by defeating Dudley and High Point Andrews. The team narrowly missed winning a third game as they were defeated by Smith, 26-27.

The offense turned out to be one of the bright spots for the team. For the most part, the team was able to move the ball up and down the field, but turnovers prevented the team from scoring more points.

The hard work of Coaches Dowd and Ellis should pay off next year when the young Whirlies advance to varsity competition.

Golf Team Swings Into Action For Fifth In State

The golf team won the conference championship by a decisive margin, but for the second year in a row, the State Championship eluded the golfers.

The golfers took the conference with an undefeated record, and was runnerup in the sectionals.

Making up the 78 team were sophomores John Inman, and Mike Dermatis; junior Joey Brown, and seniors Tommy Arthur, Mark Tucker, Larry Spivey, and Kevin Dickey.

Passive Leadership — Coach Phil Weaver directs his team with calm assurance.

Once again the mighty Whirlies had an unforgettable season. Easily winning the Division Seven crown, they gained a berth in the State Playoffs seemed simple. The team duplicated the playoff round this year to be exactly as it had been last year. The Whirlies defeated three very strong teams to secure their position in the championship game, but then lost that game to remain second in the state. It was a tough loss for the Whirlies because not only did they lose the state championship, they lost it to cross-town rival Page. After already defeating Page twice in the season, once in regular play and once for the Little Four Championship, the Whirlies had a lot of pressures trying to defeat them again.

The highlights of the team's season were the defeat of Page for the Little Four Championship and an unforgettable 76-69 victory over the Pirates in a four overtime game. The two teams ended regulation play with a score of 61-61. At the end of the first overtime, the two teams had managed to pick up six points apiece leaving the score at 67-67 at the end of three minutes. The second and third overtimes were scoreless but in the fourth, the Whirlies gave it all they had and went on to defeat the Pirates.

The teams' skill and cooperation was the key to their success. The amazing Jeff "Bug" Anderson led the team in scoring while Rod Elkins and Kyle Neve led the defense. Paul Owen put forth strong effort in his free throws and rebounds. Sophomore, Cedric Cokely was the most outstanding player on the team and should have something to look forward to next year.

The team owes almost everything they have to one man. This man is Coach Phil Weaver. Without Coach Weaver's guidance and calm assurance, the team would never have gotten as far as the State Playoffs, and they would have never finished the season with an outstanding 27-2 record. Thanks Coach Weaver.

JV's Look Forward to Next Season

Although the J.V. Basketball team had a disappointing year there were several bright spots. The team stayed close until the final moments of each game and then let it slip away from them.

There were many offensive stars for the team but Mike Sorce, Steve Alston, and Mike Sturdivant seemed to be the most consistent. This trio combined to score a majority of the teams total points.

Defense is a part of basketball that is often times overlooked. Two players stood out in this department. These two were Ken Anderson, and Jeff Gilbert. Also helping the team in various ways were Kevin Madan and Kenny Smith.

The team had many internal problems throughout the year. Many of the original members of the team were not around at the end of the season. In all fairness to the team, and Coach Mikels these problems had a lot to do with their overall record.

Whirlie "Matmen" Aggravated by Loss of Talent

The 1978-1979 edition of the Grimsley Wrestling team had a 5-6 record. The Whirlies started off very strong winning 5 out of its first 6 matches. However, as the season came to an end the team faltered and had to settle for fifth place in the conference.

Allan Ralls, Frank Carpenter, and Willie Crouch, all of whom are seniors, will be competing in the regional tournament. The winners of the regional tournament will advance to state competition.

The Whirlies should have a much stronger team next year with most of the wrestlers returning. The returning wrestlers will be Darell Stewart, Greg Jennes, Scott Pleasants, Bill Haden, Will Cox, Alan Frye, and Wayne Moore.

Tennis Team Wins Division Crown

Winning the conference with an undefeated record the boys tennis team made themselves a part of that Whirlie tradition — being number one!

Leading the Whirlie netters was the doubles team consisting of Danny Vaughn and George Poulos. In singles, Richard Vaughn captured the conference championship.

Workouts started in the unpredicted April weather. As a result of the team's hard work, the team captured the first conference title in the newly formed Division 7.

With many of the top ranked players returning, the team is looking foreward to taking the Division Seven Crown again next year.

Sophomores Big Part Of Season

Soccer has become one of the fastest growing sports on the high school level. Soccer has captured the interest of a large portion of the student body either as players or as fans.

With sophomore standouts Bill Flynt, Joey Hill, and David Dockey coming back, the team should have a good chance at rising to the top of the conference.

Some of the teams brighter spots were John Blum, Brent Sessoms, and Bill Flynt. Sessoms and Flynt made the second team All-State while Blum made the first team as a junior. The rising juniors and sophomores are a strong insight to how the team should do next season.

Throw in — Sophomore, Billy Flynt proves that age isn't the only requirement for a good soccer player.

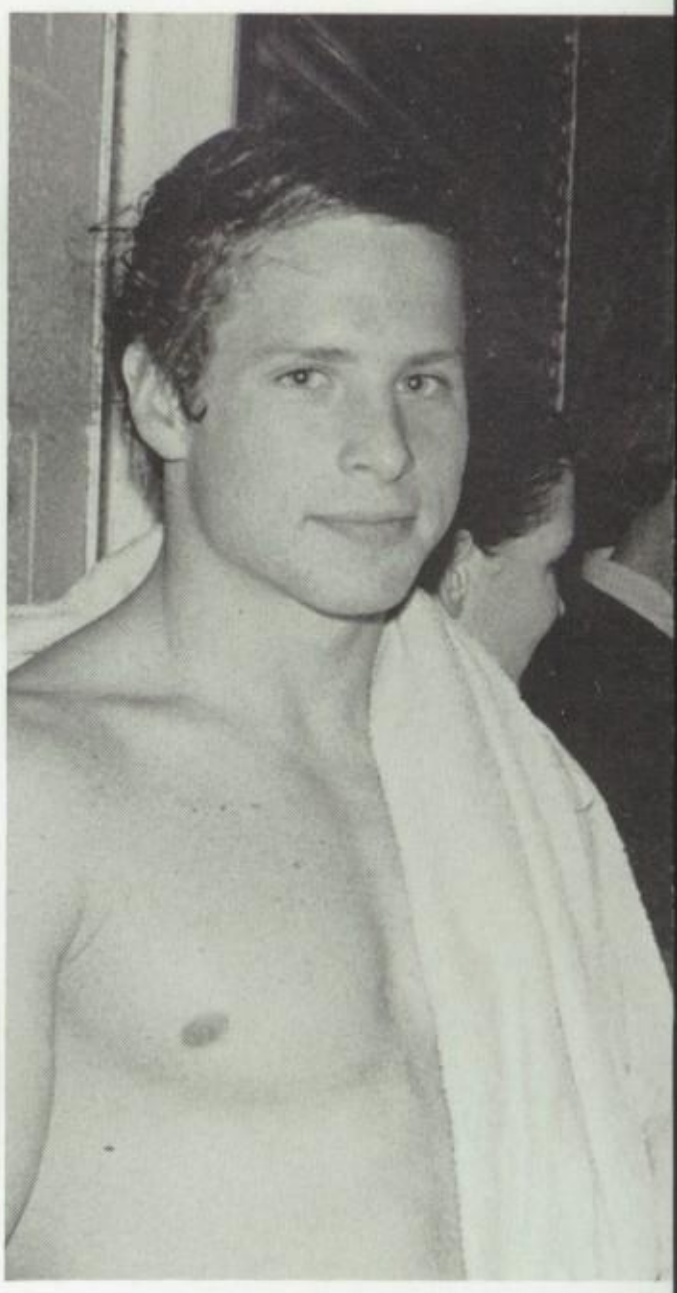
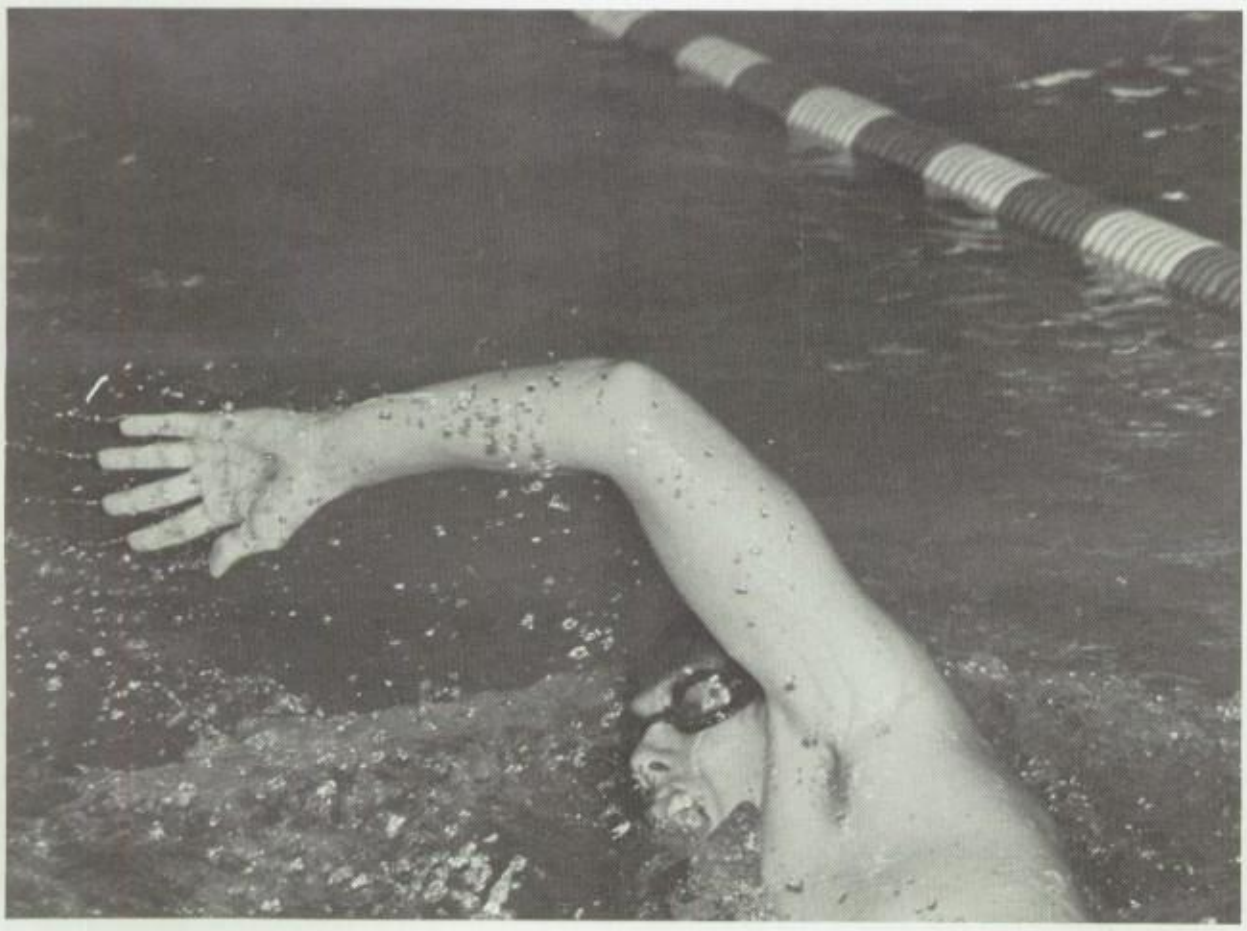
Swimmers Stroke Their Way To Top





They're off! Andy Hudnell reaches to catch a quick lead.

Smooth Stroking. Smooth strokes and coordination are all a part of Rusty Lambe's freestyle technique.

State Champs! That is a very familiar saying about Grimsley swimmers. For the seventeenth year in a row, the boys team as well as the girls team pulled off another state championship. Leading the way this year were seniors Chris Hipps, Rusty Lambe and Bruce Procton; juniors, Kenny Warren and Brian Simpson; and sophomores Rick Musgrove and Joe Pagani. The team would have never been able to pull off all of these victories without the coaching of Mr. Sawyer and Mr. Griffin.

Next year, with the strong returning talent from this year, the Whirlies look forward to their eighteenth straight state championship.

Whirlies Tie Dudley For Conference Championship

The Grimsley baseball team had one of its finest seasons in years. The Whirlies played "Heart Attack" baseball, a technique which aided the team in winning 16 consecutive games before being defeated.

The Whirlies advanced to the conference championship, and later moved on to the first round of the State Playoffs.

Strong pitching and good fielding were the trademarks of the Whirlies team. Glenn Ford, Rod Elkins, and Billy Livingston, a slice from all three grade levels, helped form the nucleus of this successful team.

JV's Demolish Rivals Page 10-1

The junior varsity baseball team was different from most teams at Grimsley. The team was not in a conference. Through the efforts of Coach David Dowd, the team was organized and the young men were given a chance to play.

The highlight of the season was a 10-1 drubbing of crosstown rivals, Page. The team finished its season with a record of nine wins and six losses. This proved to be a satisfying record, although the team felt that they were capable of doing better. The team's record was not the main factor of the season though, the main thing the team was concerned about was having fun.

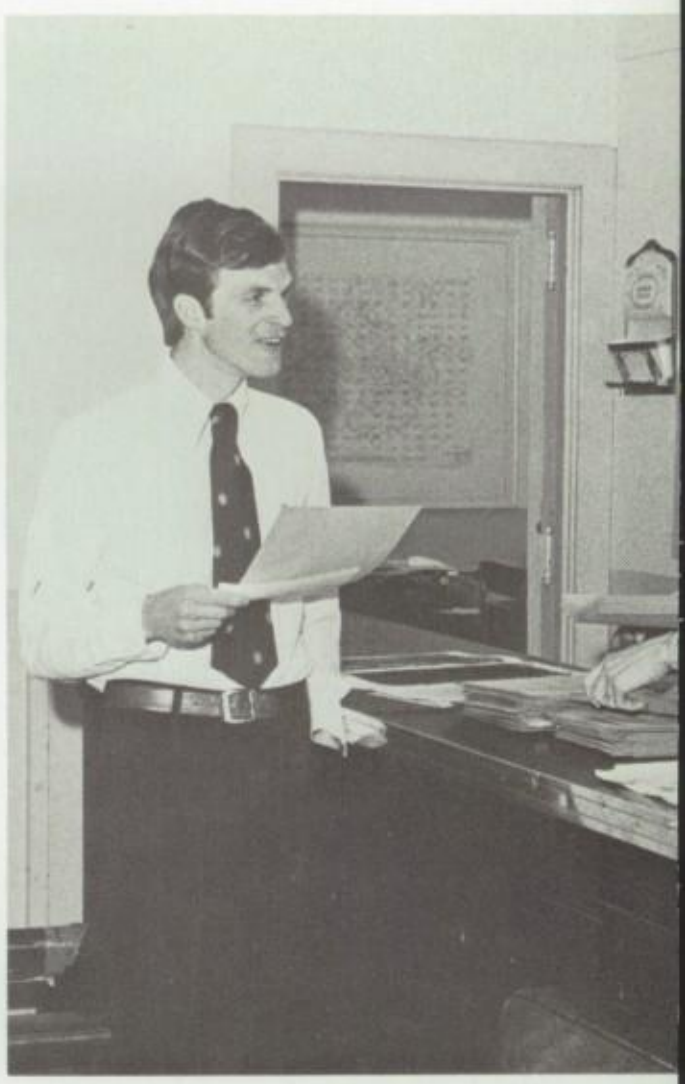
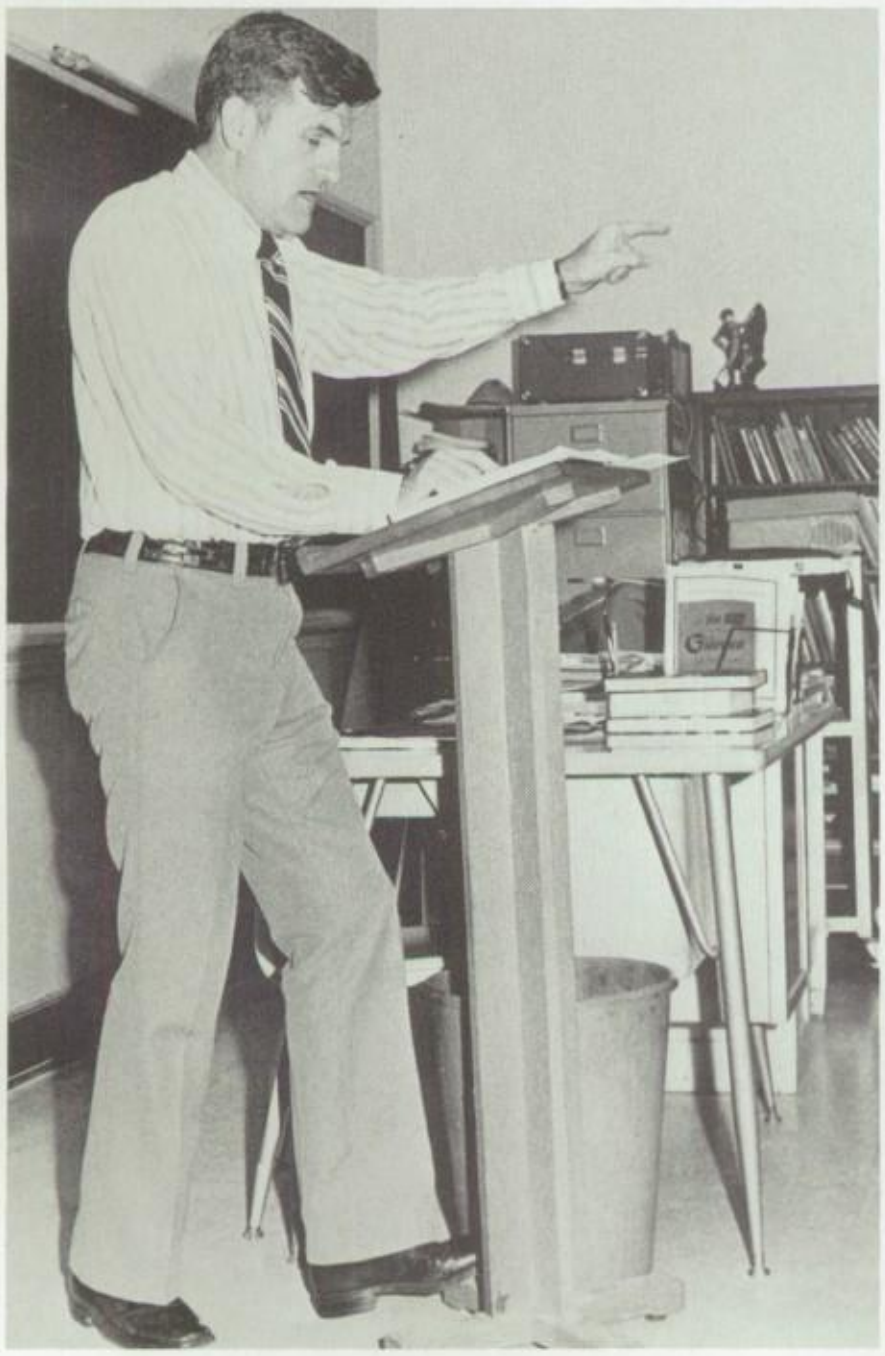
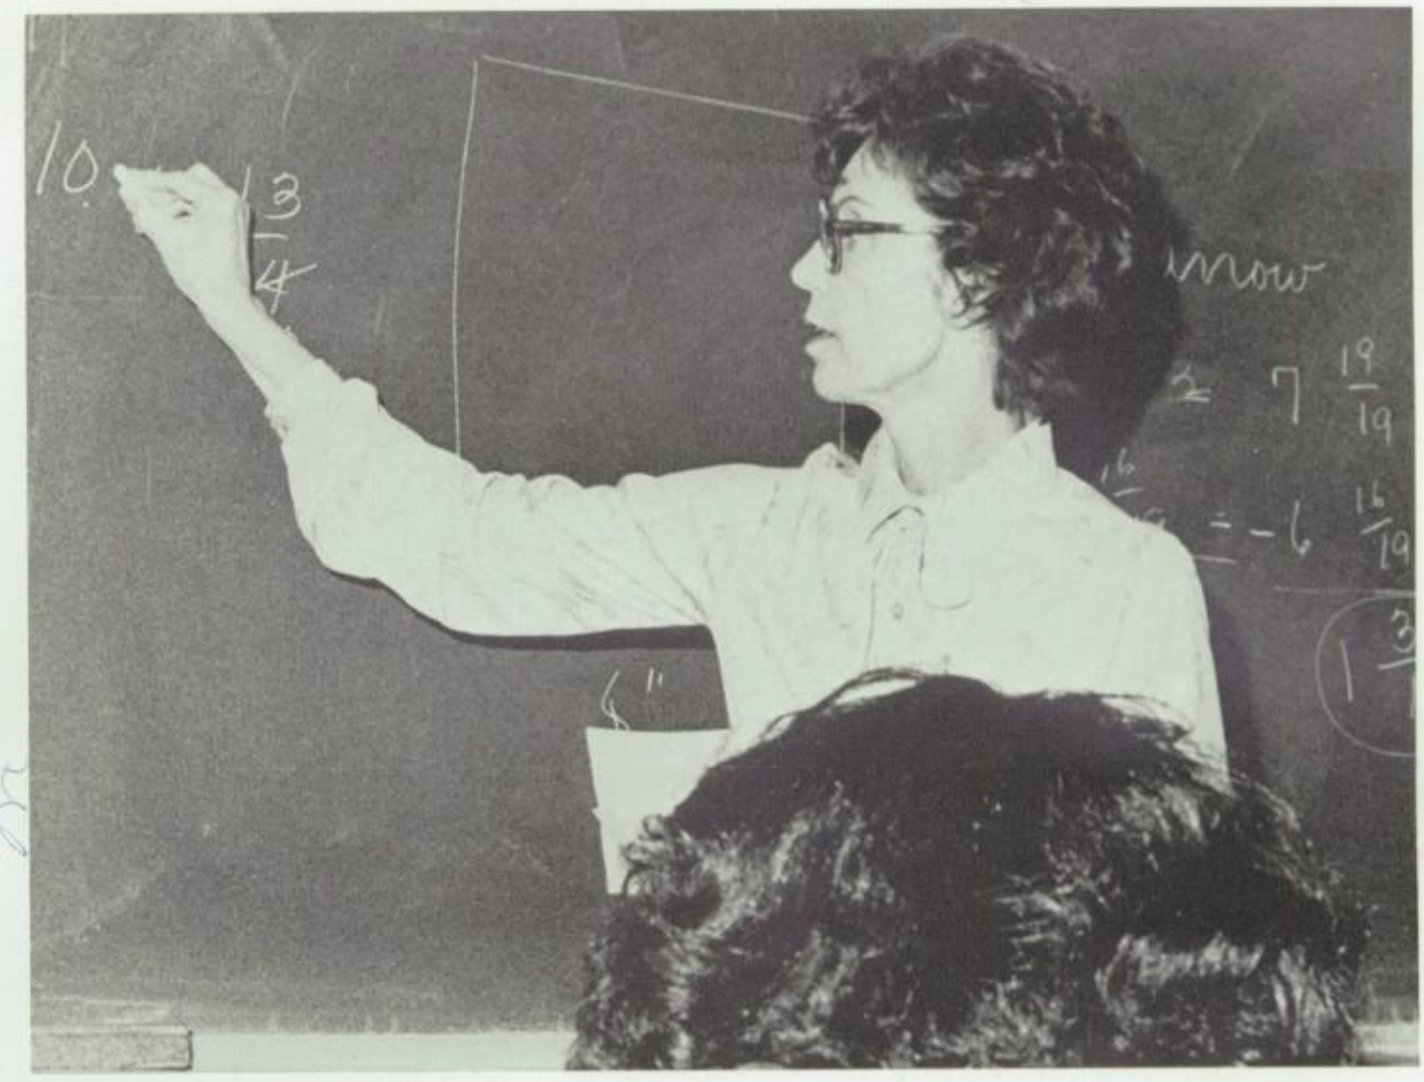
The 1978 boys cross-country team was supposed to be going through a rebuilding year. With the loss of key runners from the previous season the Whirlies were not expected to accomplish much, if anything, in division competition. But under head coach Richard Smith the team not only had a fine season, but also won the division championship.

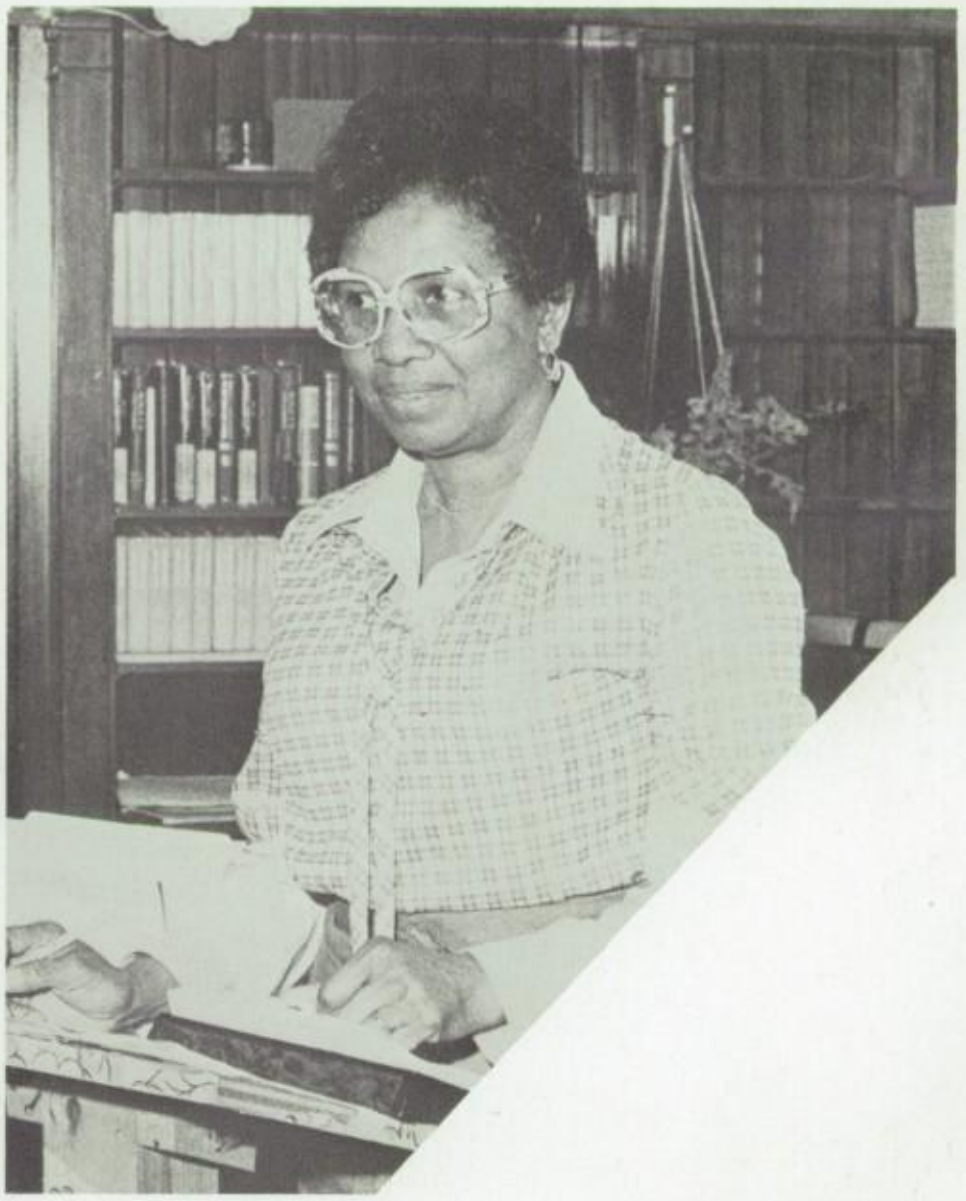
The team was led by the duo of Paul Baily and Mike Sink. Other valuable members of the team included: Ed Cottingham, Eric Price, and Don Gilbert. Most of the team will be returning and should provide the leadership needed for another successful season.







Faculty



School Officials Run School

Keeping a school in good working order requires constant attention and unlimited time. Mr. Glenn, principal, kept a close eye over the events and problems which arose during the school year. Mr. Ballance, the assistant principal of Administration made sure that the available money was appropriated to the right department. His most noticeable jobs were the acquiring of substitute teachers and supplying classes with the necessary text books. Mr. Gwynn, Vice Principal of Student Affairs, coordinated student activities and worked closely with the various student organizations.

The link between the school and the outside world are the secretaries, both in the Dean's Office and the Main Office. Mrs. Pethel, along with Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Swing do all the paper work necessary to keep a school as large as Grimsley the best.

Back to the basics for English classes

The English department is headed by Mrs. Hoffler and, though smaller than previous years, manages to help 500 students a year to graduate with the necessary nine English credits. The types of courses have changed with the wave of high school students searching for college preparatory courses. Among these are Advanced Placement English, Advanced Composition, and both English and American Literature. Grimsley had the first Critical Analysis class and now boasts two, under the direction of Richard Smith.

Students are finding that high school English courses are now immensly beneficial with college educations, secretarial jobs and other careers, and life in general. Teachers are successful in helping students with Grammar, Writing, and deciphering Shakespeare.

A group of faculty members who are rarely rated for their importance are the librarians. Nobody takes the time to realize that they come early every morning to open the library for frantic students who need last minute information for a term paper. What would sophomores do if they didn't have anyone to locate a book for them or an important newspaper article? Not only sophomores need the librarians' help but so does the school, including teachers. Students learn valuable facts about homemaking

As one prepares for his future life, homemaking becomes increasingly necessary. Both males and females need to learn these skills. Grimsley's Home Economics department is prepared to meet this challenge.

Through Clothing and Textile, Foods, and Home Furnishing, students become better equipped to face the outside world. These courses are designed with not only the textbook approach but actual experience for the students. Family living skills are also developed. Mock Weddings and baby showers give the individuals help in their numerous roles in society.

Creativity/ the main goal of the Art course

For the student who wishes to show his artistic ability, a number of courses are available. Art levels I, II and III give the artist an indepth study of drawing, painting, sculpture, and graphics interspersed with art appreciation and history.

Crafts I, II and III offering ceramics, rug hooking, and enameling enable those good with their hands a chance to show their creativity.

Logic, proofs, permutations, and combinations, the words that every math student fears. A variety of courses are offered in the Grimsley Mathematics department, headed by Mrs. Roe. Among these are basic math courses, three levels of algebra, geometry, trigonometry, Elementary Analysis, and for those with the tolerance for advanced courses, Calculus. From determining how many apples Mary can buy with fifty cents to the probability of Event A happening in direct relation to Event B, students find study halls and lunch periods ideal for finishing last night's homework. Friday, a day most students look forward to, was looked upon with scorn by math students. Friday was the day on which the knowledge obtained throughout the week was put to the test.

Students Make Discoverys

The word "Science" may bring back the unforgettable memories of dissecting frogs and other specimens. To other students, mixing chemicals, experimenting with lab procedures, and balancing scientific examples are pictures painted of high school chemistry classes. To those who were in horticulture, memories of plants, fertilizers and greenhouses come into view.

Excellence — the goal of this department

Both the Symphony band and concert band perform many concerts during the school year. Enjoyment of this course usually takes preference over the work involved. The stage band, a well-known group, is usually the favorite of most people.

One doesn't need to sing an operetta, but the knowledge of "Do Re Mi" would be helpful to be a member of the choral department. Composed of girl's choir, chorus, and mixed madrigals, the choral groups fill the needs of the vocal half of the music department.

Whether instrumental or choral, these groups are out to entertain. They have a special way of doing it, while having a good time themselves.

Students Prepare for Life

Shorthand, typing and accounting are offered in the Business Education program. Students in these classes learn the skills that later help them in the business world. Typing also benefits those students who do not plan for a secretarial science career. Being able to type one's own term papers can be an asset in both high school and college. Students in shorthand find shorthand symbols difficult to learn, but use this skill when seeking secretarial work.

Also offered in the department are Business Law and Business Math. Students are able to develop the skills and knowledge needed to participate in the world of contracts, torts, and court proceedings. The enforcement and punishment of the law is a well-stressed point in the Business Law portion of the department, as well as the explanation of individual rights as a citizen. Invoices, interest, and finance charges are among the many topics discussed in Business Math.

Language Expand Student's World

Besides learning the grammar and vocabulary of the languages, the foreign language students also study the geography, history, and culture of the countries where the language is spoken.

Films, comic strips and magazines, songs and an occasional party at which native foods were sampled helped to make the classes bearable.

Optional trips to South of the Border, Mexico and France gave the French and Spanish students a chance to put into practice the skills Mr. Whitaker, Mr. Whittemore, Mrs. Blanchard, Mrs. Devinant, and Mrs. Oakley taught them.

ROTC marches into another year

For many years, students have chosen three years of ROTC, a military course, over the one year required of gym. To keep this enthusiasm at its maximum, instructors Colonel Culkin and Sergeant Hale send representatives to area junior highs promoting and "recruiting" for ROTC and Whirling Boots participants. The program has won numerous awards for its outstanding drills.

Students gain valuable job experience

COE, DE, and ICT are some of the many courses offered to Grimsley students for the preparation for future years. Class members study jobs, and job related activities. Each student has a job for which he receives a unit of high school credit. Grades are determined partly from evaluations of the employee. The classes are taught by Mr. Musselwhite, Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Wise, Mrs. Coble, and Mrs. Crisp.

Numerous courses offered

Among the courses included in the Physical Education department were volleyball, tennis, soccer, archery, physical fitness, weight lifting, badminton, and basketball. Swimming was also a regular addition because of the building of the new swimming pool. Students were able to choose the activities they wished to participate in, rather than being placed in a standard gym class in which all activities were taught. The program worked well in that students were not forced to take part in an activity that was unsuitable for the capacity and capability.

Drivers Ed Now A Credit Course

For the first time Driver's Education produced more than just a compentent new driver. Students who passed this course with a 2.0 or better received one credit towards graduation—a new motive for a course which is already a favorite among students.

The individuals who took Driver's Education will always remember the once a week driving ritual and the horrifying movies they were so privileged to view. Driver's Education was a special class for those seeking a driver's license.

As an institution for learning, Grimsley has excelled for 50 years. Opened under the name of Greensboro Senior High School in 1929, with an enrollment of 690 students. Fifty years later enrollment had grown to 1500. This growth warrented the addition of numerous classes. The 27 English courses that were offered in 1929 increased to 70 choices in 1979. These supplementary classes made it possible for a student to choose his English classes rather than being required to take a set course. These additions proved the necessity for the building of new facilities for learning. There was one similarity during all the fifty years of Grimsley's existance; the goal of students was to learn, and this goal made Grimsley one of the best high schools in North Carolina.

Ridiculing by upperclassmen was customary to first year high school students. Whether it was that required Biology course or just not knowing the Alma-Mater, sophomores or juniors as they were known at the beginning were accustomed to being picked on.

The importance of a driver's license came with the progress of the fifty years, driver's education and a driving test were obsolete during the first few years of Grimsley. The increased knowledge of driving safely warranted the need for dirver's education as a full credit course the fifieth year.

Whether one was a freshman, sophomore, junior or senior in 1929 or 1979, Grimsley offered many opportunities.

Regardless of 50 classes or 500, Grimsley offered the opportunity to form many friendships in high school, thus forming a unified student body. This allowed Grimsley to offer the best chance for a high school education.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomore, the very thought of the word made some of us shudder, while others of us eagerly anticipated our first year of high school. Many complications were added to our lives. Two or three hours of homework became a reality instead of a myth.

Registration was our biggest problem. No longer were courses handed to us packaged as they once had been, we were responsible for scheduling our classes. We pleaded with juniors and seniors for their help, but the final decisions were ours.

This year was a year of wondering. Wondering whether there was that needed ride out to lunch or if we had saved enough money to afford the meal. Finally, the day came to take the test that determined whether or not we needed to depend on others for our transportation, though we found that, without a car, our license was not as valuable as we had expected.

As sophomores, we tried to outlive our title. Learning the Alma Mater was difficult when the junior or senior next to us, mumbled the words at the Pep Rally. Usually, we resorted to the printed version in the handbook, although much practicing was necessary to master the words. Eventually, we overcame the ridiculing by the upperclassmen, perhaps, they were remembering when they were once sophomores.

Unlike the beginning of the year, the end of Christmas vacation brought an abrupt end to jovial spirits; exam time was close. Midnight cramming was not unusual and many students found that exams were in no way easier than our junior high exams.

Second semester registration was much easier, we were experienced and did not mind the mass confusion of scheduling classes.

As spring approached, the clock's hands began to rotate increasingly slower. School no longer was a new and different experience, it was now an old routine. Summers seemed close, but one minor obstacle lay in our way — more exams.

We had survived the school year. Now we were ready to become juniors and leave the title of sophomore behind — far behind. Thank goodness, it was over.

Elevator Keys! Craig Fleishman learns important information about being a sophomore.

JUNIORS

The COMPROMISE: Who were they? We were the COMPROMISE— the members of the junior class. We were now on our way up.

Class rings were a major part of our year. After the initial turning of the rings 80 times, which was supposed to be good luck, we wore them with pride. At the end of the year the final turn of the ring so the G faced outwards meant we were now more than juniors.

Another important aspect in our lives was the PSAT's. We all looked for some way of studying, but found out, all too soon, that there was just no way of preparing oneself.

These tests led to bigger thoughts, such as finding out about colleges. Although applying was a year away, becoming familiar with the requirements was essential.

We were the first class that was required to take the competency test. This test was designed to measure basic skills. In addition to the 28 credits, passing the competency test was needed to receive a diploma. If a passing grade was not made on the test, a certificate of attendance was given, instead of a diploma.

As juniors we were established. We had friends in all class levels. We were the COMPROMISE.

Right on. Juniors show their spirit in a cheer.

SENIORS
The Class of 1979

SENIOR!! What a word, and one of the best words that can be used to describe a high school student. We found it hard to believe that this word had actually become our title, but as we became more comfortable in our last year of high school we found the title "SENIOR" much easier to wear. We realized that where we were, there was no turning back, and we could only speculate about what lie ahead and knew that we could do nothing about what lay behind.

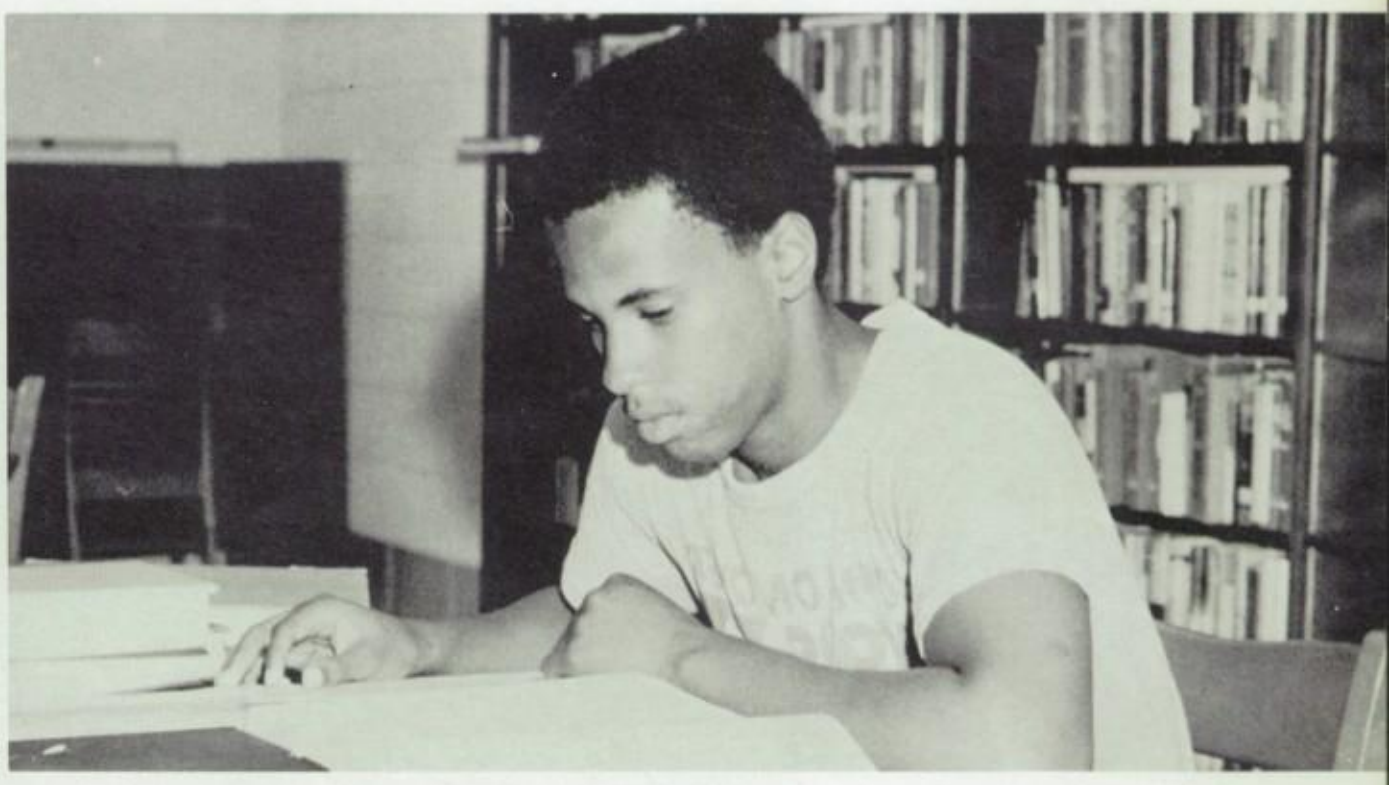
We soon learned that our SENIOR year held many promises and many worries. These worries stemmed mainly from our sleepless nights spent worrying about acceptance into college. But, when the mail box held that sacred letter of acceptance we knew that we had only one more year of being carefree and that this year was it. We were now looked upon as adults.

Somehow we managed to survive a new attendance policy and along the way we learned that going to class everyday wasn't as bad as we had once thought it would be. Anyway, that is what we were here for—wasn't it?

As the year progressed our minds began slipping farther and farther away from school. By January, we only thought of the beach, our last Prom, and square blue hats with tassels. We soon learned that these were symptoms of a rather common disease—SENIORITIS. A disease which we found to be excruciatingly fun!

We found ourselves at a time where we could do many things we had once been barred from. We could finally go to discos, we could vote, we could buy beer, and we could go to "R" rated movies. To many of us none of these were new "tricks", but we did learn that practice does make perfect.

Yes, WE had become the leaders; WE were the ones that the others followed. Yes, WE were the "SENIORS," the ones closer to the beginning of life. Yes, even though Grimsley had seen many changes since the opening in 1929 one fact still remains the same—Grimsley was, is, and will always be #1. Yes, WE are the SENIORS and WE know WE are mean.



Serious Senior—Willie Baynes finds a quiet moment in the library to search for information for one of those never ending pages.

Toga! Toga! Toga!—Seniors ham it up and show their spirit under the "Tree of Knowledge" on Toga day.

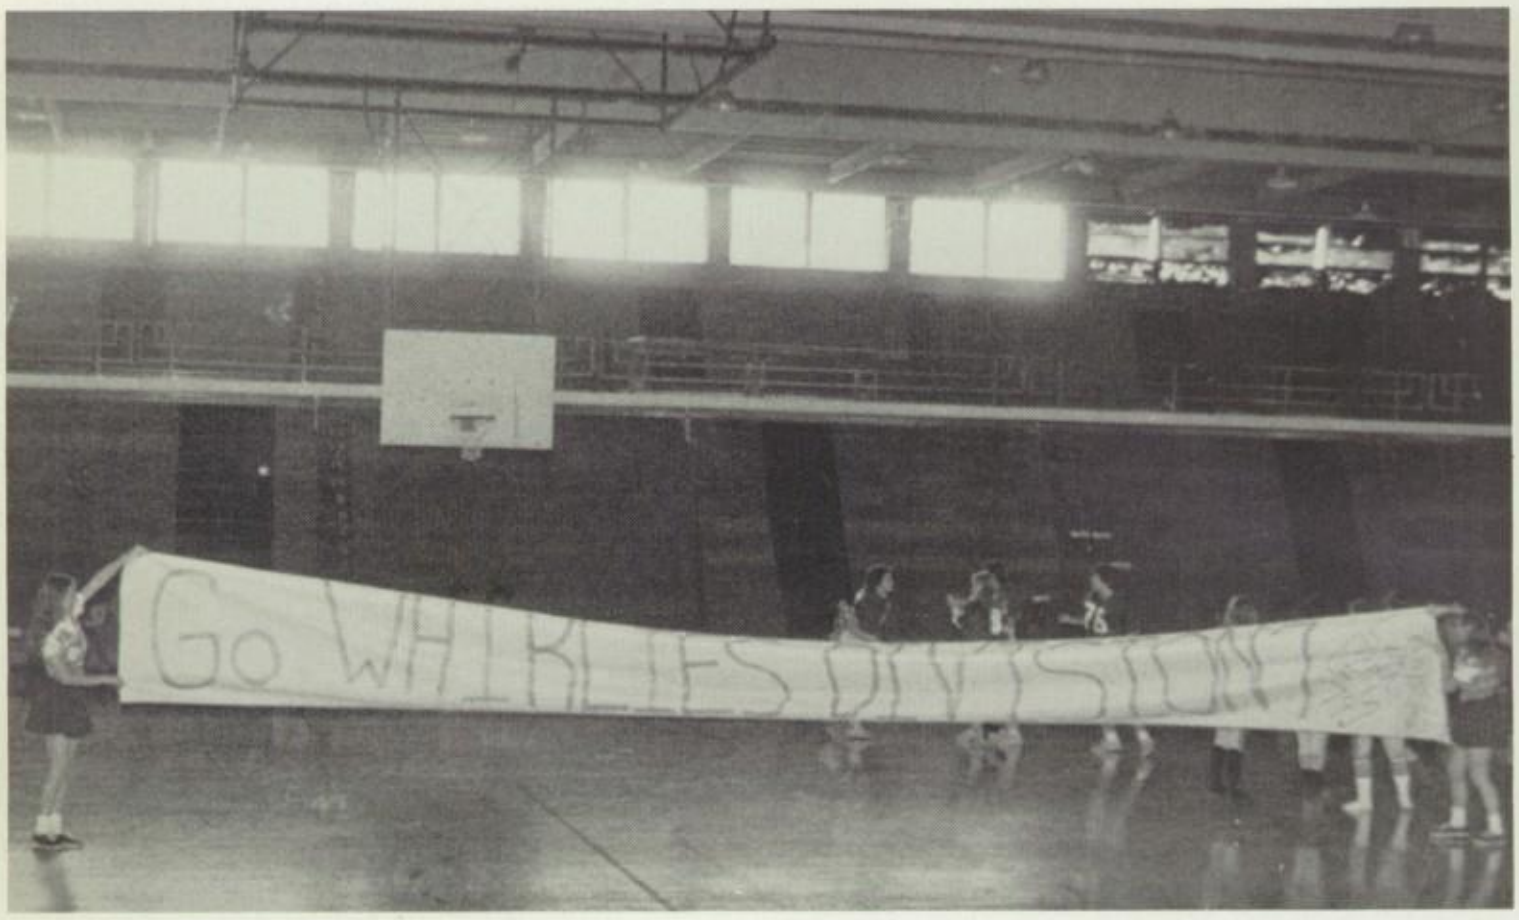
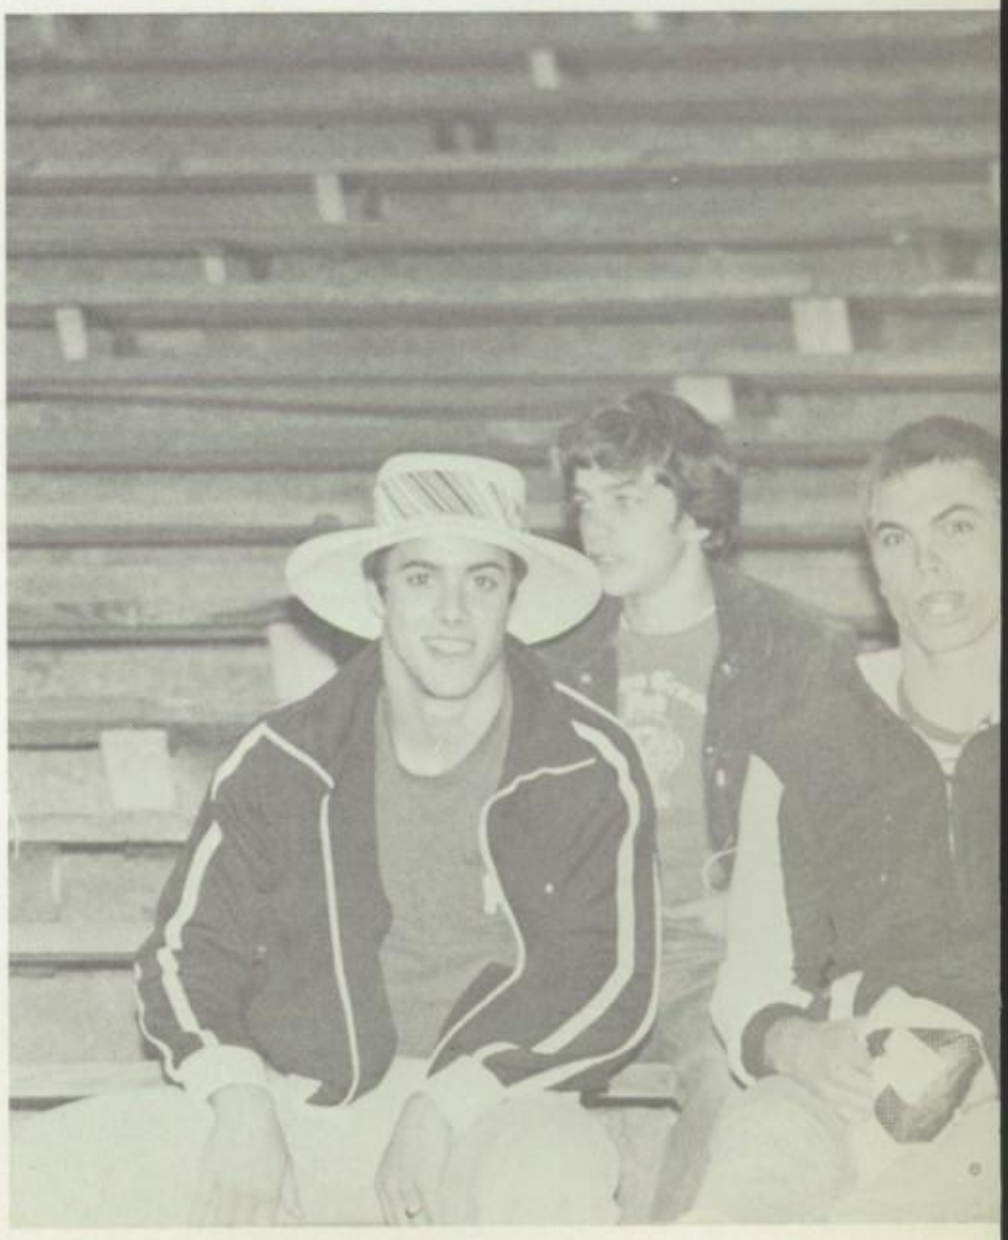
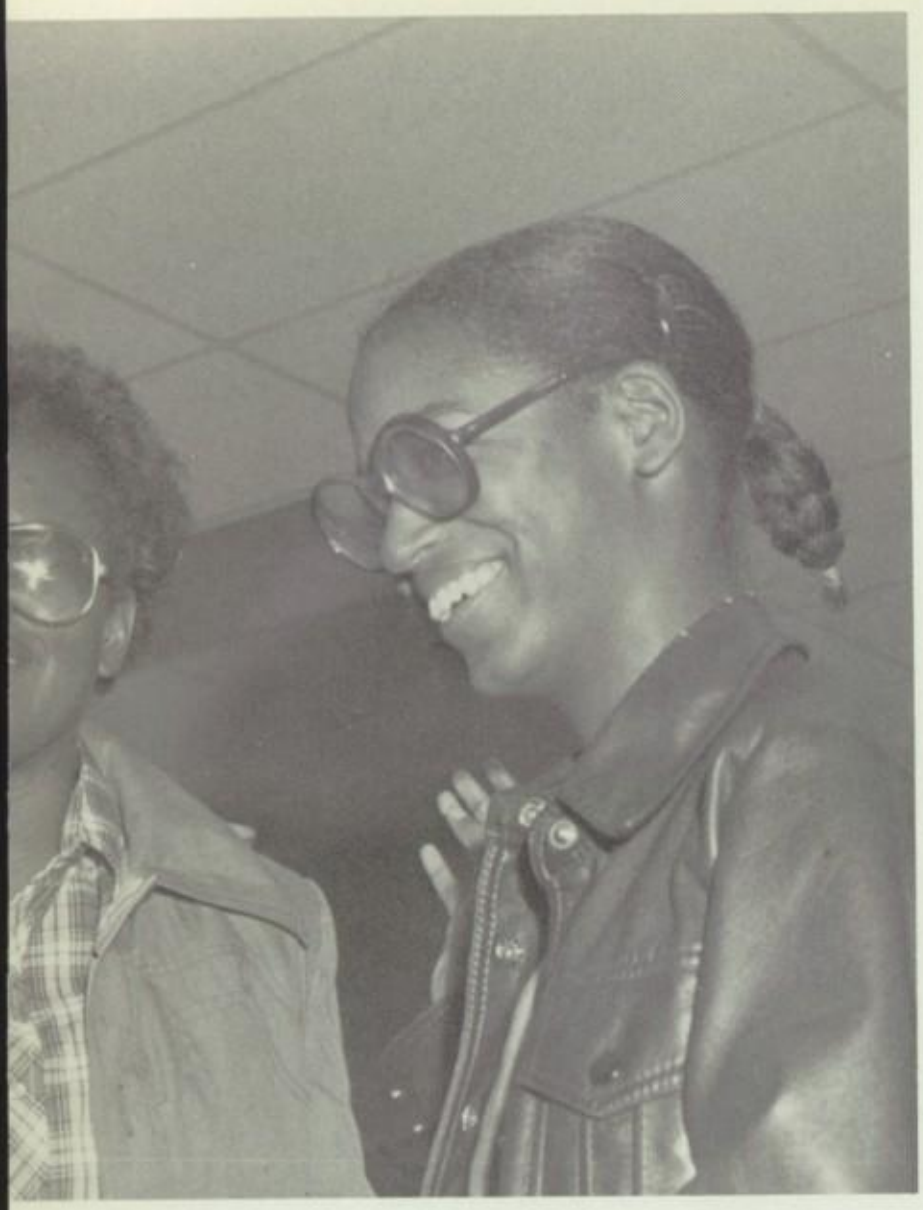
We Reached
The End!







The Close of Another Year

The closing of a year, like closing of a book marks the end — the end of a time that remains only in the memories of those who care to remember. These memories are not restricted to the good times but also to the bad. We reflect upon these times a d gain from the knowledge and experience with which we were supplied. Our feelings and thoughts are shared with ourselves in the years that follow, and reactions to past situations aid our emotions for the future. The closing of a high school year is perhaps the greatest event of all, for with it we leave behind a title, that of Sophomore, Junior, or Senior. We can relive these years only in our minds. Memories will never take the place of reality, but will serve only to support that which happened in the past. The purpose of a yearbook is to preserve these memories and is to be opened when revival of a memory is needed.

OL BUS

Now, as the celebration of Greensboro-Grimsley's first fifty years comes to a close; the WHIRLIGIG Staff would like to extend its deepest appreciation to the people whose time and effort helped make the thirtieth volume of the WHIRLIGIG not just a dream, but a reality.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ledbetter of Delmar Printing Comany
Mr. Garland Gentry of School Pictures, Inc.
Mr. Robert Lody Glenn, Principal
Mr. James B. Ballance, Assistant Principal
Mr. Spencer Gwynn, Assistant Principal
Mrs. Martha Hundley
Mrs. Phoebe Swing
Mrs. Cecilia Jones
Mrs. Julia Roe
Mrs. Dorothy J. Harris
Mr. Peter Byrd
Mrs. Joe Vickory
Mr. Bennett

Most of all the WHIRLIGIG staff wish to give special thanks to Mrs. Wanda Metzger-Shockley, with the help of Mrs. Donna Chapman, who patiently stuck by our side and guided us to an extremely successful end.

Terry,

You are the nicest guy that I know. You are so funny and you have the best personality. I don't know what your plans are for next year but I wish you the very best luck because I think you deserve every bit of it. Keep in touch if you can, because I want to know how things are going for you.

Take care,
your friend,
Kay Janke

Terry,

You are one of my main main in school for the last three years. Who I really really enjoying being with. We had ours up and down but we made it. I will never forget you as long as I live. But there some-things I just don't like about you. One instance you too DAM stupid, an Loud, and Beg Too DAM much!! Ha-Ha. And one more thing you HANG Around White People, Too DAM Much!!! But you fine with me.

Kay

Terry,
It's been a real pleasure knowing you this year. I'm really glad that we became friends. I'm sorry that I haven't been able to see you more often this year, but I'm sure we'll get together this summer. Maybe we can go to a movie or something. Have a great summer and I'll see you next year.

Love,
Kay

you're a pervert classic sweet boy
Terry I'm a little confused about your attitude
I would like one more chance to prove myself to you. I'm not perfect but I'm trying to be a better person. I'm sorry that I've been such a jerk. I hope you have a great life, career and family

To my favorite nigger!

Terry, its has been fantastic getting to know you this year and last. I know you will be outstanding in what ever you do in life so take it easy —

love ya alot
Kelley Sealey "79"

P.S. please spare the world and don't sing on busses

Terry,
You are one of the craziest niggers I know. Well let me restate that. You are The Craziest Nigger I know. I think you need to cool out some and stay sweet through. But stay sweet and good. Good luck and success in the future.

Love,
Joy

Terry,
its great for a few hours. I hope you enjoy the next few years. I'll miss these crazy days. You're really the only one that makes my days worth while. Have a safe trip home.

Love,
Penny "79"

Terry,

You be the fine one! you are the biggest nut I've ever met (Even for a nigger) I had so much fun in English with Donna and you making fun of Papela. I was really sad I couldn't go to Bill's to spank with you. next year you better come over to Grimsley and visit me (scared of you) so we can play thumps. Honkies are great

Love & Kisses xxx

Missy

P.S - My Daddy doesn't let Black Boys call me

Terry
You are one crazy person, that's why I love you. I hope you stay AS crazy, AS you are. Dodn't get too fucked up, this summer See YA Soon
Robin

P.S. Call me sometimes 275-3041
Come back to see us class of "81" people ok.

Terry,
well, it's been a crazy year! Especially after I met you! Your a "crazy" guy. Always stay that way. You always brighten my day. Have fun at college & next year. But you better come back & see me next year.
Love ya
Elizabeth
(Fujio)

Jerry,
You are so nice,
Love ya,
Annabelle

Terry,
you are one of a kind
I think you are the only one of

Jerry
You are a very crazy person that I enjoyed having a class with and laughing with sometimes. Stay as crazy as you are and enjoy your summer vacation. Hope to see you in the future.
A Friend
Dora

Terry,
At last you get to dump this school and move on to worse things. If you're gonna stay in your old neighborhood, you oughta throw a party. You'd better fix up some watermelon and chitlens. Mmmm. If you happen to go wandering Greensboro one day, don't get lost. Check you later.
Stay high and keep low,
Bonnie

Terry,
You conceited dog. As crazy, stupid, and likeable as you may be, you still are conceited (just kidding) Though you are crazy and likeable, very friendly and silly you're not conceited and those are the things I like most about you. Whatever you do and wherever you go (mr. aggie) I just want you to know that you made an impression on my years at Brinsley. Without you and a couple of others I might not have made it. Take Care,

Myla

Terry,
I'm so glad I got to know you this year cause "you be the fine one"!! I used to be "scared a ya" but I got tired of that" so there!! Boy just think if it wasn't for Maria we probably wouldn't know each other. You're a great guy & I've got a lot going for you so don't ever change. Come see me this summer

Love Always
Angela

P.S. Good luck in the future - have a great, groovin time this summer!

Terry,
It has been a great year. I have really enjoyed knowing you! You are a great person! I hope that I see you next year! Have a great summer!

Love always,
Michelle Sue

Terry (kunta) alias ITOBY
Honey - you're the slickest dude this side of the Gambian River!
You've been a good —, massa! Bro, I'm gonna miss all our good times in Dick's H.R.! We used him pretty bad at times, but it was worth it just for the laughs. You better keep in touch next year or I'm gonna put you to work pickin' cotton in the fields! (Black whips.)
Love always-
(your white sister)
Sahara (alias "Bonita")

Terry,
Have very much enjoyed having you in class this year. Thanks for your goals & light because you have the ability to reach them. Best of everything in life. Don't forget us!..
Fancy Wise

Yo Terry.
I'm gonna miss you you fine thing! We've had some great times. The freak line at Current Events, Bill's & young Life. I think you're about the nicest huggie around. This summer you better take the city bus some so you won't be so fleety. Have a SUPER summer but through I will see you when we be jammin' at the disco. Have a great year at school.

Paula

TERRY, WE'VE COME A LONG WAY BABY—

Terry—
Really enjoyed having you in class—you always had service interesting comments—never relaxed to the hope or not. Keep up the good work at Sevenoaks, maybe you'll become an icecream millionaire king!
Rebecca Bowser

Love ya

VERNELL INGRAM

Terry \

"I guess you've wondered
Where I've been
I've gone to find the love within
I came back to let you
Know
Got a thing for you
And I can't let go.
My friends wonder what is wrong with me
Well, I'm in a daze
From your love, you see
I came back to let you
know got a thing for you
and I can't let go.

What you won't do
Do for love
You've tried everything
But you won't give up
In my world - only you
Made me do for love
What I would not do"

When you think of this song, think
of me

Good luck,
much love,
M. Y. Carla O. Wilson

Terry,
It was fun being in Drama with you. I don't think I would have gotten through it if you hadn't been in the class. I wish we had more classes together. At least you had one semester too — Well see advanced Reading. So maybe sometime after grad. Have a GREAT SUMMER!
Ciao-Mia

Terry,
You think you the finest! You alright cool black dude. You got a great personality that really brightens people's day. Keep it up cool.
Your bruthur,
Kemp (Funky K.C.)

Terry,
I hope you get your mind together and get you a girl friend. Cause you are a good looking young man. You are a lot of fun to be around. I wish you a lot of Luck in the future and my you stop getting on the bone so much. My your years goas good as they have this year & went by so fast you know I just be glad when I get the hell out of this mother. Your know. Well Be sweet and stop getting on the negro's case so much.

Terry,
I'm glad that we got to be good friends this year. I can't to see about you at the beginning of the year but I didn't know your intentions. I think you are the best looking nigger I have ever known. If you were white you'd be even better just kidding!! You stay cool with all that black soul. you call me this summer. and behave.
Lots of Love
Cheryl.

TO A VERY SWEET PERSON AND HOPE THAT YOU WILL HAVE A NICE SUMMER.
LOOK LUCK 78" 79"
LOVE
GWEN

Terry,
You Better be good in the future "Cookie"

Terry,
You have a terrific personality. You've got a lot of fun in life. Don't let it change you. Keep smiling. Enjoy the great times in your senior year. I'll miss you all a lot. Good luck in ROTC. Your brother
Jim

Terry,

You are the biggest nut I know. I don't know what this school would be without some one as crazy as you are. I've enjoyed being friends for the past 3 yrs. Take care during the summer.

Love,
Anita

P.S. Remember 10th grade Study hall with Mrs. Gillespie.

Terry,
Don't want to be like everyone else and dumb "scared a you" "You're the funnest one" and "I'm about tired of that" (oops, swore them anyway, sorry) Your a great guy, even if you're black (just kiddin) after all how many guys do you know would take a bunch of girls out to pizza? only one, yer! I had a great time, we were jamming in the aisles! Don't forget how we met! Doing the "funky chick" at the Cosmos. You better dance w/ me there summer, or else. I'm really glad we got to be friends and I enjoyed your helpful hints about this summer (4th pd). & yeah cheering (watching us ? you almost had to walk, you were making much noise. What else can I say? Carowinds was great! So except stay as you are, sweet and you Betta call me Fake Care and keep in touch Good luck in all love ya, you do. Keep "funky chic" Whalen Patti

Smiling (happy nigger)

Terry
You are the nicest person
I know
. Stay safe
in the Futbloc!

Terry,
Your smile and pleasant personality have been a boost to my 3rd period class. I'm glad we became friends. Much happiness and success for next fall. Have a super summer.

Mrs Bowers

Terry,
May life always bring you the best. I have really had fun with you this year. You're a crazy person but cool. And please stay that way. But please let me tell you one thing. If you smile more you will become the sweetest person in the world.
Stay Cool
And remember me always
Erin
Love ya sherpa

Terry,
Hope you have lots of luck in the upcoming year. You have really a wonderful person to get to know.

Jerry,
I can't say I think you
are the coolest!
You are so nice.
You are a graduate
from the Beginning Band
so in the Concert Band
Junior I'll be the same.
Together we'll be even
a better team!
So partner,
and all the next year and
years to come
Love
Jean

Jerry,
Don't forget
me. I'll miss you
a lot. It won't be long
until I graduate,
then I'll be back to see
you all.
Terry

Terry,
I'll be scared
of you. Have
